ROBINSON FIRES BACK AT GLASS ON COURT PLAN

Claims Wage Ruling Upholds Scheme.

The Opposing Views

Recent decisions of U. S. Supreme court used by friends and foes of President Roosevelt's packing scheme as sustaining their arguments; one side says court admits truth of criticism; other says judges prove they are abreast of times, only insisting on properly prepared laws. Page 7.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—In a radio address heralded as a reply to the philippic delivered last night by Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.] on President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the Supreme court, Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas tonight said the "Supreme court itself proved that the President is right by completely reversing its stand on the subject of minimum wage legislation."

Robinson said it was a matter of profound regret that the veteran Virginia Democrat should have become so "alarmed and emotional" over what he termed "the mildest plan for dealing with the present situation that has been suggested."

Reads Previous Remarks.

"Listening to Mr. Glass' radio address last evening, one could but feel that his argument was submerged and destroyed in the unreasonableness of his expressions,' Senator Robinson declared. He then proceeded to read from the Congressional Record of the senate debate in 1930, when Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes' nomination was pending, to show that not only Senator Glass but Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, veteran Republican liberal, denounced Mr. Hughes.

Robinson quoted Senator Glass as saying at that time, upon introducing a newspaper editorial into the record: "It sets forth the views in which many of us concur, that the Supreme court in recent years has gone far afield from its original function and has constituted itself a court in economics and in the determination of social questions rather than in the interpretation of statutes passed with the reference to the constitution itself."

Quotes Borah Statement.

Robinson declared that "no criticism made by any public authority since the adoption of the constitution was more emphatic than the statement by the senator from Idaho [Mr. Borah] when he said: 'I ask this question: When, during the last sixteen years, has corporate wealth had a contest with the public, when these vast interests claimed advantages which the public rejected, that Mr. Hughes has not appeared for organized wealth and against the public?'"

To Senator Glass' denial that Thomas Jefferson ever considered such a thing as packing the Supreme court, Senator Robinson replied:

"Most of us are familiar with the repeal of the midnight judges act, which occurred under Jefferson's administration and at his insistence. The repeal went into effect April 23, 1802, and expressly abolished the June term of the court, directing that the court should meet only once a year thereafter.

Cites Effect of Provision.

"The effect of that provision was to prevent the court from functioning entirely for fourteen months, thereby depriving it of the chance to pass on the validity of acts of congress.

"What would Senator Glass say now if President Roosevelt should propose to do what Mr. Jefferson did—abolish the court for over a year?"

In defending the President against the charge of "packing" the court, Robinson declared that "Presidents have never named, and senators have always been slow to confirm, judges whose viewpoints respecting constitutional questions are notably at variance with their own."

"The late Mr. William Howard Taft, former President and later chief justice, threw into the balances his commanding influence with the express and deliberate purpose of thwarting the appointments of progressives and of securing the selection of justices notably conservative and reactionary," Senator Robinson declared.

"In the interim between his term

Fireman's Wife Wins 'Carol G.' Suit

PRECIOUS DAVE LETTER SWINGS TIDE OF JUSTICE

Lit-tle Woman Gets Cash She Asked.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Mrs. Caroline de Windt Gardner's letter to "Precious Dave" Wood, the village fireman of Winnetka, produced the climax of justice yesterday when Judge Joseph Burke ordered Wood to pay his wife $100 a month in separate maintenance.

Thus the wife, Mrs. Gertrude Wood, who testified that she had labored as a laundress for Winnetka families while her husband, locally known as Capt. David J. Wood, dwelt in the graces of Mrs. Gardner, won a complete victory. "Dear Dave" had sued his wife for divorce. He alleged cruelty. Mrs. Wood weighs about 100 pounds. The divorce action was dismissed.

Brilliant but Absent Star.

Mrs. Gardner, who was known only as "Carol G." until she and her letter to "Precious Dave" burst upon the court records, became the brilliant but absent star of the court proceedings when her fervid letter got out.

She was instantly recognized as a prominent person in society affairs, as the descendant of the Adamses of Massachusetts and at present a resident of the suburban community of Barrington.

The decision, made by Judge Burke in the Circuit court, was based principally upon the letter written to Capt. Wood.

Acts on Captain's Admissions.

The captain's subsequent admissions to his wife, as brought out in testimony, clearly established infidelity. Judge Burke ruled.

The damaging letter was found by Mrs. Wood when she went through her estranged husband's pockets last November following a brief interlude of intimacy with him, according to her testimony.

Not only will Wood's marital status remain the same that it was before his domestic troubles assumed first importance in Winnetka social circles, but he will have to pay his wife more money. His temporary alimony amounted to $80 a month.

Wife Gets the Children.

The custody of the two Wood children, Richard, 13 years old, and Marjorie, 10, was awarded to Mrs. Wood. Richard testified in his mother's behalf. In addition to alimony, the court allowed Mrs. Wood $200 additional for solicitors' fees.

The fire captain, who wore a plain blue cotton shirt and dark blue suit, showed no emotion as the decision was read. Mrs. Wood, who was alluded to by her counsel as "this lit-tle woman," appeared calm despite the hysterics reported earlier. She looked up dully as the court praised her. Immediately after court adjourned, however, she wept and collapsed.

Upholds Mrs. Wood's Conduct.

"Mrs. Wood has conducted herself in the best traditions of motherhood and wifehood," Judge Burke declared. "Her attitude in refusing to consent to a divorce in order to keep her family together and to prevent another woman from stealing her husband from her is understandable."

The court found that Mrs. Wood did not commit any of the acts of cruelty described by Wood. He ignored the little woman's surprise voluntary testimony that she had scratched her husband's face once in self-defense.

Mrs. Wood at all times offered to resume marital relations, and Wood refused, said Judge Burke.

Blame Clandestine Affair.

"It is fully established that the clandestine relation with Mrs. Gardner was largely if not entirely responsible for the conditions which have arisen [in the Wood household]," he continued. "The conclusion is inescapable that the friendship between Capt. Wood and Mrs. Gardner was more than a platonic friendship."

In his rebuttal argument Attorney Joseph Heinzen, counsel for Wood, maintained that the law in Illinois frowns on separate maintenance and

Janitors' Souls on Canvas for World to See

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

In one of the dingy basement showrooms of the Art institute, twenty-five artists in overalls and sweatshirts put down their dusters and brooms yesterday and leaned back to survey their work. It was the student janitors' private preview of their third annual display of paintings and sculpture which will open tomorrow under the sign of a crossed mop and brush. It will continue for two weeks.

The janitorial staf, twenty-four boys and one girl, who are earning part of their way through the institute's art school by cleaning rooms and sweeping corridors, disclaim that they are surrealists, their work is decidedly modern. Imaginary, they call it.

"It's this way," explained Ed Voska, a third year student. "We're interpreting what we think.

The Brush Interprets.

"An artist paints what is in his mind, and it isn't a clear picture, like a photograph. O, well, if we could say it, we wouldn't be painting it."

The Derby, a lithograph, showed dozens of nude babies against a tar paper shack background, all with extremely bored expressions.

The Art institute has no extra-curricular activities, so the cleaning boys have a fraternity. Ernest Koeppel, boss janitor, is the leader of their open discussions.

Smart! They Disagree.

"They're a smart bunch of fellows," he grinned. "No one agrees on anything. Some of us believe in old-fashioned painting, and some of us are up to date. But all of us believe that the laymen are beginning to appreciate . . ."

"Yeah, look at grandma there," interrupted one of his comrades, indicating a stern portrait of an elderly lady bounded by two livid still lifes.

"If we all thought alike here, that gal would be out of place!"

The young artists report at the institute at 7 a. m. to begin their cleaning. The classes begin at 9 and are over at 4. Then most of the janitors leave to take up other jobs.

JAP DIPLOMAT SLUGS A FELLOW DIPLOMAT WITH WOODEN WEAPON

TOKIO, March 30.—(AP)—Reports of an assault by one of Japan's best known diplomats on a former ambassador at a dinner attended by several high officials tonight caused a sensation.

Toshio Shiratori, minister to Sweden and now in Tokio on vacation, was said to have struck Torkichi Obata, former ambassador to Germany, on the head, inflicting a severe injury. The dinner was given by Tokichi Tanaka, former ambassador to Moscow and now president of the newspaper Chugai Shogyo.

The dinner was a Japanese style affair, guests seated on the floor, each with a heavy wooden elbow rest beside him. Shiratori seized one of these and knocked Obata senseless. Both men were candidates recently for the post of foreign minister in the Hayashi cabinet.

Bill Freeman Wants to Know Who Is Lying

A test by lie detector was demanded last night to settle an issue in Evanston's turbulent mayoralty campaign. The demand was made by Chief of Police William O. Freeman. He called on Dr. Earl H. De Long, professor of political science at Northwestern university, to go through the test with him to determine who was lying.

Dr. De Long is one of the campaign managers of Henry Penfield, city treasurer, who is making his quadrennial effort to oust Mayor Charles H. Bartlett and be elected mayor himself. The election is next Tuesday.

The issue that Chief Freeman wants settled is this: Did or did not Prof. De Long say Freeman was through if Penfield wins?

Kreml Gets an Idea.

Two weeks ago Prof. De Long visited Lieut. Frank Kreml of the Evanston police department. Lieut. Kreml is on leave from the department to direct the university's trafic institute.

Somehow, Lieut. Kreml got the idea that Prof. De Long told him that if Penfield won the election, the first thing he would do would be to fire Chief Freeman. It seemed to Lieut. Kreml that the new chief was to be a man named Kreml.

He carried the news to Chief Freeman, a friend and favorite of Mayor Bartlett. The chief broadcast the information that a vote for Penfield would be a slap for Freeman.

"I'm through, boys, if Penfield wins," he sadly told the Evanston reporters.

The Hullabaloo Grows.

Now the Penfield forces didn't mean to have the police department an issue in the campaign at all. They had fought Bartlett on the police issue in 1933, and lost. But the Bartlett supporters insisted on adding to the hullabaloo.

Chief Freeman had an idea. He would appeal to James Alton James, dean emeritus of the Northwestern university graduate school.

The dean, now in his 70's, respected for his years of teaching and church work, exerts considerable influence among the Evanston citizens. Each side wanted his support.

The chief asked Dean James to come to his office and explained what he had heard. Dean James, upon returning home, called Prof. De Long. The dean reported to Chief Free-

Estate of Edith McCormick to Pay 7% on Debt

The estate of the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick is ready now to make a first payment of 7 per cent on the claims of its creditors. This was disclosed yesterday when the Chicago Title and Trust company, as executor of the estate, filed a petition in the Probate court asking permission of Judge John F. O'Connell to distribute the money.

Edwin C. Krenn.

The claims which have been allowed by court order and those which may possibly be allowed after further hearings total about $5,100,000. One item is a $1,261,128 claim originally filed by Edwin C. Krenn, close associate of Mrs. McCormick. The 7 per cent payment will amount to $357,000, which will be taken from $1,100,000 now held by the executor from the sale of some assets of the estate. The executor asks permission to retain the other $743,000 as a working cash fund.

Once a $40,000,000 Fortune.

When Mrs. McCormick died on April 25, 1932, her great fortune, once estimated at more than $40,000,000, appeared to have been engulfed in the depression and her unsuccessful real estate ventures. Neither the litigation nor liquidation in the estate is yet complete and probably will not be for several years. For this reason it is impossible now to estimate the ultimate net value of the estate.

The estate probably will never approximate its worth before the depression, but with rising real estate values and the opening of markets for the sale of Mrs. McCormick's heirlooms and other personal property the creditors may receive further substantial payments on their claims, it was said. Whether her heirs will get anything—if and when the creditors should be paid in full—cannot be forecast.

U. S. Tax Levy Protested.

Two of the creditors are the federal government and the state of Illinois. The government has filed a lien of $444,175 as inheritance tax on the estate and the executor has made a tentative deposit of $185,175 on this lien. The lien is being protested before the United States board of tax appeals. The executor contends that there was no taxable value for the estate when Mrs. McCormick died.

The Illinois state inheritance tax appraisal has not been made, but if it is on the same basis as the federal tax it will be about $354,000, according to the executor's petition.

Other claims involving real estate transactions, allowed but unpaid, total $2,811,319. The Metropolitan Life Insurance company has claims of $883,184, including a $526,010 mortgage on Mrs. McCormick's town house at 1000 Lake Shore drive. This mortgage was foreclosed last Jan. 4 and the executor has until Jan. 4, 1938, to redeem it by paying the judgment to the insurance company.

Ohioans Hold Krenn's Claim.

Krenn assigned his claim for $1,261,128 to Maurice B. Rissman and Carl Baldwin of Cleveland, O. The assignees were allowed $73,738 and now are appealing that ruling to the Illinois Appellate court. The full amount of the claim is listed as a liability of the estate in the executor's petition but the 7 per cent payment will not be made until the litigation is ended.

The claims enumerated and others, plus interest, bring to $5,100,000 the

A taxicab driver who was tentatively considered for jury duty in the second embezzlement trial of Frank V. Zintak, ousted Superior court clerk, identified a nephew of Zintak yesterday as one of two men who offered him a bribe before the trial began.

The cab driver is Max Belec, 207 South Halsted street. Testifying before Judge Benjamin P. Epstein of the Criminal court, who presided at the second trial [in which Zintak was acquitted], Belec said he was approached by two men, one of them John Glorius, 29 years old, 1740 West 33d street, and the other unidentified.

Glorius, who is a nephew of Zintak, is a clerk in the county recorder's office. Belec has served on several juries in Judge Epstein's court, according to his testimony.

Visited by Intermediaries.

Shortly before the second Zintak trial began on Jan. 26, he said, Glorius and a companion came to his home. The companion did the talking.

"You may be on the Zintak jury," Belec said he was told. "If you are broad-minded you won't have to drive a cab any more."

The taxi driver, who was locked up in the jury room on the night of Jan. 26 and excused for cause the next morning by Attorney Benedict J. Short, one of Zintak's counsel, also testified that Archie Estep, 64 years old, 5108 West 22d place, Cicero, who was an accepted juror, told him: "It looks silly to lock up twelve men on a case that's already settled."

Second Bribery Allegation.

Zintak, a Democratic party leader, was ousted as Superior court clerk last Sept. 15 after a shortage of $26,500 was disclosed in the funds of his office. He repaid the money, but five indictments charging embezzlement were returned against him, and he was tried twice on the specific charge of embezzling $10,500. At the first trial, before Judge Robert C. O'Connell, the jury could not agree in forty-one hours and was discharged. One juror has testified he was bribed to hold out for a not guilty verdict.

The juror, Gustave Anderson, said he was given $25 and offered a job by Robert W. McKinlay, federal court receiver. McKinlay, who is wanted for questioning, remained in hiding yesterday. His attorney, George Guenther, refused to reveal his whereabouts, but said he would surrender if and when a warant were issued for him.

The Dancing and Tippling Tour.

At the second trial the jury found Zintak not guilty after six hours. This jury, it has been disclosed, spent most of one week-end in a drinking and dancing tour of taverns and was always plentifully supplied with liquor in the jury room. Because of testimony about its gallivanting, Sherif Toman has discharged three bailifs.

In addition to Cab Driver Belec's charges yesterday, jurors added to accounts of the tippling which accompanied their more or less sober consideration of the case.

The name of an Evanston justice of the peace, Willis Brightmire, was interjected as a friend of Zintak's who was also a friend of one of the jurors, Martin Even, 1112 Pitner avenue, Evanston, a telephone lineman. Brightmire, it was testified, was a nightly drinking companion of Even in a tavern at Howard street and Western avenue before and after the trial. Even denied they had mentioned the case until it was all over.

Zintak's Nephew Testifies.

When Glorius took the stand to deny Belec's testimony he said he attended both Zintak trials, but had never seen a jury list and did not see McKinlay with one. He said he knew McKinlay and Brightmire.

Glorius told of attending a post-acquitttal party in Bruns' Palm Gardens in Forest Park, operated by William Bruns, uncle of Juror George F. Bruns, 804 South 17th avenue, Maywood.

Juror Estep was called. After denying Belec's quotation from him about the case having been fixed, Estep told of liquor in the quarters.

Coghlan then brought out that Estep voted for acquittal five times after the jury retired.

"Do you mean to say you could make up your mind in five minutes," asked Coghlan.

Dances Only with Young Ones?

He then told of the dancing party on Saturday night, Jan. 30, in which the jurors spent two hours in a avern.

Q. [by Coghlan]—Did you dance with any of the girls there? A.—I was asked to dance by one, but I think the other jurors put her up to it. [Estep is 64 years old.]

Q.—Well, did you dance? A.—No, I refused.

Q.—Why? A.—Well, she was kind of old.

Q.—How old? A.—Well, she was about 30.

Q.—Did she coax you to dance? A.—Yes, but I wouldn't do it.

At the close of the day, the other jurors, including Harold C. Starger, 1306 West 92d street, the foreman, were questioned briefly on the jury's drinking. Then Judge Epstein continued the case to April 7. Judge O'Connell, who started a hearing on the first trial last Saturday, continued it to April 6.

Glorius Freed from Custody.

Judge Epstein instructed the state's attorney's office to look up the law to see whether Glorius, Estep, or any of the other jurors should be held in indirect contempt of court. Glorius was released from technical custody.

The contempt hearing of Deputy Sherif Daniel Miller, in charge of the jury on its whoopee tour, was also continued to April 7 and he was freed in $2,000 bail.

Juror Bruns was questioned in the morning session of Judge Epstein's quiz about the tavern tours, but First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley was unable to learn who had suggested them. Bruns said he did not know Zintak or McKinlay, and denied he received any communications about the case before being sworn. He said he had suggested the stop at Bruns' Palm Gardens because he wanted to see his mother who was working there.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, March 30.—According to French military information revealed today, the total Italian casualties in the battle of Brihuega [northeast of Madrid] two weeks ago were more than 700 killed and 1,500 taken prisoners by loyalists, a total far exceeding the acknowledged loss of Italian troops in the whole Ethiopian campaign.

Further information indicates that although preparations have been begun on Gen. Francisco Franco's Fascist rebel side for a new offensive against Madrid, the moral effect of that defeat has been very great, both in Spain and in Italy, where, despite severe press restrictions, the news has become known.

That news has produced a much more serious reaction than almost anything that has happened since the Fascist régime began. There is no doubt here that these events have put a more effective check, temporarily at least, to Italian intervention in Spain than anything that has been done by the London nonintervention committee so far. What is considered most galling to Italians is the fact that Rome had assured Berlin that further German help to Gen. Franco was not necessary for Italian troops would suffice.

CEASE HALTING BRITISH VESSELS, FRANCO WARNED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 30.—The British government tonight sent a stiff note to Gen. Francisco Franco's Spanish naval authorities at Cadiz, Spain, protesting against the holding up of three British vessels by armed Spanish rebel trawlers on unfounded charges of carrying war materials.

Interference with foreign shipping is regarded with increasing seriousness by the British government, which considers the incidents technically as acts of piracy. The note, demanded that holding up of British vessels be stopped. It pointed out gunfire across a ship's bow is contrary to international low, which permits interrogation of vessels only by signals. The incidents complained of date back to March 7, and include searches of the ships Springwear, Menin Ridge, and Stanholm.

Resentment against the rebel halting of ships was intensified because the British government made it illegal from Dec. 3 for any British ship to carry war material to Spain and is enforcing the order with the utmost stringency.

ZINTAK'S NEPHEW

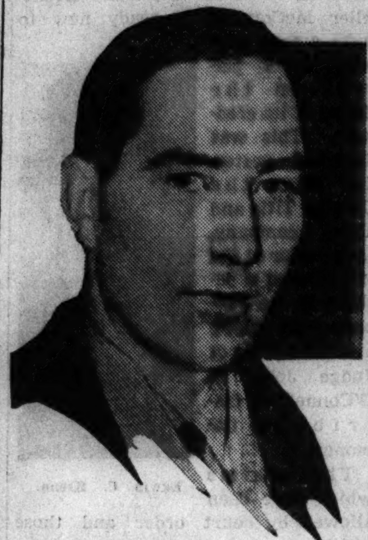
John Glorius, nephew of Frank V. Zintak. He was identified as one of two men who approached prospective juror in the second embezzlement trial of the ousted Superior court clerk, to offer him a bribe.



[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Michael Belec testified that Glorius told him: "You may be on the Zintak jury. If you are broadminded you won't have to drive a cab any more."

BREAK MIDWEST STOCK SWINDLE RING; ARREST 3

Three men, one an ex-convict, were arrested yesterday as members of a ring which obtained a total of $25,000 in a series of stock swindles in Illinois, Missouri and Wisconsin. The prisoners are Robert J. Holman, 43 years old, 6258 North Claremont avenue; Adrian M. Knox, 44, of 4250 Magnolia avenue, and Harry Kassmir, 44, of 1207 Leland avenue. Kassmir has served prison terms for mail fraud and for violation of the national stolen property act.

The investigation which led to their arrests resulted from a complaint made to the Better Business Bureau by a farmer of Edgerton, Wis., who said he gave Holman a $500 bond which was in default on his promise to pay 92 cents on the dollar.

BUTCHERS' UNION VOTES SHORTER SHOPPING HOURS

Beginning next Tuesday, Chicago housewives won't be able to get into their favorite meat markets until 9 a. m. And they'll have to do their Saturday shopping before 7 p. m., or serve a vegetarian Sunday dinner.

An agreement about working hours, already approved by the retail dealers, was ratified last night by 1,500 members of Local 546 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, meeting in the Musicians' hall, Washington and Wells streets.

Meat markets will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. on weekdays, and from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Saturdays. They now open at 8 a. m. every day and close at 6 p. m. on weekdays and 9 p. m. on Saturdays.

REVOLT AGAINST FRANCO FLARES IN REBEL RANKS

Hundreds of Plotters Face Firing Squads.

BULLETIN.

MADRID, March 31 (Wednesday). — (AP) — Fascist rebel flyers rained 14 bombs near midnight on the capital in two raids which were believed early today to have caused heavy casualties. Two bombs fell on the more crowded parts of the city. The tri-motored bombers in each raid unloaded their explosives hastily and sped away as Madrid's defenders unleashed bursts of anti-aircraft fire. Each time the planes circled the center of Madrid for ten minutes before fleeing.

BY H. H. WALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, March 30.—Measures to suppress a revolt plot against Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish Fascist rebel generalissimo, have resulted in the execution of hundreds of conspirators in southern Spain and Spanish Morocco in the last week, it became known today.

At the same time came news of a rebel defeat in the Pozoblanco sector north of Cordoba. Loyalists, who turned back 10,000 Italians from the gates of Pozoblanco last Friday, climaxed a five day drive westward with the capture of Alcaracejos and Villanueva del Duque despite efforts of Italian reinforcements, rushed from Cordoba.

Unrest Spreads from Morocco.

The seriousness of the Morocco uprising became evident when phone communications with Tetuan were broken off late today. The revolt began last Wednesday among 500 soldiers attached to the air base at Tetuan. It was at Tetuan that the Spanish civil war began and spread to the mainland last July 18.

[Tetuan authorities phoned Casablanca, French Morocco, last night only long enough to deny revolt reports.]

Persons fleeing Morocco and arriving at Gibraltar today declared the plot involved more than 1,000 conspirators and arose from resentment of Spanish Fascists and Carlists [monarchists] over the rise of Italian influence in the rebel forces.

The dissatisfaction began when an asserted 40,000 Italians suffered overwhelming defeats at Trijueque and Brihuega, northeast of Madrid, the middle of March.

Italians Among Executed.

The revolt within the rebel ranks seethed in a circle around Gibraltar. Passengers arriving from Tangier, International zone, Morocco, reported that the sequel of the Tetuan uprising was the execution of more than 30 officers and 100 enlisted men of the air base.

From Algeciras, rebel southern headquarters across the small bay west of Gibraltar, came the report that more than 50 conspirators and 200 loyalist prisoners had been executed on the discovery of another plot. It was asserted the conspirators included 20 sergeants and enlisted men of the Italian Pavia regiment.

The mainland conspiracy had branches, too, in La Linea and San Roque, both north of Gibraltar—allegedly because of jealousy and distrust of Gen. Franco's regular army corps for the Fascists and Carlists.

Garrison Chief Replaced.

Over the week-end the military commandant at La Linea, Capt. Jose Jimenez, who had held his post since October, was relieved without notice by Gen. Quiepo de Llano, rebel commander in southern Spain. Capt. Herrara of the San Roque garrison was named to take Jiminez's place.

Malaga, captured by the rebels early in February, has been in a state of constant unrest, with reports that government prisoners have been executed daily. Added to that, loyalist warships have bombarded the city three times since last Friday. East of Malaga rebel forces were reported retreating before loyalist forces which were inflicting serious losses.

Whether fearing attack from the direction of Spanish Morocco or as a planned war measure, the rebels today completed placement of four German coastal batteries between Algeciras and Point Tarifa, to the west. The guns' range included not only the straits but the rock of Gibraltar as well.

Called Major Rebel Defeat.

MADRID, March 30.—(AP)—Fascist rebel attempts to gain Spain's rich mercury fields at Almaden collapsed tonight in what dispatches from Cordoba province described as another major rebel defeat. Government forces drove the troops of Gen. Francisco Franco from their last remaining strongholds in the Pozoblanco sector—Alcaracejos and Villanueva del Duque.

Capture of these two towns automatically caused the collapse of the whole rebel front which was strung along the road leading from Pozoblanco to Hinojosa del Duque.

[Pozoblanco, 32 miles northeast of Cordoba, is the gateway to the rich mercury, copper, and coal mines of Ciudad Real province. Alcaracejos lies west of Pozoblanco and Villanueva del Duque to the northwest.]

Dispatches from Cordoba province reported the government forces captured a large number of Moors and a quantity of war material as they entered Alcaracejos.

Government airplanes coöperating in the offensive bombed and machine gunned the rebels as they sought to escape.

The rebels retaliated viciously, bombing Pozoblanco, Andujar and other loyalist points, and brought up reinforcements from the city of Cordoba in a fruitless effort to turn the tide.

Bomb Truck Supply Train.

Loyalist planes bombed thirty rebel trucks on the highway near Espiel, destroying at least half of them. The trucks burst into flames. In recent days loyalist planes have repeatedly bombed Montoro and Villa del Rio, rebel held towns between Cordoba and Andujar. Rebel planes once became confused and bombed Villa del Rio.

The government made its determined stand at Pozoblanco in an effort to protect the rich mineral resources of Ciudad Real province. The province is second only to Asturias in the production of coal. There are the valuable copper mines near Peñarroya and the richest mercury mines of the world near Almaden. Rebels are in control of Peñarroya.

Protest "Foreign Invasion."

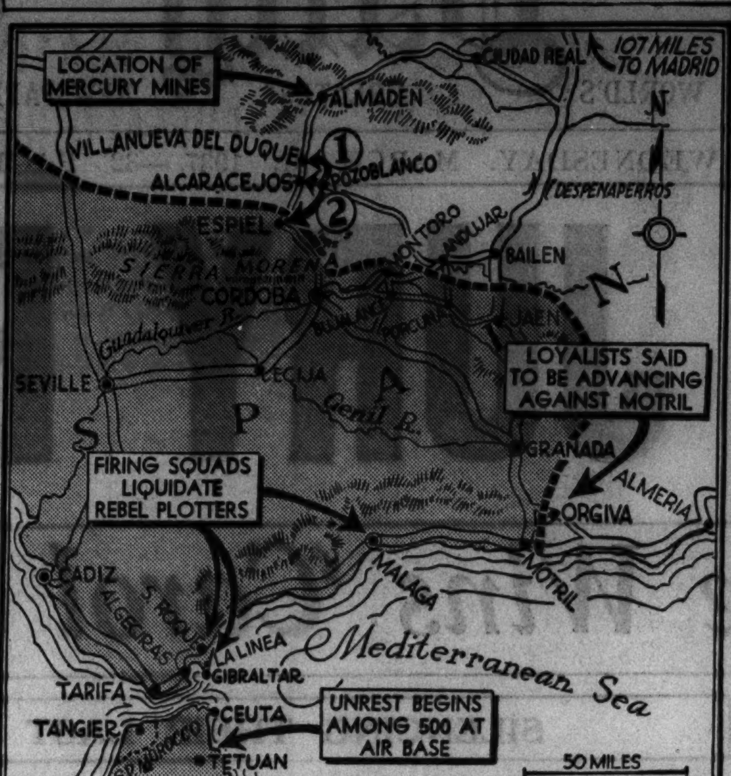
BAYONNE, France, March 30.—(AP)—A purge of Fascist rebels who revolted against Italian influence in the Spanish civil war is continuing, Basque reports from northern Spain said tonight.

Italian and other foreign soldiers with Gen. Francisco Franco never were popular with much of the army, the Basque dispatches recounted.

Two Spanish rebel colonels were reported to have killed themselves at Burgos as an expression of protest against what they called "the foreign invasion."

The rebels have tightened control of the frontier and even Spanish newspapers failed to arrive today.

UNREST SPREADS AFTER REBEL LOSSES



Coincident with the spread of unrest among Spanish rebel troops, resulting in executions of plotters at Tetuan, Algeciras, and Malaga, loyalists yesterday claimed a major victory in the Pozoblanco sector. Madrid announced loyalists (1) captured the towns of Alcaracejos and (2) sent a column toward Espiel to cut off the rebels' retreat to Cordoba. A loyalist drive from Orgiva also was reported to be gaining against Motril. Shaded portion of the map represents rebel held territory.

KING DENIED BEER BY LAW ABIDING SWISS WAITRESS

King Leopold.

Her customer didn't argue. He drank a glass of water and returned to his sleeping car.

As the train was pulling out the embarrassed waitress learned from other travelers that she had denied a king his beer. It was King Leopold III. of the Belgians, traveling incognito.

MIKADO ORDERS LOWER HOUSE OF DIET DISSOLVED

TOKIO, March 31 [Wednesday.]—(AP)—Renewed conflict between the army and navy on the one hand and the major political parties on the other today led to dissolution of the house of representatives by Emperor Hirohito. The action plunged Japan into a new political crisis.

The emperor's decree, handed down on the advice of Premier General Senjuro Hayashi within a few hours of the scheduled termination of the parliamentary session, makes a general election mandatory. The government announced the election would be held April 30, when a new house of representatives of 466 members is to be chosen.

The army and navy charged the major parties in the lower house, Minseito and Seiyukai, with obstructing bills considered vital for national defense, such as the steel industry control and national fuel bills. Nearly forty government bills, some of major importance, remained unapproved as the session was terminated. The army and navy, however, had succeeded in obtaining passage of the record 1937-'38 budget, which allotted more than half its total to the fighting services.

RICHEST TRADER IN ETHIOPIA HELD AS BRITISH SPY

Italy Also Ousts Wealthy French Merchant.

ROME, March 30.—(AP)—Ethiopia's Mohammed Ali, chain store merchant in the days of Haile Selassie, was reported ordered into exile tonight for supplying information to the British intelligence service.

The authoritative newspaper Giornale d'Italia said the Mohammed Ali, a British subject, had been expelled by Viceroy Rorolfo Graziani, administrator of the Italian-conquered African country.

A well-informed Fascist told the Associated Press, however, that Ali's fate had not been decided and that an alternative remained between expulsion and a prison term.

Several Agents Seized.

The same source said several of Ali's agents at Harrar, Jigjiga and elsewhere, who once received arms for Haile Selassie's armies, also had been arrested, while Ali's business has been broken up and his possessions attached.

[Official London sources said Stonehewer Bird, the British consul in Addis Ababa, had been told to give the merchant "all the help he can." No protest against his expulsion will be made pending efforts to have the order revoked, they said. These informants added the order did not mention espionage charges, which were described as "nonsense."]

A French merchant named Besse, director of Besse & Co., another large Ethiopian commercial house, was fined 1,500,000 lire [about $75,000], imprisoned and then expelled on charges of engaging in the arms trade during the Italo-Ethiopian war and of currency speculation since the Italian occupation.

Richest Man in Ethiopia.

Giornale d'Italia said the Mohammed Ali installed subjects of British India in the Addis Ababa headquarters of his organization and in its branches throughout Ethiopia. The agents actively engaged in spying, the newspaper said, adding that many of them were British consular employés.

A tremendously impressive figure in his flowing red robes, white beard, and fez, the Mohammed Ali, a shrewd Arabian, counted his wealth in Ethiopia second only to the departed negus, Haile Selassie, himself. The Italian conquest brought harder times to the Mohammed Ali, who openly opposed Italian domination.

5 CONFESS PLOT TO SELL MILLION IN STOLEN GOLD

Denver, Colo., March 30.—(AP)—Rowland K. Goddard, U. S. S. secret service chief here, said today five Denver men had confessed a conspiracy to dispose of gold stolen in the $1,000,000 Homestake mine robbery.

Goddard named two of them as R. W. Blackett, former mining promoter, and Harold P. [Hap] Kennedy, and said all five were available, although none had been arrested in the Homestake case.

Blackett is in jail here, convicted in a bond theft conspiracy case. Kennedy entered a guilty plea in the same case. Goddard said the three unnamed men were involved in other crimes. The conspiracy was unsuccessful.

"The five men made arrangements as a group for contact with the thieves," Goddard explained. "As individuals they planned to hijack the shipments."

Goddard said two groups have been stealing gold from the Homestake and predicted the arrest of other men in the west shortly. He said three miners arrested recently in Lead, S. D., were merely "small fry."

HONOR PUPIL, 18, ADMITS SLAYING OF BUFFALO GIRL

His Surprise Confession Solves Mystery Attacks.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 30.—[Special.] Thomas Smith, 18 years old, a high school honor pupil, made a full confession to police, they announced today, that he killed a pretty neighbor girl about two months ago when "something clicked in my brain." A first degree murder charge was filed against him.

The youth was arrested as he walked home from church yesterday for questioning concerning the stabbing of 14 year old Frances Fitzgerald Sunday night. During the grilling Smith suddenly blurted out a confession of both crimes.

His arrest and the solution of the two brutal stabbings eased tension in south Buffalo, where residents had been highly apprehensive over these crimes and several attempted rapes of women and girls.

The knifed body of Smith's previous victim, Mary Ellen Babcock, 18 years old, attractive daughter of a Buffalo railroad employé and his wife, was found in a South Boston field Feb. 6. Her clothing was torn and disarranged.

KILLS HIS FATHER, THROWS MOTHER DOWN STAIRWAY

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—[Special.]—A former inmate of an insane asylum today shot and killed his elderly father, threw his mother downstairs, and seriously wounded two state policemen who sought to arrest him. He finally was seized by a squad of four more policemen sent to the scene.

The Rev. Michael J. Dwyer, a Catholic priest, summoned police to the hamlet of Lathams, about eight miles north of here, after hearing shots near his church as he was saying mass.

Fitzpatrick fell with 75 shot in his shoulder. One of Konior's eyeballs was pierced and he also was wounded in the forehead and right hand.

The other policemen sent to the scene succeeded in disarming Ireland after he had emptied both barrels of a shotgun at their bullet proof automobile. He was charged with first degree murder for the death of his father.

Blame Caretaker for Fires at New York Synagogue

New York, March 30.—(AP)—Albert Kinderman, caretaker of the West End synagogue for the last 24 years, was charged tonight with setting two fires in that building last Saturday morning. Fire Commissioner John J. McElligott said Kinderman had confessed to setting two fires, but denied setting a third blaze later on the same day. The third blaze did damage estimated at $200,000. Kinderman was quoted as blaming an "uncontrollable impulse." Harry N. Wessel, president of the synagogue, blamed the caretaker's "mental condition."

"WIFE" TO TWO

Mrs. Helen Betenas, 23, held on charge of bigamy after it was revealed she lived with one husband during the day and another at night.

Nights she lived with one husband. Days she lived with the other. It kept her busy, though, Mrs. Helen Betenas told police yesterday—so busy she had to give up betting on the horses, which ran so well for her that they made her $100 a month until she started picking husbands too.

Mrs. Betenas is 22 and blonde. Her system worked, she explained, because one husband, Michael Betenas, worked days. The other did too, but she told him she worked nights. He is Grant C. Russell of 6516 Kimbark avenue, whom she married at Waukegan Feb. 16 while married to Betenas.

Russell led policemen yesterday to Betenas' apartment at 6348 Maryland avenue before Betenas went to work. Mrs. Betenas was there. She was charged with bigamy.

HOLD SUSPECT IN MATTSON CASE; HINT AT 'BREAK'

Tucumcari, N. M., March 30.—[Special.]—Authorities holding Vern Charlton of Seattle, Wash., as a suspect in the kidnap slaying of young Charles Mattson, hinted tonight new developments were momentarily expected.

Sherif Fred White said the man held here fitted descriptions of the Mattson suspect "even to the dimple on his chin." White said Charlton admitted, when shown a department of justice drawing of the man being hunted, that "it looks like me."

Charlton also was quoted as saying he had been in Tacoma, Wash., home of the 10 year old kidnap victim, but that he left there on Jan. 7. The Mattson boy was abducted on Dec. 27 and his body found Jan. 11 near Everett, Wash.

Alex Street, department of justice agent, said federal men in Washington are checking all information given them, including finger prints, specimens of handwriting believed to be that of the suspect, and photographs of him.

Not Hapsburg Heiress, Just My Daughter, Says Father

Mrs. Marie Lorraine, 49 years old, who claims to be the daughter of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria who died in 1889, was identified yesterday by Andrew Ziolkowski, 8342 Burley avenue, as his daughter. Mrs. Lorraine, whose name has been given also as Mrs. Marie McKinnon, is recovering in the county hospital from an overdose of sleeping tablets she took Monday night in her apartment at 659 Wrightwood avenue.

FIREMAN'S WIFE WINS DECISION IN 'CAROL G.' SUIT

Precious Dave Letter Is the Turning Point.

that the court should do so in this instance.

About True Love's Course.

"The Illinois law frowns on divorce and separate maintenance alike," Judge Burke ruled.

The court's ruling followed by less than half an hour Attorney Morris K. Levinson's remarkable argument in behalf of Mrs. Wood.

"Here's an honest woman," he said, alluding to his client, who was just returning from an attack of hysterics. "This honest woman says, 'Yes, your honor, I did scratch my husband's face, but only to protect myself.' Now, in Russia loved ones on both sides scratch the other, and a man deems his wife has great affection for him when she strikes him with a club no larger than a baseball bat.

"Yes, and I may say that scratches may be a sign of affection even in Winnetka," he concluded triumphantly, while the fire chief, a well set up man of 35 years, looked on skeptically."

Capt. Wood on Stand.

Capt. Wood was a witness for himself at the opening of the day's session. He testified on direct examination that he kept his car at the Gardner garage when the Gardners resided at 745 Ash street, across the street from the fire station at Mr. Gardner's request. But his direct testimony was, in the main, unexciting.

Capt. Wood remained cool under the heated cross-examination he was subjected to by Attorney Levinson. He was asked about a balcony on the fire station which faced the Gardner home.

Q.—You read a good deal of poetry, don't you? A.—What do you mean?

Q.—Did you ever hear of Robert Browning? A.—Yes.

Q.—Isn't there a balcony on your fire station where you firemen "sit of a summer evening?" Or do you recall that line from Browning? A.—The balcony's about two feet square. You can't sit on it.

Q.—But you stand on it? A.—Sometimes.

Q.—Like Romeo? A.—Naw.

Q.—And from the aforesaid balcony you see Mrs. Gardner promenading before her bedroom windows for your delectation? But let's get away from poetry, Mr. Wood.

ATTORNEY HEINZEN—That's not poetry, Mr. Levinson. It's just poor English.

ATTORNEY LEVINSON—And because you graduated from business college, does that make you an expert on poetry, Mr. Heinzen?

Mrs. Gardner now lives at 345 East Russell street, Barrington. Her husband, Albert S. Gardner, has denied he contemplates a divorce suit. He said that he was living in a separate residence, but insisted this was because of his business.

He declined to tell where he was staying, but said he had spoke quite firmly to Capt. Wood about the affair.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 30.—[Special.]—Mary Kirk Brown Seymour, prominent in New York social circles, and William Seymour, her millionaire husband, were fined $50 each and given thirty day suspended sentences today after pleading guilty to charges of intoxication and leaving the scene of an accident. Mrs. Seymour and her husband were arrested Monday in Beverly Hills after they had driven their car into a fire hydrant, causing it to flood a busy street intersection.

Most of the assets in the estate are of undetermined value at present because the liquidation is not finished. Among the assets are Mrs. McCormick's estate, Villa Turicum, in Lake Forest; equities in the 1000 Lake Shore drive home and adjoining property at 118 East Oak street; beneficial shares in the Edith Rockefeller McCormick real estate trust, and goods and chattels, including books, heirlooms, rugs and tapestries.

In her will Mrs. McCormick bequeathed five-twelfths of her estate to Krenn; four-twelfths to her daughter, Mrs. Muriel Hubbard; two-twelfths to her other daughter, Mrs. Mathilde Oser, and one-twelfth to her son, Fowler McCormick.

MOTHER SOLVES MYSTERY; BANDIT SUSPECT HER SON

Mystery surrounding the identity of a youth of 16, held as a bandit suspect, was solved yesterday when Mrs. Catherine Balke of 1366 Sloan street identified him from a picture as her runaway son, George.

The youth had been before Judge J. M. Braude in Boys' court six times, accused of robbing John Alden of 6351 Ingleside avenue of $25 and Alden's clothes. Each time the judge had continued the case because the youth, who first gave the name of George Autry, refused to tell his true name.

Young Balke was not told that his mother had identified him. She will confront him in court tomorrow. He has been locked up since Feb. 9.

MODEL'S DEATH MYSTERY FOLDS ALL N. Y. IN WEB

Police Comb 'White Way' for Murder Clews.

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—Mystery enfolding the now celebrated "Murder of the Artists' Model" tonight had spread its web from the apartment in Beekman Hill where Veronica Gedeon, the model; her mother, Mrs. Mary Gedeon, and their roomer, Frank Byrnes, were found dead early on Easter Sunday to Brooklyn and the police scientific laboratories—and from ribald Greenwich Village to blasé Broadway.

This most recent and most baffling of New York's sex-tinged murders tonight had encompassed within its mesh even fashionable and expensive Park avenue, to make it a sort of "all around the town affair."

Such was the status of the investigation being pushed tonight by 200 picked detectives, inspectors, and commissioners, who have dropped all other police activities to hunt down the murderer of Veronica [Ronnie] Gedeon, whose artful ways, beauty, and sensuous representations of Venus in her rôle as a commercial artists' model had won for her a reputation as the toast of New York's art colony.

Hunt for Clew Among Lights.

Because this butterfly of a girl who captivated young and old was so well known along the bright lighted ways and in the studios, police clung to the idea that somewhere in their study of her workaday life as a model, her after-dusk sallies as a flaming torch girl of bachelor dinners, they would pick up the trail of the slayer.

For the time being little attention was given to the other two victims of the triple slaying—Mrs. Gedeon, 54 years old but unusually attractive, and Byrnes, who worked as a waiter and bartender in an exclusive Park avenue club.

Another development was the discovery in the apartment of a little black book containing scribbled entries in the handwriting of both Mrs. Gedeon and Ronnie. These minute scribblings embraced about 150 names, among them those of artists, models, sculptors, illustrators, brokers, physicians and surgeons, leads to the company kept by the glamorous girl whose beauty made her the toast of many a party.

Quiz Brokers, Playboys.

Park avenue broker and Broadway night club playboy, artist and model, illustrator and physician were being questioned by detectives as to what they knew of Ronnie Gedeon and her associates and propensities for the gay life.

After 30 hours of questioning, police released Georges [Frenchy] Gueret, 45 year old ex-chauffeur, a former roomer of the Gedeons.

Row Over Election

William Freeman, Evanston police chief, who challenged Northwestern professor to lie detector test on reports that the professor said his police post depended on the outcome of the coming city election.

According to Freeman, Prof. Earl De Long (left) said that Lieut. Frank Kreml (right) would become police chief if Charles Bartlett lost in the mayoralty race. Kreml is said to have told Freeman of De Long's alleged statement.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

BILL FREEMAN WANTS TO KNOW WHO IS LYING

Challenges Professor to Take the Test.

man last night that De Long had denied telling Kreml that the chief would be through if and when Penfield won. As for making Lieut. Kreml, now head of the accident prevention bureau, the new police chief, Prof. De Long hadn't dreamed of intimating such a thing!

Dean James was willing to let it go at that. But not Chief Freeman. He had just begun to fight.

Chief Challenges Prof.

"I've been spreading this report because it's true," he declared in his best police manner, "and I'm going to prove it. I hereby challenge Prof. DeLong to a lie detector test!"

He added that Dr. Leonarde Keeler, head of the Northwestern laboratories of scientific crime detection, was well equipped to conduct such a test.

"We'll get Kreml in it, too, if necessary," said the chief.

"A political trick," sniffed Prof. DeLong at his home. But he wouldn't say yes and wouldn't say no when asked if he would take the test.

There was nothing but silence from Lieut. Kreml. He was in Detroit teaching safety measures to trafic policemen, and probably glad of it.

MRS. RAILTON ACCUSES MATE OF INFIDELITY

Amends Divorce Suit to Include Charge.

Mrs. Margery Luxem Railton filed an amended bill for divorce yesterday in the Superior court charging her husband, John R. Railton, president and son of the founder of the B. A. Railton company, wholesale grocers, with infidelity.

An affidavit accompanying the amended bill said that Mrs. Railton had refrained from including the misconduct charge in her original suit at the request of her husband, who feared his sisters would use it to accomplish his removal as company president. They own 49 per cent of the stock.

Charges Threat to Kill.

Mrs. Railton, who is 25 years old and lives at 1209 Astor street, filed her original divorce suit, charging cruelty, on March 8. Her amended bill yesterday included in addition to infidelity the charge of excessive drinking and an allegation that Railton, who is 35 years old, threatened to kill her with a pistol last Feb. 19. They separated Feb. 23.

The amended bill, filed by Attorney William F. Waugh, accuses Railton of misconduct with a Jane Doe, whom Mrs. Railton states she is perfectly willing to name in court.

In her affidavit Mrs. Railton says that her husband's sisters began investigating rumors of his misconduct, and sought to obtain the cooperation of their nieces, who own one-quarter of the company stock, in ousting him as president.

Attorney Names Sister.

According to Attorney Waugh, Mr. Railton's sisters are Mrs. Josephine Wathier and Mrs. Walter Wholihan. His nieces are Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. John Senee.

At her husbands request Mrs. Railton stated, she told the nieces the rumors were unfounded, although she knew them to be true. She did this, Mrs. Railton alleged, in order not to jeopardize her husband's business position.

Mr. Railton denied his wife's allegations of cruelty.

During their two years of married life, Railton said, he bought $13,500 worth of furniture, now in his wife's Astor street home; that he gave her $9,000 in jewelry and $4,000 in furs.

WALLY'S HOST—A TALE OF SANDHOG TO MILLIONAIRE

Climb Resembles a Real Horatio Alger Story.

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—Interest in the charming people who are hosts to Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, fiancée of former King Edward VIII. of Great Britain, burned with renewed brilliance today with the sketching of the life story of Charles E. Bedaux, whose French château is Mrs. Simpson's habitat. In a few swift years Bedaux passed from the humble occupation of laborer—"sandhog" is the technical description—to multimillionaire entertainer of royalty.

The Bedauxs are veterans of the headlines of at least two continents. They have had numerous newsworthy experiences, and their several explorations in strange, out of the way lands have given them the reputation of being one of America's most traveled, adventurous married couples.

Bedaux an Engineer.

Their names are in the New York Social Register. Mr. Bedaux is an industrial engineer of international reputation, as well as an explorer and inventor. Mrs. Bedaux is the former Fern Lombard of Cleveland, O. She sailed on Feb. 27 to welcome Mrs. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers of New York, at whose Cannes villa Mrs. Simpson had been staying, to the Château de Cande, near Tours.

Mr. Bedaux heads an industrial engineering concern with organizations in many parts of the world. He is chairman of the board of the Bedaux International company, Inc., which has offices in the Chrysler building; the Charles E. Bedaux company of New York, and many related concerns in other countries.

A thumbnail sketch might describe him aptly as a smart, dapper, personable little French-American who climbed from below ground to the "top of the world" on the ladder of a bright idea. His is a real Horatio Alger story of a poor boy climbing to riches.

Owns Grouse Shooting Lodge.

He owns a grouse shooting lodge in Scotland and a game preserve in the south, as well as numerous smaller properties and the huge Château de Cande at Monts, for which he paid more than $600,000.

There is quite a dash of Hollywood in Bedaux's career. During the world war he was a soldier in the French Foreign Legion and was severely wounded. After the war he landed in New York with $25 and got his first job, helping build the subway under East river. Although born in France, he is an American citizen.

In the subway he was a mucker and roustabout. Plugging the tunnel through with other sandhogs, it did not require long for his acute Gallic sense of realism to rebel at the waste of energy and the fumbling he observed. Whenever there was a breathing spell he would take a pad out of his dungarees and figure how effectively to mesh human energy and machine energy with maximum results and minimum wear and tear for both.

He Sells His Idea.

When he at last climbed out of the subway he had two valuable assets—a bit of money he had saved and a formula which was to make him famous as an authority on labor control and personnel management. He sold his idea.

Bedaux's idea is now well known as the "Bedaux Hour," used by many industries to measure the work energy of employés.

It is termed a wage incentive system by industrial engineers. Work is measured in one-minute units, known as "B-Units." Under the system, when a worker has completed his normal day's production he gets a bonus of 75 per cent of the profits of anything he produces during the remaining working hours, while the other 25 per cent goes to the supervising force.

Bedaux's first client was a chemical plant in which he worked after leaving the subway job.

Bedaux's next client was a manufacturer of spectacle frames and from there he moved on. General Electric wanted to buy the plan, but Bedaux refused to unload. Instead, he wrote a novel in which he fictionized his industrial idea. Big industry bought the book at $25 a copy. Later Bedaux set up his "yardstick" in the Eastman Kodak plants and now Rochester sometimes is referred to as "Bedaux City."

Bedaux, now 50 years old, formerly was chairman of the board of Washington-Lafayette institution, which sought to develop friendly relations between the United States and France.

Among the explorations and adventures essayed by the Bedauxs, their most recent jaunt was an expedition into distant Canadian wilds in 1934. With a party of 30, including geographers, archæologists, and woodsmen, sixty horses, several river boats, and five caterpillar tractors, they started for northern British Columbia in search of rich mineral deposits. The expedition was called off when one of their guides was drowned and most of their supplies were lost in a turbulent spring flood.

Earlier explorations took them on a South Seas schooner expedition and on a novel automobile trip across the breadth of Africa.

Bedaux gave this simple explanation when he suggested that Mrs. Simpson take over his French estate:

"My wife and I believe that when two people sacrifice so much for love they are entitled to the admiration of and the utmost consideration from those who still believe in this ideal."

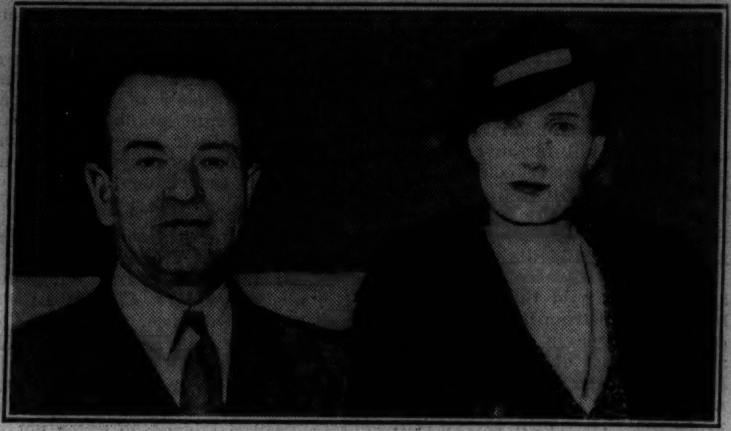
Wally Puts Their Name in News Again



Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bedaux, whose castle in France is temporarily home for Mrs. Wallis Simpson. Bedaux started work as a sandhog (underground tunnel worker) in New York. Now he is wealthy and has offices in one of the city's skyline towers.

DIES OF INJURIES FROM FALL.

OVERSEER VOLIVA BUYS COUPLE OF HOMES IN MIAMI

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of the Christian Catholic church of Zion, has purchased two winter homes in a fashionable district of Miami, Fla., according to a dispatch from that city. The deed for one home, costing $18,000, has been conveyed to his wife, Ida, and the other, costing $7,500, to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bennett.

Bankruptcy proceedings for the Zion estate, Voliva's personal holdings, are pending in the federal court here. Last May a schedule filed in court listed liabilities of $1,700,000 and assets of $1,200,000.

LAW PROFESSOR TELLS PERILS IN ALTERING COURT

Warns Against Preparing Way for Dictatorship.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—Prof. Erwin N. Griswold of the Harvard law school, a colleague of one of President Roosevelt's most influential advisers, Prof. Felix Frankfurter, told the senate judiciary committee today that the project to pack the Supreme court would have in it "the germs of a crisis" far more serious than any now conjured up by the bill's supporters.

"The President's own motives and aims, of course, are irrelevant," said Prof. Griswold, a former assistant United States attorney general. "What this change makes possible in the future is the real issue. Break down the barriers which have protected the independence of the Supreme court and the way will lie broad and open for the first man who would be dictator, whatever his name may prove to be.

"The risk that the adoption of the present proposal would place upon us is certainly a far greater risk than that which we face if we do not follow the present demand."

Wage Decision Discussed.

The judiciary committee's hearings were resumed after a four day recess, during which time the Supreme court itself projected new issues into the controversy over the President's proposal by reversing its stand in previous litigation to uphold the power of states to establish minimum wages.

There was much comment upon the minimum wage decision at the hearing today. Senator William H. Dieterich [D., Ill.] asked Prof. Griswold whether the court had not changed its attitude and wiped out a "no man's land" in which neither the federal government nor the states could legislate.

"Unfortunately there was such a no man's land," the witness replied.

"Then the President was right when he told them what was wrong," Senator Dieterich said. The witness attempted to explain that there are various "no man's lands" which none would want to see abolished, such as freedom of speech, of the press, and of religious worship, and trial by jury, but Senator Dieterich did not permit him to finish.

Explains Procedure in Case.

Under questioning by Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.] Prof. Griswold explained that the Supreme court was not asked in the New York minimum wage case to reconsider its previous ruling in the Adkins case involving the District of Columbia minimum wage law. The highest court of New York had held the state law invalid, and it is a rule of the Supreme court not to interfere with a state court's interpretation of a state statute unless it clearly violates a provision of the federal constitution. In the Washington case, however, the state Supreme court upheld the statute and the Supreme court was asked to reëxamine the Adkins precedent, the witness declared.

Senator Henry F. Ashurst [D., Ariz.], chairman of the committee, objected to the professor's contention that the pending proposal would impair the independence of the Supreme court.

Prof. Griswold produced a mild sensation at the hearing when he declared that "friends in Washington" had told him that the President's original proposal was to create a special constitutional court, in which all constitutional cases would have been tried, and from which appeals would have been taken to the Supreme court "by the grace of congress."

John D. Miller, president of the National Coöperative council, the central agency of all the leading farm cooperatives of the country, assailed the court packing bill on the ground that it would destroy the independence of the judiciary and breed disrespect for law.

Battle Court Plan

Speaking for farm co-operatives, John D. Miller, president of the National Co-operative council, said the court bill was not needed for the government to "perform the maximum services for the farmers."

ROBINSON FIRES BACK AT GLASS ON COURT PLAN

Claims Wage Case Ruling Upholds Roosevelt.

as President and his service as chief justice, during the campaign of 1920 when Mr. Cox and Mr. Harding were the respective nominees of their parties for the presidency, Mr. Taft urged the election of Mr. Harding on the ground that Mr. Harding's election would 'get rid of Wilsonism and all that follows in its train in respect to our domestic matters.'

"Manifestly, that which was objectionable to him in 'Wilsonism' consisted in the liberal domestic policies which President Wilson suggested and supported. Justices on the Supreme court, if liberal minded like Brandeis and Clarke, 'would break down the usefulness of that court,' in the opinion of Mr. Taft, if those who agreed with them should come into the majority.

Points to Appointments.

"In the sense of those who criticize the President's plan as 'packing the court,' Mr. Taft made the accomplishment of a purpose to pack the court the primary object in urging the election of President Harding.

"As to whether his motive was consummated you may judge for yourselves. President Harding was elected and nominated Justices Sutherland and Butler as associate justices and Mr. Taft as chief justice.

"Consider the case of Mr. Justice McReynolds!

"He was quoted as saying in a recent public address that it is not good sportsmanship for one who has had a fair trial to criticise a decision of the Supreme court. One wonders if the justice has forgotten that in February, 1935, when the Supreme court delivered the famous gold clause decision, he, from the bench, struck in rage at his fellow members on the bench, at the President and congress, declaring that the decision had destroyed the constitution, that a debased currency is nothing new.'

Asks About Sportsmanship.

"One wonders if the justice thinks that good 'sportsmanship' consists in refraining from criticism of opinions when he is with the majority and indulging in abuse toward the majority when he takes the view of the minority. Just what is good 'sportsmanship,' Mr. Justice? Nowhere in the Supreme court decisions, nowhere in legal literature does a judge stand more emphatically condemned by his own test as a poor 'sportsman.'"

ELECTION ARGUMENT FOR COURT PACKING CALLED DEMAGOGERY

Arguments that the Supreme court is standing in the way of the mandate of the people as expressed in the last general election are those of pure demagogery, Floyd E. Thompson, chairman of the Chicago Citizens Court Defense committee, charged last night in a speech before the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association at the Hotel Sherman.

"The people of the United States did not vote to amend the constitution at the last general election," declared Mr. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court. "It is a strange argument that the victory of a political party in a campaign in which there is no suggestion of a constitutional change is a carte blanche order to those who are elected to do as they please."

BOTH CLAIM VICTORY

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Pre Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.] — Everybody in official Washington today was trying to figure out what the Supreme court's reversal of attitude on minimum wage legislation is likely to have on President Roosevelt's project to pack the court.

Proponents of the President's judiciary bill contended that it would be furthered by the demonstration that the court is fallible, that what is held unconstitutional at one time can become constitutional not long thereafter.

Others Hold Opposite View.

Opponents of the judiciary bill were equally confident that the Supreme court reversal will prove damaging in the end to the President's scheme to pack the court. They contended that the reversal, resulting in the upholding of state minimum wage legislation, is ample evidence that the court as at present constituted is disposed to construe the constitution broadly.

With the court unanimously upholding the railway labor act and the Frazier-Lemke farm debt moratorium act and by a 5 to 4 vote validating the Washington minimum wage law the President, it is contended, is deprived of a large part of the ground for his complaint that the court is reactionary.

President Gives Views.

Mr. Roosevelt was elated by the turn of affairs in the court, but he restrained any disposition he may have had to hold forth on the event in his press conference this afternoon. There was a record breaking attendance of correspondents, attracted by the chance that he would air his satisfaction on this occasion as he did his dissatisfaction when he branded the unanimous invalidation of the NRA as a reversion to the horse and buggy period of national development.

The opening question at the President's press conference asked whether he believed the Supreme court was curing itself. Mr. Roosevelt replied in a flat voice that he didn't believe there was any news on the Supreme court and added, in his usual intimate tones, that to tell the truth he hadn't read the court's opinions. He pointed to a basket which he said contained printed opinions—even the dissenting opinions.

A few minutes later when he was asked whether minimum wage laws should be confined to women alone, he said he believed they should include everybody—men, women, and children in those states where child labor is permitted.

The President volunteered the fact that he had instructed Attorney General Cummings to look into the District of Columbia minimum wage law for women on which the Supreme court gave its adverse ruling against minimum wage legislation 14 years ago. He said some people thought the court decision of yesterday put that law back on the books and others were equally sure that it did not.

OUR OWN EYES INWARD

By CALEB

A PROFESSOR of psychology was facing his class at the opening of a new course. Each student was given a test paper. The test consisted of several hundred questions. It required over two hours to take. All answers were "yes" or "no."

Conscientiously the class set about the disagreeable task of self-examination. The questions were direct, incisive, and bored into personal habits and ideals. Many students were ashamed when they faced the things the questions brought out.

The test concluded, the professor collected the papers and immediately and before the eyes of all the students tore them into ribbons and threw them away!

When the amazement of the class subsided, the professor said, "I simply wanted you all to face the facts about yourselves. Surely not one of you in this room feels himself to be a thoroughly normal person, what with the ideas, instincts, habits, and inclinations to which you must have confessed in the last two hours."

There are numerous theories advanced in connection with insanity. One is the theory of the psychologist Ernst Kretschner. He says there are two kinds of insanity, "folie circulaire" and schizophrenetic.

The former is characterized by the alternation of moods of depression with periods of excitement or mania. The latter is characterized by all sorts of delusions.

Both forms, however, are simply extremes of ordinary characteristics. They are exaggerations resulting from lack of control. Both these tendencies he asserts are present even in perfectly sane persons and everyone belongs predominantly to one or the other of these groups.

Thus we all have the capacity for "weird ideas," looking at things "oddly," or doing things "off normal."

The method of the professor was good.

But we believe businesses, as well as individuals, need this "inward look." One way we obtain it in our store is by using a suggestion system which invites all our employes to criticize and make suggestions. This has the effect of turning our eyes inward upon ourselves vigilantly and continually. In 1936 we received from our employes 3,893 suggestions. 1,014 of them were accepted and paid for.

MAYOR RETURNS; READY TO TACKLE TRANSIT AFFAIRS

Calls Lower Valuation Key to Solution.

Mayor Kelly returned to Chicago yesterday from a vacation in Florida and indicated that one of the first problems which will receive his attention is the transit situation.

He said he would soon confer with Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and officials of the Chicago Surface Lines about a proper valuation for the system. The lines, which are in receivership, are under Judge Wilkerson's jurisdiction.

Favors Lower Price.

Mayor Kelly believes that a write down of the present purchase price [price at which the city has an option to buy the surface lines under the 1907 ordinance] should be made before new transit ordinances are passed by the city council. He said yesterday that if the valuation of the street car lines is too high it will be impossible to finance a consolidated transportation system which would include the elevated lines.

The surface lines purchase price valuation was $169,987,396 on last Feb. 1. Officials of the company maintain the valuation has been kept in accordance with the terms of the 1907 ordinances.

Expects Few More Obstacles.

Mayor Kelly said that if it is possible to come to an agreement on valuation he feels there should be few obstacles to physical consolidation and modernization of Chicago's transit systems.

Commenting on the long continued receivership of the street railway lines, Mayor Kelly said he would not be surprised if the lines could get out of receivership if they tried.

Judge Wilkerson has had the Abbott plan of reorganization for the surface lines under consideration since early last year. Last fall he approved the plan for consolidation of the surface lines companies, which would take them out of receivership. His approval is subject, however, to sponsors of the plan seeking a new ordinance from the city council.

Franchise Negotiations Pending.

Franchise negotiations between the companies and city officials have been pending for three months. Engineers for the city and the lines, meanwhile, have been conferring on proposed improvements.

According to Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the city council's local transportation committee, the engineers will report to the committee soon and negotiations will be resumed.

FIELD MUSEUM EXPEDITION.

New specimens of reptiles and amphibians for the Field museum will be sought by an expedition headed by Karl P. Schmidt, which will leave tomorrow for Tucson, Ariz.

One woman and 199 men met in the Hotel La Salle yesterday for the convention of the American Brewers' association. Speakers told of the importance of advertising at the opening session of the two-day meeting. The woman brewer is Mrs. Emile Lindemann, president of the Fox-Head Waukesha corporation of Waukesha, Wis., one of the few women in the business in this country. She was particularly interested in laboratory tests of brewery products at the Siebel laboratories, 8 South Dearborn street.

ADVISE PUSHING SUITS TO EXPAND FOREST PRESERVE

The real estate committee of the Cook county board of forest preserve commissioners voted yesterday to prosecute 28 pending condemnation suits to acquire 250 acres of land for forest preserve purposes, at a cost of $350,000.

The committee, headed by Commissioner John Trager Jr., acted on recommendation of the preserve advisory committee. Edward Eagle Brown, president of the First National Bank and Trust company, is chairman of the advisory committee.

Land to be acquired under this plan is in scattered districts, bordering the preserves, and linking them. It is to be the first major acquisition of land by the forest preserve in more than five years.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TELLS STAND ON NEW TERMINAL

Park Board Meets Reply with More Questions.

The question of when, where, and if Chicago is to get a consolidated lake front passenger terminal for railroads entering the present four stations south of the loop was revived yesterday at a meeting of the Chicago park commissioners.

Before the commission lay the answer of L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central system, to a letter of the commission asking why the Illinois Central has not built a new station at Roosevelt road as provided for in the city's lake front ordinance of 1919 and inquiring what are the railroad's plans. At the suggestion of Robert J. Dunham, president of the park board, a reply was sent to Mr. Downs asking for a more definite answer.

Points Out Expenditures.

Mr. Downs' letter declared that during negotiations leading up to the adoption of the 1919 ordinance the city and civic organizations dwelt on the importance of a new station large enough to accommodate all the lines now occupying terminals south of the loop. The Illinois Central, the letter said, has carried out all provisions of the ordinance that are solely within its control at an expenditure to date of more than $70,000,000. This includes electrification.

As to the building of a station, Mr. Downs wrote that his road has spent $6,000,000 developing plans and acquiring facilities for construction of the terminal. But, he said, the Illinois Central system so far has not been able to get the other railroads in question to say they would come into a new station.

Site Still a Problem.

Furthermore, Mr. Downs wrote, plans for the station had been unsettled by a proposal from the railway terminals committee of the city council, backed by civic associations, to locate the consolidated passenger terminal at Randolph street instead of Roosevelt road. The Illinois Central, his letter said, has submitted plans to prospective tenants of a Randolph street terminal and is willing to negotiate about building on either site.

But the railroad, Mr. Downs said, would not be justified nor could it obtain authority to build a station adequate to accommodate the other railroads unless it had assurance they would use it. Nor can the road build, he asserted, until it is definitly certain which site is preferred and how many tenants the terminal will have.

Park Improvements Wait.

The position of the park board is that it cannot build an adequate entrance to the lake front at Roosevelt road until learns what the Illinois Central is going to do about a new terminal. A subway for easier access to the Field museum, Soldiers' field, and the 12th street bathing beach is one of the improvements planned by the board. Another is a permanent bridge at Roosevelt road. The board authorities say these needs will become more vital when the outer drive bridge is opened.

Regain Duluth Woman's Gems Stolen on Aquitania

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—A $50,000 jewel theft on the Aquitania of the Cunard White Star line was solved after two days during a South American cruise which ended when that ship docked today. Mrs. W. R. Higgins, wife of a wealthy Duluth mine owner, checked her gems with the purser when the ship sailed and asked for them last Tuesday. They had disappeared from the ship's safe. Capt. Robert Irving had the locker of John Cronin, 15 year old bellboy, searched and the jewelry was found there. Mrs. Higgins refused to sign a formal accusation, but he was turned over to the authorities at Southampton, England.

MOTHER-IN-LAW FORGIVES INJURY, SO HE GETS BRIDE

The bride smiled. The bridegroom blushed. His mother-in-law said she'd forget that she was injured by his car when she tried to halt the elopement last Dec. 20. And Linus and Lorraine Rehberg, kept apart by her parents since the day after the elopement, hurried out of the Will county Circuit court in Joliet yesterday to begin housekeeping.

Linus is 23. Lorraine's 19. They didn't know the bride's mother, Mrs. Fred Hossbach, had been injured, they said, until they returned to the Hossbach farm home in Green Gardens township in Will county after the wedding. Mrs. Hossbach got well, but kept the bride home.

The bridegroom, who lives in Monee, 20 miles from Joliet, got a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Edwin L. Wilson yesterday. Then the judge told them all they'd better let bygones be bygones. They decided they would.

FEDERAL COUPONS GIVEN

MANY TYPES OF SERVICE ARE Required

A CARPENTER with nothing but a hammer in his tool kit would not get very far in building a house.

And to provide satisfactory local transportation for a large city, no one type of service is sufficient.

Chicago is made up of many communities—business, industrial, densely populated and sparsely populated residential sections. The transportation needs of these communities are not the same.

Some of them require the movement of hundreds of thousands of people through congested streets in a short space of time. For these, operation on rails is essential for economy of operation, economy of street space, and speedier service.

In other communities, where the load factor is not so important and where passengers are carried relatively short distances to their destinations or to transfer points, operation by trolley bus or gas bus is more satisfactory.

To provide efficient city-wide service on the basis of one fare, local transportation management needs a full kit of tools.

STREET CARS TROLLEY BUSES, GAS BUSES . . . each type has its special function in local transportation

MOST of the service provided by the Chicago Surface Lines is on rails, because most of its lines pass through heavily populated sections and the average ride of the 2,000,000 passengers daily is four miles or more.

But the value of other types of service is fully recognized.

There were more rides on Surface Lines buses last year than on all the buses of the Chicago Motor Coach Company. The Surface Lines has the largest trolley bus system in the United States and it operates a large fleet of gasoline buses of various sizes.

It would be foolish to argue that the bus has no place in local transportation in large cities. It would be just as foolish to insist that operation on rails should be abandoned.

A properly functioning transportation service will fit the type of service to the needs of the community.

PARK LEVY SLASH FORECASTS NASH AND HORNER RIFT

Adamowski Leads Fight; Stands at $7,600,000.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—[Special.]—Development of a major breach between Gov. Henry Horner and the Nash-Kelly Cook county Democracy was forecast today after the house of representatives sliced the pegged levy for the Chicago park district from $9,000,000 to $7,600,000.

B. S. Adamowski.

The senate previously had passed the levy bill at $9,000,000 and doubt has been expressed that the senate would concur in the house's slash. Cook county Democrats, aided by a bloc of Republicans, including Elmer J. Schnackenberg, voted against the cut today but were defeated, 71 to 63. The governor's forces were led by Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, who apparently has severed his former tight allegiance to the Nash-Kelly organization.

McCabe Starts Battle.

The proposal to cut the levy to $7,600,000 was made by Edward J. McCabe, chief deputy to John S. Clark, Cook county assessor. McCabe, George A. Fitzgerald, chairman of the house insurance committee, and Peter P. Jezierny followed Adamowski into the Horner camp. Adamowski quoted the governor as saying he would veto any figure higher than 7 millions.

"Pegging" a levy means placing it at a certain figure and then adjusting tax rates to produce that revenue.

A month ago Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, told the house that unless the district was allowed to continue pegging its levy at 30 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, or was allowed a maximum of $9,000,000 annually—whichever was the greater—essential park services could not be continued nor could there be expenditures for necessary repairs and upkeep.

Fights Rise in Taxes.

McCabe, in his opposition to the peg, declared that west side Chicago property owners were being forced to bear the expense of park consolidation in 1934. He cited a jump in the tax rate for these citizens from 63 cents in 1934 to 99 cents in 1936.

Douglas Sutherland, head of the Chicago Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency, has contended that the levy would be $8,000,000 rather than $9,000,000. Like Gov. Horner, he has not suggested specific reductions, standing for an arbitrary slice.

Adamowski's long speech, explaining his action in wanting the levy slashed, was in answer to the assertion of Reed F. Cutler of Lewiston, downstate Republican leader, who said he believed Cook county should be given home rule and the right to finance its park system as it wished.

Tells Veto Threat.

"You people," Adamowski said, "favor home rule until Chicago asks for something which downstate doesn't approve. I want the house to know that Gov. Horner told me he would veto this bill if it came to him at a figure higher than $7,000,000.

"But I am not backing him in this attitude nor am I supporting a slash because of political reasons. The tax strike in Chicago is growing and Chicagoans are educating themselves to the fact that if they don't pay their taxes, nothing happens. I don't believe the people want a 9 million dollar levy for the parks and I think the parks should reduce their services."

McCabe then proposed and secured adoption of an amendment limiting the $7,600,000 levy to 1937 and 1938. Thus the park district will be in the same position as the board of education in 1939—the year Mayor Kelly's term expires. The district will have to ask for new pegs from the 61st general assembly. Gov. Horner still will be in office.

The park bill was sent to third reading today.

COUNTY SETS OUT TO GET 76 MILLION PAST DUE TAXES

Receiverships, Sales to Be Threatened.

County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer began a campaign yesterday to collect millions of dollars in delinquent real estate taxes as planned at recent conferences of officials. Letters will be sent to 948,887 taxpayers notifying them that their properties will be sold or placed in receivership unless taxes amounting to $76,500,000 are paid.

To accomplish this task, Mr. Lindheimer took over the second floor of the Ashland block at 155 North Clark street. A force of workers will be busy there for several months compiling lists and sending out letters of notification.

Property Posted For Sale.

The largest group of delinquent property owners numbers 900,000. Their property has been posted for sale for non-payment of 1935 taxes totaling $44,500,000. Taxes on many of these properties have been withheld because owners expect the County court to uphold objections to the tax levies next month.

Another group includes 28,887 property owners, who have been paying delinquent taxes under the six year plan. Mr. Lindheimer will notify them that failure to meet any installment will cancel the plan as it affects them, and put their property in line for sale or a tax receivership. It is estimated $7,000,000 in delinquent taxes is involved here.

Skarda Act to Be Invoked.

The two remaining classes are affected by provisions of the Skarda act, under which income producing properties may be placed in receivership until the taxes are paid. These two clcassifications have outstanding taxes of $25,000,000.

Twelve thousand of these properties have at one time or another been in receivership under the Skarda act, and the tax payments have been allowed to lag. The owners will be told that the receiverships will become active again unless delinquencies are met. Owners of another 8,000 income producing properties will be told the Skarda act will be invoked in their cases if delinquent taxes are not paid promptly.

WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

Remember This—It Takes More Than Price to Make a Value.

In these days when we hear so much of bargains—bargains—sales—sales—it is well to consider "value"—we believe a bargain to be an unusual offering caused by an unusual event or condition that actually forces a reduction in price—but not a reduction in "quality." On such an occasion one can buy quality at a sacrifice.

This warehouse sale is just such an occasion. We must vacate 10,000 feet of floor space. In order to do so it is absolutely necessary to sell approximately $350,000 worth of our stock.

PRICE FIXING FAILS AGAIN.

Everybody in New York state who has anything to do with the milk business—and that includes farmers, dealers, and consumers—has come to the conclusion that the state law regulating milk prices was a mistake. The law is about to expire and it will not be reënacted in any form. One more experiment in price-rigging has proved what all the other experiments along the same line have proved: it doesn't work. If the governor and legislature of New York four years ago had consulted any competent economist the mistake never would have been made. The outcome could have been forecast with perfect confidence.

The law was enacted at Albany about the time NRA and AAA were being enacted at Washington. The Supreme court sustained the state regulation as constitutional. It is not the court's business, as it often has said, to pass upon the wisdom or folly of a law. It is impossible to blame the court for the failure of milk control in New York.

The scheme failed because the idea was essentially unsound and unworkable. All sorts of subterfuges were adopted to evade the provisions of the law. Farmers willingly entered into agreements which effectively reduced the price they received for their milk. Fictitious coöperative societies were founded to promote the same objective. In spite of these and many similar dodges, the consumption of milk in New York declined. The only beneficiaries of the system were the burocrats who were paid for trying to make an impossible scheme function.

The record of such failures is a long one. The farm board found it impossible to maintain a fixed price for wheat or cotton, despite the half-billion dollars at its disposal. Efforts to rig the market for copper, tin, rubber, coffee, currants, tobacco, and many other commodities have always defeated themselves. Until the government is in a position to force the consumer to buy at a higher price than he is willing voluntarily to pay these efforts will always fail. An artificially high price means reduced consumption; and reduced consumption leaves a surplus of the commodity on the market which makes the control of the price ever more difficult.

The failure of the farm board should have warned against a repetition of the same mistake. It didn't because the pressure of interested groups for price fixing legislation is difficult for officeholders to resist. Perhaps the failure of milk control in New York will prove more serviceable as an example of economic error.

GOING BACKWARDS.

About two years ago congress decreed that interstate trucking must be comprehensively regulated. There was no public demand for such action, but squabbles among the truck lines and complaints of the railways furnished the necessary excuse. The situation was described as chaotic, so congress settled the dispute by shackling the antagonists. Since August, 1935, the various highway freighting corporations have been trying to whip some semblance of regularity into their rate structures, which had grown Topsy fashion under "get the business" necessities. Latest advices indicate that they have now reached a virtual agreement—to adopt railway rates.

As THE TRIBUNE has long argued, the decision could not be otherwise. Truckways parallel railways to offer similar services. For the interstate commerce commission to say that the rates on any given commodity shall be lower when the goods are forwarded by truck than when shipped by rail, or vice versa, would simply bring about an arbitrary allocation of business. Sealing wax would move by rail and cabbage by truck irrespective of local conditions. Fair regulation cannot function except under rate equality because dictated rate differences must create discrimination between the two types of carriers.

What has the public gained? Absolutely nothing. Cumbersome highway box cars will continue to lumber over roads that the taxpayer has built for his own use. There is no benefit unless consideration is given to some slight variations between rail and truck service that as frequently favor the one as the other. The inherent advantages of the truck were doomed the moment that congress passed the motor carrier act.

The motor truck is the errand boy of transportation. Its function is the more intimate collection and distribution of commodities for carriers that cannot, by their nature, proceed beyond the wharf, the end of the rail, or receiving tank of the pipe line. Such duties may involve intercity hauls where other forms of carriage are too clumsy or where the volume of business will not warant permanent railway construction, but to clothe the industry with the status of a major competitor is to invite disaster for both truck and rail. Regulation must fail where efficiency depends on irregularity.

Highway competition was steadily reconstructing the railways into more efficient transportation machines. If congress had genuinely desired to foster the process it could have done so through the removal of many of the petty restrictions that have grown up under railway regulation. Instead it chose to retard evolution. In the meantime we, the people, can continue to enjoy the use of our highways as best we may—between trucks.

KEEPING DIPLOMACY UNDER COVER.

The state department reveals that several of the leading powers have asked that there be no publication of the secret diplomatic correspondence of the last 15 years, and Dr. Cyril Wynne, chief of the division of research and publication, says that the American government will delay printing until the other nations regard the release prudent. Some material had been arranged for the press, but it will be withheld.

Fifteen years, in the opinion of European diplomats, is not a sufficient lapse of time to permit a natural pacification of emotions and reasonable reduction of consequences. Important persons might feel hurt or great interests suffer injury if everything written during a period of delicate negotiations found its way to the light of day.

Open covenants openly arrived at were much talked about at one time, but the prevailing opinion is that many conversations and the details of many diplomatic approaches are better not known at large while matters are in suspense or soon thereafter.

The spokesmen of states often say things to each other which would be badly received in other quarters, and diplomacy prefers to close the door and if possible keep some personages from even suspecting the nature of the talks and writings. If everything were to be open and above board, a country under discussion by the governments of two or more other nations might become irritated or alarmed and provoked to some hasty action out of resentment or fear.

Even after the crisis, if it has been one, has passed, the disclosure that a foreign minister had been proposing a disagreeable plan of action against a nation with whose representatives he was at the time upon the heartiest and most cordial terms of diplomatic interchange could conceivably make the party of the third part not only mad but highly suspicious in the next episode which came along. It seems to the diplomats advisable that for at least a generation there should be no acknowledgment of what has been going on.

At the same time all know suspicion is a diplomatic frame of mind and that each negotiator takes into account the reasonable probability that he will be double crossed by the man who so politely gives him assurance that everything is proceeding in the best of good will. Sometimes negotiators cover themselves up so well that even their own governments do not know what they have been doing.

There will never be a better illustration of this than that which came to light when the British cabinet found out that Grey of Fallodon had in his own opinion, but not to the knowledge of his associates, committed Great Britain to France prior to 1914 so that there was no moral escape from a war with Germany if the French were caught in it. The revelation was a great shock, but the British honored Grey's note.

Mr. Bryan when secretary of state thought it was most unfortunate that a misinterpreted version of what he said to the Austrian Ambassador Dumba regarding President Wilson's stern warning to Germany should reach the world, representing him as telling the central powers to understand that the President had to take a high tone, but that it was merely for its effect in the United States and not to be taken too seriously in Europe.

Personal feelings count for a great deal in serious national negotiations and men who live long after events in which they were prominent actors still do not like to read of conversations and proposals which they think put them in a bad light. It is also interesting to reflect that governments do many things when they are trying to obtain benefits or avoid losses which they would prefer not to be known until the healing effect of time has given the acts the benefit of history.

Editorial of the Day

THE CONSUMER MUST PAY.

[Illinois State Journal.]

Leon Henderson, chief of research and planning in the National Recovery administration, is credited with having worked out a program adoption of which is expected to stay the rocketing of prices and the impairment of consumer purchasing power.

The program includes federal action in several directions to prevent or curb monopolistic practices. It is proposed, for instance, to discriminate against monopolies in the purchase of government supplies; to remove protection from monopolistic price-boosters; to increase taxes on excess profits; to so change patent laws that they can't be used to maintain excessive prices; to encourage consumer coöperatives and to extend the government's activities as a competitor in industry and business.

These suggestions, of course, are supplemental to proposals to enforce the anti-monopoly laws against combinations in restraint of trade. They are made, apparently, on the assumption that the government will not make use of the old weapons, enforcement of which would prevent the creation of monopolies. The idea seems to be to "breed big sheep for shearing."

Whether the plan can be worked out to the advantage of the consumer is a matter of speculation. We confess our inability to understand how any process of government toleration and regulation of monopolies can help the consumer. It may create a source of easy income for the government, but the consumer will continue to pay.

ANOTHER CLASSIC.

Mrs. McSquires, who lived down in Indiana long years ago, was as fine and thrifty a housewife as ever served fried chicken, gravy and potatoes for Sunday breakfast. She was normally of a serene temperament, but a revival meeting would set her soul on fire. Father remembers one time when she was completely carried away by the preacher's message. Up jumped the good woman—yes, right from a front pew—and cried: "Oh, Lord, come down to us. Oh, Lord, come right down through the roof—and I'll pay for the shingles!" Ralph Noel.

SUGAR SLEET.

I heard a spaced and sharp staccato beat
Upon my farmhouse roof; now half asleep
I asked myself: "Is that a mouse's feet
Within the walls or can it be the sheep
Are running through the feed-lot?" I awoke—
The moon was gone; I saw the stars no more
Above the huge crest of the dooryard oak
Where they had hung an hour or so before.

I left my bed and then against the pane
I flattened out my nose and tried to peer
Out in the blackness; no, it wasn't rain—
Could it be snow? I felt that weather-fear
That often comes when seeding time draws nigh;
Then silence came; the sleet cloud had ebbed by.

PROMISE UNFULFILLED.

Van Lear Brink, some forty years ago, was the most promising lawyer in Hometown. He could make a jury (of farmers) weep over the death of a cow hit by a railroad cowcatcher; he could wind himself about with legal language and make the hardbitten judges of two circuits see obscure points of law his way. . . . But Lawyer Brink had his fault. He drank. Regularly, at closing time Saturday nights, Gus the saloonkeeper and Bill the bartender guided him to Jethro's livery stable and eased him into a surrey. A colored boy known as Willie then took him home. The folk said that if Brink would leave liquor alone he would be the greatest lawyer in the state. They really believed it. . . . As he neared the age of starting to live over again Van Lear Brink reformed. He quit drinking whisky. He became a model of punctuality, of attention to business. His knowledge increased. But strangely enough, the folk no longer looked on him as a legal prodigy. He was just a common mortal. Undoubtedly his life was happier and richer, but his practice didn't grow and his influence with juries actually became less. In some vague way he had offended Hometown by failing to live up to its cherished idea of what he could have been.

CHARLEY HORSES AND GLASS ARMS.

NO one has as yet made a more skilful or a smoother acting machine than the human muscle. It uses with a high degree of efficiency energy delivered to it by the circulation and stored within its fibers. Under exercise body starch [glycogen] is changed into lactic acid and certain other substances produce phosphoric acid. We can understand, therefore, that the longer exertion continues the more acid will these structures contain. During rest these fatigue products are disposed of and the battery [the muscle] is, in a sense, recharged.

Of course we can use our contractile organs to the point of exhaustion [acidity] when they will cease to operate, but if the circulation is good we can keep them active for long periods of time, the venous blood [return flow] carrying away waste materials and aiding their exit from the body. Whenever fatigue comes on quickly we may know that either the supply of fuel [glycogen] is inadequate or that the circulation finds difficulty in getting rid of the accumulated acid.

There is a lot in training. If one unaccustomed to physical labor attempts to do a hard day's work, on the next day the muscles will be sore and stiff and unable to function. The reason is obvious. The compounds of fatigue have not been entirely withdrawn.

Whenever tissue is used beyond its power of rapid recovery damage is likely to ensue. We call this situation a strain and the popular term, "charley horse," characterizes the condition. There will be not only stiffness and soreness but swelling, or even an inflammatory reaction. Cramps are brought on by a sudden or improperly directed impulse; for example, when an effort does not meet the expected resistance.

Sometimes the circulation is deficient and pain, with or without spasms, may appear even though physical activity is held below the fatigue level. This explains why rest periods are needed, and certainly no one should exercise to the point where exhaustion is likely to ensue.

There are all sorts of injuries that go under "trade" names. A baseball pitcher is said to have a "glass arm." There may be no history of an accident, that is, a blow from without. On the other hand a powerful contraction has occurred, the result of a supreme effort within the body. If a pitcher throws a fast, curved ball and feels at the same time a sudden, sharp pain at the top of the shoulder the chances are that the attachment of the biceps muscle has been loosened. Sometimes the situation is called a strained or a "pulled" tendon. When a high jumper complains of a similar type of distress in the back of the thigh there may be positive damage to the muscle tendons in that area.

In injuries that befall us because of physical effort, cold applications form the best preliminary treatment. They should be applied before much swelling appears. Otherwise there is little value in cold. Later as snug a bandage as can be borne without pain should be adjusted and the affected part elevated. All bandages should be well padded, and any semi-elastic fabric—one that will exert pressure—is satisfactory. Rubbing with the palm of the hand also is helpful. It relieves discomfort, helps to carry away blood from the tissues, and usually prevents further [beneath the skin] bleeding.

Subsequent treatment consists largely of rest, heat, and massage. As soon as pain has disappeared entirely exercises may be prescribed. These may be carried out even though there is considerable swelling, the object being to prevent adhesions and to keep the soft parts in good tone. Electrical treatments are tantamount to exercise.

The old adage "pain means stop" holds good. But just as soon as it disappears slight motions may be begun and usually two or three weeks will suffice for the subsidence of all symptoms.

GIRDLE MAY HELP.

C. C. writes: I am a stationary fireman and have been troubled lately with my back. After I have been in a crouched position for a few minutes it is difficult to straighten up. The discomfort is felt near the hip line. There are a number of such cases among stokers. After some of the boys went to physicians they were told to quit this kind of work, but this is impossible.

REPLY.

There are many causes of back pain, but posture is probably the chief one. Varying the position of the body may help. Try to distribute the weight so that it does not always fall in the same place or places. Massage is of value, but it should be daily and heat therapy will help unless the underlying muscle strain is relieved. A well fitting girdle support or brace may prove advantageous.

BLIND BOIL.

C. E. writes: I have something like a blind boil on the back between the shoulder blades. What causes these blemishes? Is there anything I could draw it out with?

REPLY.

If the part is inflamed use hot packs or poultices. Sometimes a sebaceous gland will enlarge and form a sizable pocket which becomes filled with cheesy matter. These affairs will discharge their contents periodically. Surgical removal or cauterization may be required. The usual cause is infection, although anything that plugs the outlet of an oil gland—such as dirt or skin débris—may be responsible.

HEADACHE.

H. M. W. writes: What causes a headache that is present on waking, but which wears away as the day progresses? It is not from constipation or dissipation. I am 47 years old.

REPLY.

Among the causes are: A badly ventilated bedroom, the leakage of coal gas or fumes from a coke stove or gas fire, and eye trouble. Pillows piled too high may interfere with the circulation and result in headache. Persistent morning headache may be associated with chronic nephritis and a careful check of the urine should be made.

EAR TROUBLE.

R. Y. writes: About seven years ago I had a mastoid operation and ever since my left ear has bothered me. I have had several doctors look at it and they tell me nothing is wrong. I apply hot applications without relief. I suffer severely from the cold. My ear becomes stuffy and it seems to affect my speech.

REPLY.

Did your physicians examine your nose, throat, and Eustachian tubes? Your symptoms suggest a blocking of the upper respiratory passages.

20 Years Ago Today

MARCH 31, 1917.

WASHINGTON.—It is to be war with Germany. President Wilson and his cabinet decided unanimously that there is no recourse but an appeal to arms to vindicate American rights denied by Germany and to protect the United States from the enmity manifested by numerous hostile acts on the part of the Berlin government. Mr. Wilson will appear before congress as soon as possible to have the joint session declare hostilities exist.

BERLIN.—"Foregone conclusion" were the words heard from the lips of responsible persons when asked for their views concerning the prospects of an American war against Germany. Germans never talk of a German war against America, but invariably speak of the United States as the one intending war against them.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of War Baker called into the federal service the Twenty-third and Forty-seventh New York infantry regiments, the first squadron of the First New York cavalry, the Sixth Massachusetts infantry, Battries D and F, Connecticut field artillery, and battery A, Georgia field artillery.

LONDON.—A dispatch from Copenhagen says a communication from Helsingfors confirms the report that the Russian executive committee's investigation commission found that former Premier Sturmer received $9,000,000 to bring about a separate peace with Germany.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence if more than one letter is written each should be complete in itself. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

TERMS OF WILL.

Chicago, March 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In drawing a will in Illinois, how much must a husband or wife leave to the spouse surviving when estate consists of real estate and personal property?

1. Must this be, in both cases, a gift in fee simple, or may it be a life interest?

2. In willing a life interest, may the will deny or curtail the power to sell, mortgage, or dispose of?

3. If willing property outright, can the testator still curtail this power?

4. I know that a farm, as real estate, includes the buildings and immovable belongings. But what about the cows, horses, tools, equipment, grain in bins, etc.? If a testator wills his real estate to one and personalty to another, which way do the cows, etc, go?

5. Two persons wish to dissolve a certain joint tenancy. Do they take out in proportion as they had put in, or must they divide equally?

6. While the joint tenancy is still in effect, can either party dispose of the property, or any part of it, by will?

7. In drawing a will, if a list of small gifts is to be appended, must that list also be not only signed but witnessed?

8. At all events, if it has been mentioned in the body of the will that it is to be appended and that it is to be considered a part of the will, is it then sufficient if it simply is signed by the testator and not witnessed? J. F. C.

1. As a practical matter it is to the interest of the testator to make the gift valuable enough so that it will not be to the advantage of the spouse to renounce the gift and take instead under the statute. Another way of putting it is that the testator is offering to purchase the spouse's renunciation right.

2. Yes, but an attorney should be employed in the drafting of such wording.

3. Same.

4. The will should contain express wording on these points.

5. Depends on the facts. It would be possible for parties to contribute unequally but to agree that they should share equally.

6. There have been decisions to the effect that the making of the will indicates an intent to break the joint tenancy or destroy the survivorship feature. We could advise to better advantage if you had stated the facts on which your question arises.

7. We see no reason for the appendix and in general we would advise against it.

8. Questions would be likely to be raised as to the identity of the appendix, whether it had been altered after the execution of the will, etc.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

DR. TOWNSEND.

Chicago, March 23.—The Townsend editorial in today's issue disregards very pertinent facts.

Townsend's own associates admitted at the trial before the District of Columbia court that this saintly man, in a conference with his associates several days before his appearance at the congressional hearing, decided on this walkout. The theory was that such an action on his part, if he got away with it, would enhance his position with his boob followers, and if, by luck, he landed in jail, then he would, of course, become a martyr and more and more morons would be sending in their dimes and quarters.

It didn't work out just that way, and the saintly doctor will have to do the best he can with the halo you are handing him. A. B. NORWALK.

PROPERTY IN THE JOB.

Elgin, Ill., March 26.—I object to the manner in which you use the term "private property" in connection with the sitdown strike issue.

Should not a man's job be considered private property? I believe that after a man works for a company a few years he is dependent upon the company for his existence. The company should pay him a living wage—not a wage that only allows him to exist, but a wage that enables him to live in a true American way—and guarantee him the right to work as long as he is physically able. In other words, the job would be the workers' property as much as the stockholders'.

Of course, you can call this communism or socialism, but I believe it to be conservatism. The term means to conserve or to save. This would tend to conserve the capitalistic form of government instead of breeding discontent, which ultimately will lead to radicalism. I'm sure if the employer would see the issue in this light it would be to his benefit as well as that of the men in his employ. PAUL BOSNYK.

MR. DIETERICH'S STATESMANSHIP.

Chicago, March 26.—Senator Dieterich of Illinois let it be known to his constituents back home that his views on the packing of the Supreme court of the United States are not based on the necessity of such a move or even to the extent such a move may impair the validity or rightful interpretation of the constitution of the United States until he had all of his political trading successfully accomplished. A senator in the senate of the United States should be above the embroilments characteristic of precinct politics, but there are many who never rise above this atmosphere of political perversion and in late years the United States senate has afforded not a few examples of this type. E. T. SNOHR.

AIRPLANE ACCIDENTS.

Chicago, March 26.—One thing that cannot be said, as transport planes fall like autumn leaves to the ground, is that these ships were built in some one's back yard by a novice or that the pilots were Sunday drivers. It seems to me that there is more "gravity" to this situation than the aviation people are willing to realize. L. R. OLSEN.

THE VOICE OF THE FAR WEST.

Seattle, Wash., March 24.—There is hardly a thinking man or woman in the country today who is not beginning to understand that Mr. Roosevelt is not serious in his demands that the Supreme court be changed as he has suggested, and that in his advocacy of these changes he is but looking for an alibi to cover the waste and gross incompetency of his administration.

He realizes that the rank and file of the American people are much too intelligent to permit any one to convert the Supreme court of the land into a rubber stamp. He does not want anything of the kind himself, and he feels quite sure no one else does.

Then what does he want? Simply this: To set up a bogey man in the form of the Supreme court, who is to be blamed for all of the blunders of his administration. He wants to be in a position to tell the dear people of the many wonderful things he would have done for them if the court would only have let him do them.

According to his own words one-third of the people of the land today are underprivileged. Before election we were told by him that we were enjoying great prosperity. He was not sincere when he made one of these two conflicting statements any more than he is now sincere in advocating a change in the Supreme court.

By a profligate spending of the public funds he created a false prosperity, the same sort of prosperity a drunken soldier enjoys as long as his coin holds out. But now the money is gone and we cannot have any more purchased prosperity. So what? The answer is the bogey man. E. W. HAZARD.

BULLFIGHTING.

Chicago, March 26.—Recently Chicago papers have carried pictures of bullfighting staged in Mexico.

It may be remembered that an attempt was made to bring this barbarous sport to Riverview park in July, 1934.

Several shows were given, all of which were poorly attended. Legal action followed the performance of July 2, and on July 11 Judge Erwin Hasten, at the Shakespeare avenue court, ruled that in compliance with the humane laws of Illinois there would be no bullfighting in this state. At that time Gov. Horner stated that he was absolutely opposed to bullfighting in any form, in which stand he was supported by the governors of 32 states and humane organizations and individuals, not only in the United States but also Canada. Since the decent element of society unhesitatingly repudiates this type of so called sport, why should our newspapers perfidiously advertise it? MRS. E. C. DOW.

TWO ROOSEVELTS.

Libertyville, Ill., March 26.—During the great teamsters' strike in Chicago Theodore Roosevelt, in a public speech before the Hamilton club, said to Mayor Dunne: "And you, Mr. Mayor [Dunne], may know that in maintenance of law and order you have the full power of the federal government behind you."

Did Gov. Murphy have any such assurance, and if not, why? ANXIOUS INQUIRER.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE LAW FILED IN SENATE

Provides Tax on Labor and Employers.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—[Special.]—An unemployment insurance act for Illinois, certain provisions of which labor leaders already have announced they will oppose, was introduced in the Illinois senate late this afternoon by Senators John M. Lee, Chicago, and Robert M. Harper, East Moline, both Democrats.

The measure provides for contributions by both employers and employés to a fund that would be kept by the state treasurer. Employers would pay 3.3 per cent of pay rolls for the six months beginning July 1, this year, after which the rate would be 2.7 per cent. Employés would pay 1 per cent of wages beginning in 1940.

Benefits Start in 1939.

Benefits would become payable after July 1, 1939. Maximum benefits are $15 a week for 13 weeks after the employé has waited for a period of three weeks from time of layoff. An employé who quit his position or was fired for misconduct would be disqualified from receiving aid for five weeks. An employé also would be disqualified from one to five weeks if he failed to apply for work when so directed by the state director of labor.

"The rates fixed in the bill," said Martin P. Durkin, director of labor, "are necessary to obtain a 90 per cent credit from the federal government on the amount paid in to it by employers. Employers in Illinois now are paying to the federal government for unemployment insurance, and this bill guarantees that 90 per cent of what they are paying will come back to the state."

Horner Overrules Mme. Perkins.

Gov. Horner is said to have overruled Mme. Perkins, secretary of labor, in the draft of the Illinois bill. Durkin and labor representatives conferred in Washington with the secretary, according to the story told here, and she insisted that the bill levy a tax on employers alone.

The governor on their return retorted that a tax on employés would be included so they would be aware the insurance was in effect. The tax on the employés is in the bill, but Reuben G. Soderstrom, State Federation of Labor president, has announced he will fight to have it taken out.

Commenting today on the decision of the United States Supreme court upholding minimum wage legislation, Director Durkin said it would have no legislative effect in Illinois because this state already has a minimum wage act for women and minors. It was passed in 1933 and is already effective in the macaroni, laundry, and beauty culture industries.

Senator Lee's bill to establish an eight hour working day for women in the state, which the Chicago Association of Commerce was reported today to be opposing because it discriminates against Illinois, is on second reading in the senate. The present law is ten hours.

Slander Defendant

Mrs. Florence Johnston testifying about rug cleaner's kiss in Superior court, where she is the defendant in a slander suit.

Mrs. Florence Johnston, 40 years old, testified yesterday in the Superior court that she received an unwelcome kiss on Sept. 25, 1934, from Haig O. Cartozian, Evanston rug cleaner, who lives at 1419 Sherman avenue, in the suburb. Cartozian is suing Mrs. Johnston for $25,000 damages, charging slander. Judge William J. Wimbiscus of Spring Valley is hearing the case.

Mrs. Johnston testified Cartozian came to her home at 9114 North La Crosse street, Niles Center, to estimate the cost of cleaning her rugs.

"He suddenly kissed me," she said, "and told me I looked like his wife who is dead. I pushed him away."

Three policemen were called by the plaintif to testify that Mrs. Johnston told them Cartozian had tried to molest her. She summoned the police to retrieve her rugs which Cartozian had taken for cleaning the day after the alleged kissing incident.

CITY MANAGER HEARING HITS QUORUM SNAG

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—[Special.]—Lack of a quorum in the municipalities committee of the Illinois house today cut short a hearing on bills that would permit cities to adopt the city manager form of government. A further hearing will be held by the committee as a special order of business next Wednesday.

When the question of a lack of a quorum was raised by Rep. Stanley A. Halick [D., Chicago] only nine of the 31 committee members were in the room. The scarcity of members led Representative William G. Thon [R., Chicago] to charge that committeemen were "ducking" sessions on the bills.

"'Sure, they are 'ducking'," retorted Representative Arthur J. Quinn [D., Chicago]. "But they should be here to extend to those who want to comment on the bills the courtesy of a hearing, and then vote either for or against the bills. I think we'll have a better attendance next week."

DRIVE IS BEGUN FOR REPEAL OF 1c U. S. GAS TAX

Schnackenberg Cites 11 Millions Paid Here.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—[Special.]—Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago], minority house leader, introduced a resolution in the general assembly this afternoon to memorialize congress to repeal the 1 cent federal gasoline tax and other automotive excises. It was referred to committee.

"These taxes," said Mr. Schnackenberg, "were enacted in 1933 as an emergency measure. President Roosevelt's administration, in urging congress to enact the revenue bills, said the laws would be temporary only. Four years is a long time to continue an emergency impost.

17 Millions Yearly Here.

"The federal taxes are a burden when added to the motor fuel excise and license fees paid to the state. In Illinois, this 1 cent per gallon paid to the government amounts to approximately 11 million dollars a year, while the excises on new cars, trucks, parts, accessories, tires, and lubricating oil account for 6 millions more."

The American Automobile association has opened a national campaign for repeal of these federal taxes, which last year aggregated approximately 279 million dollars.

"Unfair and Discriminatory."

"It is a gross breach of faith for congress to continue these excises," said a bulletin from Thomas P. Henry of Detroit, president of the association.

"The levy is unfair in that it is a special tax upon motorists for which they receive no special benefits.

"It is discriminatory against automotive transportation in that there is not a similar excise on other forms of transportation.

"It is burdensome in that motorists are heavily taxed by states in addition to the federal excise."

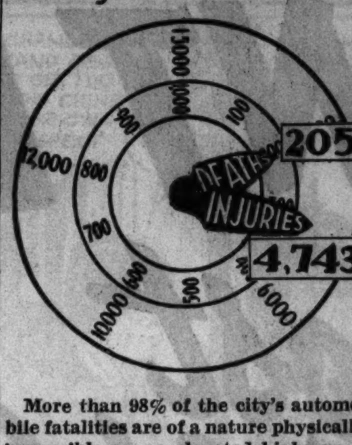
THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1937 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

MISSOURI MAYOR MAIMED BY AUTO BOMB EXPLOSION

Kirksville, Mo., March 30.—[Special.]—Mayor Gail H. Jacobs was critically injured when his automobile exploded today, supposedly from explosive placed in or near the motor in an attempt to assassinate him. The victim's left leg was broken in fifteen places near the ankle, his right leg was broken, and his left arm mangled. His condition is critical.

The blast, which the mayor was unable to explain, occurred as he stepped on the starter. It was heard all over the city. The explosion shattered the car motor and the garage building behind Jacobs' home and broke windows in the house.

No remains of a bomb were found by police, but since the crank case was shattered they theorized a high explosive may have been put in the motor or dynamite placed under the hood beside it. Science professors at the Kirksville State Teachers' college said the motor and frame were torn in a manner which would make dynamiting the most plausible theory.

SPEEDING AUTO OVERTURNS; TWO SERIOUSLY HURT

Two men who witnesses said were racing another car at mile a minute speed in Washington boulevard were critically hurt last night when their machine brushed the other and overturned twice at Hoyne avenue. The occupants, who both suffered fractured skulls, are Daniel Erickson, 46 years old, 5643 North Kostner avenue, and Edward Jones, 26, of 6516 Kimbark avenue, the driver. They were taken to Washington boulevard hospital.

Howard Haas, 30 years old, 7240 St. Lawrence avenue, died in a hospital at Vandalia, Ill., yesterday of injuries incurred on Sunday when his automobile left a highway near there and overturned. Haas was in charge of wiring buildings on the new state penal farm near Vandalia.

Henry Howard, colored, 89 years old, 1633 Union avenue, Chicago Heights, died in St. James hospital in Chicago Heights yesterday of trafic injuries suffered on Friday. Howard walked against the moving automobile of Louis Benedict, 1612 Center street, Chicago Heights, at 16th and Wallace streets in that suburb.

O. E. Buckley, 19 years old, colored, 3446 Prairie avenue, died yesterday in County hospital after he was struck Monday night by an automobile at 63d street and Western avenue. Earl Seaberg, 5481 Dorchester avenue, the driver, was told to attend the inquest.

By 4 p. m. yesterday 255 persons had been killed by motor vehicles in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. Of this total, Chicago's toll for the period was 205 deaths and 4,743 injuries.

Driver Gets 5 Days in Jail to Repent Recklessness

Joseph Agic, 30 years old, 5618 West 64th street, was sentenced by George B. Weiss in the Safety court yesterday to five days in jail for reckless driving. Fines of $5 each were levied against two men who were in Agic's car when he was arrested while driving erratically at 95th street and Ashland avenue on Monday. They are Agic's brother, Paul, of the 64th street address, and Joseph Stanton, 5524 West 63d street.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, March 30.—History was made today as the Pan-American Clipper completed its first journey of 7,000 miles from San Francisco to New Zealand on an exploratory flight.

The trip was made to determine the practicability of the route for establishing regular mail and passenger service from the United States to New Zealand—a trip requiring three or four days. Here it would connect with the Imperial Airways service through Australia, India, the near east, continental Europe, and Great Britain. In fact, the lines of future air travel were being drawn across continents and oceans as the giant clipper landed.

New Zealand Cheers Flight.

New Zealand welcomed the clipper and its pilot, Capt. Edwin C. Musick, with wild enthusiasm. The flight was thrilling and spectacular, but a far greater consideration will be shown in such a world airway in five or ten years as air travel grows.

This is no new travel route, for the same line was sailed by windjammers and traveled by liners of the United States, Canada, New Zealand, Australia since Pacific trade and travel was opened. As for surface craft, so with aircraft, the route via New Zealand is a logical, rapid travel line.

In a few weeks Imperial Airways service between England and Australia will be speeded up by new, fast empire flying boats. It has been announced that one will make a survey flight of 1,200 miles across the Tasman sea to Auckland shortly.

Route Across Tasman Sea.

A trans-Tasman route has been discussed for several years, but the establishment of a trans-Pacific air line insures early fulfilment of a connection across the Tasman sea with Imperial Airways. Thus will be completed a final link of another air girdle down the Pacific, then to Europe and across the Atlantic to New York.

Auckland enjoyed a holiday in expectation of the arrival of the Pan-American Clipper and its crew of five.

The plane took off at 5:03 a. m. [11:33 a. m. Monday Chicago time] from Pago Pago, American Samoa, and landed at 5 p. m. [11:30 p. m. Monday Chicago time]. The distance is 1,797 miles.

On its flight from California the Clipper paused at Honolulu, Kingman Reef, and Pago Pago.

The Clipper is expected to fly to Wellington, the capital of New Zealand, on a courtesy call Friday. The plane will return the same day. The ship's crew will be given an official welcome here tomorrow and another one at Wellington. The Clipper probably will hop for Pago Pago on Saturday on its return flight.

JAPAN MAKES SEAWEED FIBER.

Seaweed, long a food in Japan, has now become the basis for a new fiber industry there. It is converted into a fiber used in hose, sails and other materials.

End Old Quarrel

UNAWARE WHEN NAMED PLAINTIF, SAYS SONSTEBY

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court had no idea Attorney W. Breen would include him in a suit for return of pay cuts the Municipal court judges took when economy was in favor. In fact, the chief justice did not vote to sue the city for the back pay.

Judge Sonsteby made these assertions yesterday before Judge Grover C. Niemeyer of the Superior court, where Breen is seeking to collect a 10 per cent fee from fourteen Municipal judges and former judges.

He succeeded through court action in having pay cuts totaling $180,617 returned to forty-four judges. Twenty-three paid the fee at once. Seven others paid up after he started suit. But the remaining fourteen, whom he is suing, have refused to settle.

38 SENIORS HERE FROM GRINNELL IN STUDY OF JOBS

Thirty-eight Grinnell college seniors invaded Chicago's business districts yesterday to find out what will be expected of them when they hunt jobs in June, and what they may expect of employers. The four day visit, sponsored jointly by the Grinnell Alumni association and the Rotary club of Chicago, is part of an experiment in advanced vocational study.

"The object," said John Canning Jr., alumni chairman, "is to learn what opportunities of specialized and technical training are or will be open to college graduates. The students are not looking for jobs."

The students questioned industrial, professional, and business leaders about desired qualities in their lines of activity, with particular stress on training.

HITLER PATCHES UP QUARREL WITH GEN. LUDENDORFF

Warrior Praises Peace Treaty Scrapping.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MUNICH, Germany, March 30.—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Gen. Erich Friedrich Wilhelm Ludendorff, one time allies in Hitler's unsuccessful Munich beer hall putsch in 1923 and then long parted, again have joined forces.

They have held a comprehensive discussion "to remove difficulties and misunderstandings" and an official communique today said it "had the desired result."

It is generally expected that the reconciliation will be followed by the appointment of Ludendorff to an advisory military position. Some predict that the general, who was Hindenburg's chief of staf on both the eastern and western fronts during the world war, will now accept the field marshal's baton which he refused to take from Hitler two years ago.

Praises Pact Renunciation.

In the course of their conference Ludendorff told Der Fuehrer how greatly he welcomed the "liberating deed of tearing up the scandalous pact of Versailles." The warrior, who will be 72 years old next month, praised the reintroduction of military conscription and the fact that Germany "again is master of the Rhine."

Ludendorff spoke of his efforts to "establish the spiritual harmony of the German people to make them faithful and [to make them] fulfill their serious tasks."

Hitler in his reply expressed pleasure that Nazi Germany and its fighting forces had reëstablished trustful personal contact with the military leader of imperial Germany.

[Although originally a follower of Hitler, Ludendorff turned against the Nazis when they ascended to power four years ago. His bitter criticism of many of Hitler's policies angered party leaders. The general is a neopaganist and is leader of a "Germanic faith" cult.]

Picks Coronation Envoys.

Der Fuehrer, meanwhile, appointed an all-military German delegation to the coronation of King George VI. of Great Britain on May 12. It consists of Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg, minister of war, Admiral Otto Schultze, commander of the North sea station, and Maj. Gen. Hans Stumpff of the new air force.

Marshal von Blomberg personally will represent Hitler. This caused some surprise, as it was expected that Der Fuehrer's right hand man, Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister of air and commissar of the four year plan for economic self-sufficiency, would lead the delegation. But the attacks on Goering in the British house of commons apparently showed that this appointment would not be desirable.

Gives Example of Easy Errors in Graphology

Lone Characteristic May Tell Two Qualities.

BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright, 1937, by Muriel Stafford.]

One characteristic in a handwriting often will express two completely unconnected qualities. Often the graphologist must choose her definition carefully. Today's sample of handwriting shows a complication of the type that keeps the study of human beings through handwriting intriguing and fascinating.

Cautioned
to guard

As you will notice, the letter "a" is closed carefully in the word "cautioned," yet the letter "o" is wide open at the top.

Wide open letter tops are an indication of either an outspoken and somewhat talkative nature or one that is exceedingly generous.

Usually BOTH generosity and tendency to talk freely are indicated by wide open letter tops. In this particular case I marked both qualities without considering that tightly locked "a" and the many indications of tact and suavity revealed in the handwriting as a whole.

You can't afford to overlook anything when you are analyzing a handwriting. Remember that if you are taking up graphology as a hobby. This young lady promptly wrote back, "On what basis was I cautioned to guard against being too outspoken and frank? That part of the analysis did not seem to agree with the other qualities checked."

She's right. Any one with as "smooth" a personality, as keen a mind, and as cultured a nature as her handwriting reveals does not need to "guard against being outspoken." She's so charming and [as her locked "a" reveals] so discreet that her outspokenness is never a quality that her friends would notice or condemn.

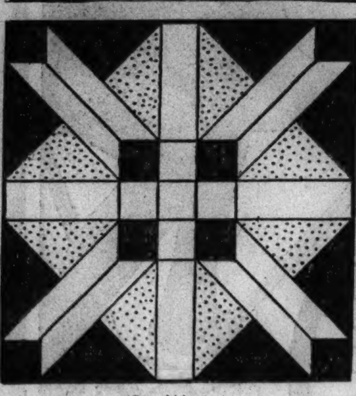
Yet I still suspect she speaks her mind at times or she wouldn't have written to tell me that one quality didn't agree with the others!

Your Handwriting Analyzed

Any Tribune reader can obtain a personal graphology chart showing his or her assets, handicaps, talents, and emotions by following these rules:

1. Send sample of handwriting to Muriel Stafford, Chicago Tribune, postoffice box 1720.
2. Inclose 10 cents (carefully wrapped) for each sample of handwriting you wish analyzed.
3. Inclose a self-addressed, STAMPED envelope, folded once.

Quilt Expresses the Loneliness of Its Creator



Far West.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Loneliness inspired the theme of this lovely pieced pattern. An Englishwoman came west to Ohio with her husband after having been married in the east. She designed this pattern and, when she finished the quilt, she made these pieced blocks, sent it back home, and called it the "Far West" block. It became quite popular in the middle west as well as in the east and around the vicinity of the young girl's former home. The thirty pieced blocks are set together with three inch blue bands, and finished with a five inch border and a half inch, dark blue bias binding.

Today's Quick Menu Aid to Bachelor Girl

Creates Delightful Meal in a Short Time.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

There aren't any old maids nowadays. That is, there aren't any of the 1900 variety, who, having reached the age of 25 as "unclaimed blessings" must resign themselves to forlorn contemplation of yellowing linens stored away in well stocked "hope chests."

Today's old maid often as not is married. The term now is applied in general to the "fussy" person, who may even be a member of the huskier sex.

The 1937 bachelor girl is no "unclaimed blessing!" Lack of a husband causes her no humiliation. She may even prefer to lack one! Gone are the days when every girl child was trained to cling to her family as an apple to an apple tree, until some young man happened along to pluck her from the bough and cherish her forever afterward.

Today's girl often grows up without ever having darned a sock, scrubbed a floor, or baked a pie. And whether she remains single or takes to large or small scale housekeeping, she isn't at all appalled by her lack of preparation. On the contrary, she enjoys the new challenge and usually meets it with competence, especially where cookery is concerned. For cookery nowadays is simpler, and a great deal more fun than it used to be. Years of training, though they may be of great value, aren't always necessary to produce a good cook.

The most inexperienced bride or business girl won't have a speck of trouble with tonight's quick-to-prepare menu. Nothing listed here requires any particular knack or skill, yet the meal will be nourishing and enjoyable.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S MENU.
Grapefruit Juice
Waffles Sirup
Vienna Sausages [canned]
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Fruit Whip
Coffee

Waffles are easily mixed from any standard recipe, or they may be made from a prepared waffle mix. Very appetizing and quite inexpensive Vienna sausages may be purchased in the can and, with a brief period of reheating, they are ready for the table.

The stuffed tomato salad may be made by using almost any leftover vegetables, cooked or raw, for the sake of convenience. A good combination for a simple stuffed tomato salad consists of diced cucumber, slivers of green pepper, and the scooped out tomato pulp with mayonnaise. A cabbage slaw filling also is good. Such a salad as this one takes care of the vegetable situation very well.

Here is a simple recipe for a fruit whip. Prunes, apricots or any dried or fresh fruit or mixture of fruits may be used to make it. The following recipe suggests prunes.

Prune Whip.
[Serves Four.]

- ⅔ cup cooked ground prunes
- 3 egg whites
- ½ cup whipping cream, sweetened
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ tablespoon lemon juice

Beat the egg whites until stiff, add the sugar gradually, and continue to beat for a few minutes. Whip the cream and fold it with the ground prunes into the egg whites. Add lemon juice, pile mixture into sherbet glasses, and leave in the refrigerator until dessert time.

Governor General of Canada Guest at White House

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—The governor general of Canada and Lady Tweedsmuir arrived late today from Ottawa for an official visit of two days at the White House.

The visit is in return for the one made by the President to the governor general in Canada last summer and it is providing an opportunity in intervals of official engagements for personal conversations.

President Roosevelt said at his press conference that they would discuss everything.

The visit is the first to the White House of a governor general of Canada and the first to Washington since the governor general and Viscountess Willingdon were guests here in November, 1927.

The governor general and Lady Tweedsmuir will be the honor guests at a state dinner at the White House tomorrow night. They dined informally there tonight with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt after an informal tea. Present at the dinner tonight were Katharine Cornell and other guests invited for the presentation to the actress of the Chi Omega achievement award.

This Is Good Year to Gain Individuality

All Fashions Conspire in Assisting You.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Just before writing this I spent an hour looking over the latest and smartest style magazines and the experience leaves me with the impression that if a woman can't find her metier this year she's never going to find it.

Never have I seen such a diversity of style in hats, frocks, color accessory notes. You can turn yourself out as tailored as your best known Beau Brummel. You can appear more romantic in the evening than you ever did in your life before. You can envelop yourself in some eighty-odd yards of chiffon, as one Paris house presented a frock in its collection, if you have the necessary dollars to cover the excess yardage.

Or, you can be romantic without all that spread of chiffon yardage. You can appear as tall as a totem pole and just as plentifully striped. You can go Roman striped to your heart's content.

What you can do with your head by way of hats and coiffures, well, you figure it out. And that's what I'm getting at. You can figure it out, for in all this panorama of fashions there's something upon which to exercise your own individual skill and appearance. You can be an individual somebody this year if ever you could.

Critic Praises 2 New Shows at Arts Club

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Two delightful exhibitions opened yesterday at the Arts club. In the large gallery are gathered illustrations proving the versatility, ability, and talent of modern painters and sculptors when they turn illustrators. In the little galleries are the "conversation" paintings by Nicolas de Molas, the young Russian, of which we have heard several accounts in the last few days.

Apparently in these charming and unconventional paintings Nicolas de Molas is reviving a custom of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries which was prevalent in Italy, where groups of artists would wander through the country and call upon prospective patrons, reciting to each the points of interest and beauty of his particular property and persuading him that a picture of it would complete its charms. "Besides," they would add, "what a fillip to conversation such a painting will prove! You are entertaining guests, you have nothing to say, a fatal pause ensues, when the eye catches sight of the picture! Here are the children, your wife, your dogs, your horses, your fishing or cricket grounds—the plan of your place with pool, fountain or gardens. There is no end to the things you can talk about. In short, the evening is saved!"

It was the rare patron in those days who turned a deaf ear to such talk, and the persuasion is as potent today as then. Mr. de Molas is showing a number of these large pictures and they are most amusing, decorative and interesting. His plan for an American "conversation picture," the sketch of Mr. and Mrs. Verner Z. Reed's house, Sandy Woods, in North Carolina, is very intriguing with its glimpses of riders, dogs, house, stables and woods. Each of these paintings has charm and flavor. The artist has struck upon one of the cleverest and most attractive new devices for art that can well be imagined.

That Mr. de Molas is talented and not just lucky in playing a part is borne in upon us by the introduction of his extremely well handled stage designs and costumes. These tempora paintings are delightful.

The exhibition of illustrations is loaded with work of significance and character. Reading over the names, one is forced to the conclusion that practically every artist [sculptors as well as painters] has tried his hand at this craft some time in his career. Rodin and Maillol are responsible for a number of firm and decisive drawings, eminently sculptural in feeling. Jean Hugo carries off the honors for doing work that is delicate, humorous and fascinating. His illustrations for the Princess Bibesco's "Le Perroquet Vert" are entrancing.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

REBIDDING OVER TWO NO TRUMP.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

When the response was two no trump, the opening hand usually should raise to three no trump with balanced distribution [unless the hand contains more than four honor tricks and he wishes to make a slam-try], and rebid his suit or a new suit with unbalanced distribution.

With balanced distribution and distributed strength, the opener should simply raise to three no trump, even though his hand contains a rebiddable suit. This is not true, however, in the case of hands containing six card suits, which should be rebid.

For example, when the opening one spade bid has been taken out with two no trump, the opener should bid three no trump with ♠ A J 10 8 5 ♥ 7 6 3 ♦ A Q 8 ♣ 7 3. Bid three spades with ♠ K 9 8 7 4 2 ♥ K Q 7 ♦ A 8 ♣ 7 3. Bid three spades with ♠ A K 8 6 4 ♥ K Q 6 ♦ 7 ♣ 8 6 4 3.

TODAY'S HAND.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson:

"Speaking of opening leads, and the marvel is that I can bring myself to speak of them after last night's session, here is one that qualifies me for the Nobel prize for the outstanding jackass performance of the year. It cost me only a piffling matter of five tricks on a doubled contract.

The bidding:

"No sooner was the auction completed than my bungling fingers pulled out the highest card of my partner's bid suit. I should like to draw a veil over what happened, but I guess you wouldn't have much difficulty in figuring it out for yourself. Dummy ruffed my club, and led the king of hearts. My partner, the poor lamb that I had led to slaughter, covered with the ace and declarer, with an odious smirk on his hideous face, ruffed. Another club ruff followed, and declarer's lone diamond was discarded on the heart queen. Now the diamond king was led through East and the diamond ace bit the dust under declarer's ruff. A third club was ruffed with dummy's last trump, and declarer's two remaining clubs went off on the jack of hearts and queen of diamonds, while I meekly followed suit.

"Had there been any way of my losing the ace-king-jack of trumps, I probably would have done so, but declarer graciously conceded me these tricks.

"How any one but an idiot could have failed to lay down the spade king on the opening lead is beyond me. Certainly it could have cost me nothing and would have gained me a bird's-eye view of the situation. Had I done this and found dummy void in clubs, even I would have had the brains to continue with trump leads, giving up a trump trick in exchange for the club ruffs I could prevent. You will note that, on three leads of spades by myself, declarer would have to lose a grand total of eight tricks, so that instead of making his contract with an extra trick he would have gone down 1,100. I think you will agree that South's bidding was almost as bad as my lead, but [as he did not fail to point out] he was bidding with the advantage of having me as an opponent.

Arts Club Tries a New Method of Serving Tea

Open Interesting Exhibits at Stylish Party.

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The Arts club inaugurated a new method of serving tea yesterday at its party for Nicolas de Molas and instead of having one long table with tea at one end and coffee at the other, and plates of sandwiches and cakes in between, the beverages were served from two small round tables and the other refreshments were on tables in the four corners of the room.

Mr. de Molas interested the guests as much as his famous conversation paintings did, for he is young and handsome and speaks English perfectly although he was born in Russia and has lived most of his thirty-two years in Italy and France. After meeting the artist and seeing his works many began looking around the galleries and saying "but where are the nudist and Henry VIII. paintings?" This was because of a mixup in THE TRIBUNE society column yesterday in which the second paragraph about a tea and exhibit Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick was giving in her Lake Shore drive apartment was added to the paragraph about the Arts club's tea and exhibit.

The Arts club guests saw a fascinating collection of illustrations made by modern painters and sculptors hung in the club's large gallery.

Any one sitting in the lounge and watching the women go into the galleries had a veritable show of new spring fashions, for after depositing fur wraps in the dressing room practically all appeared in new outfits. Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, the president, was stunning in a soft blue and black plaid jacket, black skirt and tiny black hat with a blue frou-frou bobbing above her eyes.

Mrs. Norman Harris, chic in a black and white printed frock and a turban of the same silk, and Mrs. James Herbert Mitchell in a new becoming gray-blue sheer wool gown, were pouring tea and coffee at the time this reporter was there.

Mrs. McCormick had invited friends to come to her home for tea not only to see Peggy Palmer's [Mrs. Samuel J. Burrows] amusing pictures of a nudist colony and her portraits of King Henry and his family, but a portrait of the hostess painted by Baroness Violet Wenner and a pastel of Mrs. McCormick made by the same artist.

"Which is your favorite?" was the question every one asked as the arriving guests drifted from the drawing room where the oil portrait hangs to the library where the pastel has been placed above a bowl of lilacs. The lilacs were the color of the flowers at the throat of the black velvet gown Mrs. McCormick wears in the portrait.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

It's not always the operator's fault if a permanent turns out to be a perfect mess. We'd even go so far as to say that nine times out of ten it's not her fault at all. The hair just isn't in the shape to take a good permanent. What the conscientious operator should do when a woman whose hair needs conditioning begs for a wave is to send her on her way with a little sermon about the value of hair treatments.

It just isn't reasonable to expect a permanent to put an end to all hair difficulties. Repeated permanents, even the best of them, in themselves present another hair care problem. The woman who has a wave several times a year is the very one who should take time out occasionally for some bang-up treatments. And she herself should do her part of giving her own good hairbrush a stiff workout every single day.

Waves do draw out a certain amount of the natural oil that's so necessary for healthy, glossy hair. That's why the too-frequently waved hair which hasn't been given the benefit of good care is so often as brittle and dry and lusterless as sundried hay.

If your hair hasn't been taking the permanent any too well lately you ought to begin your hair care now to get it in shape for the wave you'll most certainly have early this summer. Brush it night and morning. Have hot oil treatments, in your beauty salon if you can or at home the night before you have a shampoo. A good scalp massage every night for a couple of weeks will bring about a great improvement.

Your permanent can't fail if your hair is in perfect condition.

Good Morning!

It might be a good thing if producers would leave some of these old timers—such as "Quality Street" and "Personal Property"—packed away in their sachets of sweet remembrance. Because, brought out and refurbished they don't seem to do so well.

In my opinion, "Personal Property"—adapted from the play, "Man in Possession," and once presented effectively on the screen with Robert Montgomery and Irene Purcell taking the places now occupied by Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor, should have been let lie.

The film is a comedy drama localed in London.

Its heroine is a young American widow, Mrs. Wetherby, engaged to a stuffy Englishman, Claude Dabney. She's marrying him for his money, and he is doing likewise by her, both having bluffed for all they're worth to give false and favorable impressions.

The truth is, Mrs. Wetherby is awfully up against it—just hanging on by her teeth, as it were, to her luxurious house and belongings, until she married well as she believes she's about to do.

Her prospective husband with his blah-blah-clear-my-throat-and-blah-blah-again father is engaged in the underwear business, and is also at about his last squeak. And, dyjah, dyjah!—how worried he and papa are when young Raymond Dabney returns home from jail where he's been spending six months because of thoughtlessly disposing of an automobile upon which some payments were still due. WHAT will fiancée SAY?

This dashing blade falls for a lady he has been sipping champagne with in a hotel. He follows her home, and, while waiting at her door—which has been slammed in his face—meets the bailif who also wants in—to take possession of the lady's household goods. This, as I understand it, means that he must stay there until they're paid for to see that nothing is smuggled out of the house. Just a good old English custom, I gather.

The bailif is sore distraught at the prospect—for his wife is having a baby and his heart is in the hospital. What a break for the eager Raymond. In no time at all he has been sworn in as bailif's man—and presto, there he is, camped in the lady's sanctum with the law all on his side.

His interest in the perturbed fair one results in his helping her out at a dinner party. At this time he learns that she's his brother's fiancée. And so and so——.

You will not be surprised to learn that many things happen to destroy Brother Claude's peace of mind, such as accidents with the salad dressing, etc. . . .

The picture is not without comedy, but to me this was all pretty forced.

Miss Harlow, of course, looks charming. I didn't, however, think the rôle particularly well tailored for her, nor that she was skilfully directed.

Mr. Taylor comports himself with zeal, and as usual, has all the women in the audience sighing ecstatically over him. E. E. Clive as Papa, Reginald Owen as Claude, and Henrietta Crossman as Mamma are just a little too-too. Other rôles are neatly taken.

The film is pleasingly photographed and staged.

See you tomorrow.

MENTION of the arrival in town yesterday of Cady Wells, Santa Fe painter, one of whose water colors hangs in the current international show at the Art institute, started talk of painters of the southwest at a gathering about the tea table. Mrs. Arthur Cable owns one of Mr. Wells' pictures, and so does Mrs. Byron S. Harvey. Some one, apropos of Mrs. Harvey's paintings, mentioned the charming paintings done on newspapers that adorn Mrs. Harvey's apartment, vivid pictures to which the blurred type beneath the paint adds indescribable charm. They are the work of Ramos Martinez, and Mrs. Harvey brought back a pair of them from a western trip. Now she has a third, and a touching little tale about it concerns the painter's little invalid daughter.

AFTER she bought the paintings Mrs. Harvey visited with the little girl, who lies helpless all day with her legs in heavy casts or braces, her dolls ranged alongside with heads and arms and legs bandaged to keep her company in her invalidism. One day after Mrs. Harvey's departure for Chicago a friend sent the child a colonial bouquet in a lace paper frill and she told her father it was so pretty she would like to send it to Mrs. Harvey. Seeing her disappointment when he told her the bouquet would wither before it could reach her, he made a suggestion.

"I'll paint the bouquet for her and send her the painting," he volunteered. "Then it can never wither."

"Yes."

"She hasn't a sponsor, has she?"

"No, just a piano."

Blonde Tatiana Grigorieva in black wool practice tights limbering up in a corner. . . . Dancers in "Lake of the Swans" tying and retying their slippers to get the proper tension in the ribbons. . . . The contrast between the blue and white clearness of the "Spectre de la Rose" setting and the murky darkness of the rear side, with stage directions painted on it in three or four languages. The complete change in Danilova when she dons a blonde wig for the gypsy dances. . . . Massine flexing leg and foot muscles by a monotonous movement reminiscent of a caged animal. The dancers seen from offstage in the glow of the footlights looking like Degas' "Ballet Girls on the Stage" in the Chicago Art institute.

Ballet Russe Sets Another New High Here

BY CECIL M. SMITH.

The scorching transports of infatuation and fury which are "Scheherazade" once again flamed upon the stage of the Auditorium theater last evening in one of the most electric performances the historic work has received from the Ballet Russe. David Lichine danced the rôle of the favorite slave for the first time in Chicago.

Lithe and tireless, he gave full rein to his love for the spectacular. The almost superhuman exuberance of his dancing he kept in constant focus by the exactness of his calculations of space and the precision with which he remained within the intended choreography.

Mr. Lichine's foil in this memorable "Scheherazade" was Lubov Tchernicheva. As a dramatic mime, Tchernicheva is without rival in the company. The exquisite plasticity of her body as she stabs herself at the end of the savage tale is an object lesson to all dancers, from Riabouchinska to Martha Graham.

After nearly thirty years "Scheherazade" should seem as faded and naïve as "The Fire Bird," but it does not. It is one of those superlatively original works of art which keeps perennially fresh, renewing the impact of its innate vigor from year to year.

This drama of primary emotions was preceded by "Les Sylphides." The coupling of these polar opposites upon the same bill is a striking recognition of the boundless imagination of Michel Fokine, the choreographer of both.

"Les Sylphides" is totally classical. It is a series of divertissements fabricated wholly out of the authorized devices of the nineteenth century ballet. Without even the threat of plot which is strung through "The Swan Lake," it places its faith in the grace, the lightness, the elevation of those who dance it.

As it always will under favorable auspices, "Les Sylphides" cast its shimmering spell over the audience. Irina Baronova and Tatiana Riabouchinska brought to it a wistful airiness, which was greatly enhanced by the gallant and suave coöperation of Roman Jasinsky.

An untoward interlude occurred in the middle of "Les Sylphides" when Boise, a dark white mongrel dog Lubov Rostova picked up in Boise, Idaho, deigned to display a brief but public interest in the proceedings.

"Le Beau Danube" closed the bill. The settings have seen all kinds of weather. Next season perhaps Col. De Basil will invest some of his much advertised profits in new scenic investiture.

Style Pageant Will Tell City's Social History

Century of Women's Wear to Be on Display.

BY JUDITH CASS.

"ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF CHICAGO FASHIONS" is the title of a performance the Chicago Historical society is arranging for Sunday afternoon, April 11, as part of the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the signing of the charter of Chicago. Members of the Chicago Junior league will take part in the fashion show, which will be of unusual interest, for the gowns to be exhibited include those lovely ones that now are displayed in cases in the society's fine collection of period gowns.

Such well known Chicago social leaders as Mrs. Potter Palmer, the late Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. William J. Chalmers, Mrs. Henry A. Blair, the late Mrs. Byron Smith, Mrs. Frank G. Logan, Mrs. Alden Swift, and the late Mrs. Eugene Pike are among those who have given gowns to the society.

The models will pose in a huge daguerreotype frame made especially for the event by Mrs. James Ward Thorne. L. H. Shattuck, director of the society, would appreciate the loan of any ball gowns, tea gowns, wedding dresses, or street costumes of the following periods—1860, 1910-'12, 1920-'30—for the society's collection is short on fashions of these years.

Mrs. Oscar Straus Guest at Many Parties Here.

When Mrs. Oscar Straus leaves Saturday to return to her home in New York after a visit in Chicago she undoubtedly will be as fatigued as she was after the two African expeditions she made with the Rudyerd Boultons to secure bird exhibits for the New York City Museum of Natural History and Chicago's Field museum. She is being entertained at many parties this week.

Monday afternoon the Boultons gave a delightful tea at the Arts club following a preview of the new habitat groups of exotic African birds in the Field museum. Two of the four groups now installed in the hall of birds are the result of one of the expeditions made by the Boultons and Mrs. Straus, who, in spite of being a septuagenarian and a great-grandmother, is as active and interested in all sorts of things as most women half her age.

Mrs. Rudolph Ganz is giving a luncheon today for Mrs. Straus and tonight Mrs. Inez Stark is entertaining at dinner for her. Tomorrow Mrs. Walter S. Brewster will be a lunch-

Feminine Lines Help Suits Win Fashion Favor

Clear Colors, New Pockets Other Attractions.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Soft dressmaker suits are flattering, feminine, and very different from the stern tailored things of last year. They are big favorites with every one this spring. Stitching, soft foldover lapels and long tuxedo collars, unusual chest pockets [and several of these on one jacket], softer sleeves and distinctive details such as bands and loops, and twists of the material are marks of the new suits. Other marks are the softer wool fabrics, together with the bright, clear colors.

In one shop we located some knockout models in some grand spring color. Raspberry red is especially good, while delightful shades of old blue and hazy gray and green are deserving of the shopper's notice. Loose swinging jackets and fitted, belted hip length models can be worn not only with a skirt of the same color but with accenting dark skirts of any other ensembles.

In the same shop will be found some thin flannel skirts made with sharp kick plaits right in front and a side zipper to make them fit smoothly. With price marks way under $10, they're darn good buys. And some snappy extra or separate jackets are to be found with a price mark just over $12. Lots of unusual colors are available in both the jacket and skirt collections.

If you crave unusual sweaters, light colored, fine, thin affairs, to use for a color contrast at the vee neckline of your suit, you'll like the large array in this shop. Clear canary yellows are going strong. So are all the fuzzy blues and pale pinks. They are modestly priced, have comfortable short sleves, and make ideal early spring tops for slim street suits.

Fashion photograph . . . flowered prints are making exceedingly effective spring house coats. A floral pattern here is used against a dull white background for this short sleeved model. Velvet bows, and a long tie-sash belt of the same velvet ribbon contrast the printed design. The full skirt is cut in a circle, and the short sleeves are shirred through the center. Other new arrivals also feature gay colors and young streamlines, and will be found in a large collection in a Chicago store.

TRUTH TO TELL

By Alice Grant Rosman

[Copyright: 1937: By Alice Grant Rosman.]

SYNOPSIS.

Malcolm and Susan Dubenny's parents died in a flu epidemic during the war. Susan was taken by her mother's parents, the Somervilles. Mrs. Somerville refused the boy in hatred of his father who had eloped with her daughter. Malcolm went to live with his Aunt Lorna and Uncle Hugh Lowell, his father's half brother. Now 15, Malcolm has not seen his little sister for nine years and longs to meet her. He sets off on his bike on a secret mission to Crofter's End, the Somerville estate. In the woods of the estate the children meet. Susan denies she has a brother. Deeply hurt Malcolm leaves. Mr. Somerville's sister, Alison Loftus, returns to England after a long absence and visits Crofter's End. In her Susan finds a friend. Mrs. Somerville maliciously tells her that her aunt disapproves of her. Alison antagonizes Mrs. Somerville by her concern about the fate of the boy Malcolm, and her visit is cut short.

INSTALMENT XV.

FAMILY HISTORY.

The Lords continued to hearten each other with fooleries as the taxi carried them to the hotel where the Loftuses were staying, Robert declaring that if these grandees were as bad as he expected he should refer to "the wife," split his infinitives, and preach that navies were anti-social, just to prove that he was an undesirable acquaintance.

Irene, much as she had liked Nigel's mother, had not seen her for eight years, and she became uneasy about her lipstick, demanding Robert's pocket torch in order to look at the effect in her hand mirror.

"Not at all. Keep your armor on, woman," he returned severely. "It may help the good work if we have to resort to shock tactics."

The two fine looking, rather elderly people who greeted them a few moments later were a pleasant surprise to Robert Lord, who had feared emotionalism or pomposity or both.

"I am glad to see you, Irene, and how pretty you look," exclaimed Mrs. Loftus, kissing her, then turning to the young man: "You're Robert? May I call you Robert?"

"Well—er—I don't usually, but as a great favor. . . . I mean, as long as it isn't considered a precedent."

"You've clicked," exclaimed Irene with a huge sigh of relief to her hostess, and there was general laughter.

Alison Loftus was delighted with them both. The loss of her sons who were never far from her thoughts made their generation dear to her, and she was interested in everything about it, its changing fashions in dress, manners, catch phrases, all that superficial sophistication of a period and its problems which were the eternal problems still.

This quality of hers and a natural ease of manner acquired by her semi-official life in many corners of the world over a number of years made her less suspect to younger people than most women of her age.

"We thought it would be more amusing to dine in the restaurant than in solitary state," she said to them. "And besides you will probaly like to dance.'

"What an enlightened woman," exclaimed Robert.

The four went in to dinner on excellent terms, and whatever sadness the reunion with Irene may have recalled to Nigel's parents was not for a moment permitted to appear. The young soldier's name was not mentioned at all for some time and then only in a question from Mrs. Loftus to the girl.

"Irene, in the old days did you by any chance ever meet Nigel's cousin, Isabel Dubenny?"

"Yes, of course. A little dark, pretty creature. And wait a minute . . . what was his name? . . . Paul Dubenny. I remember them quite well. Several times when he and Nigel happened to be on leave together we made a foursome and did a show or danced. What became of them, Mrs. Loftus?"

Alison Loftus told her, and went on:

"It was Paul I wanted to hear about. I never saw him. Did he strike you as a shiftless good for nothing, let us say?"

"Not a bit. He was large and amusing and a very good dancer, I remember, only he always wanted to keep it up all night. Isabel was like that, too. They were out for a good time while they could get it, but so were most of us, of course."

Mrs. Loftus gave her a brief outline of the condition in which the two children were supposed to have been left and found Irene incredulous.

"Isabel certainly didn't look hard up," she said, "and Paul would have had his army pay. It sounds most extraordinary."

"If it had been twelve months after the armistice and he hadn't had a job to go back to, yes, possibly," interposed Robert, "but you said 1918, didn't you? Odd."

"But 1918 was frightful enough when the influenza epidemic was raging," recalled Irene. "I seem to think Isabel was living in the country, so if they were in rooms, she must have brought the children up to meet Paul when he came home from France. Whole households were down with flu and you couldn't get help, and nurses were at a premium. Wouldn't any place look rather squalid where two people had been suddenly stricken by such a plague?"

Mrs. Loftus found herself agreeing with this view, the most reassuring light on the situation yet presented. What could Charlotte, remote from realities both physically and mentally, know of the conditions that might prevail in such an emergency?

Without going into family details she told her guests what had happened to Isabel's children and her own reaction to it.

"I feel concerned about the boy and should like to do something for him if he needs it. That is why I was hoping if you had known Paul Dubenny you could tell me something about his people."

Irene, however, knew nothing of the Dubennys. Robert suggested looking up the telephone book and the directory as the name was not a common one. When they went to the lounge for coffee he usefully secured both volumes, but his search was in vain. There seemed to be no Dubennys in London.

"What about engaging one of those private inquiry agents?" he suggested.

"I hardly like to do that," explained Mrs. Loftus. "I have already offended my sister-in-law, probably for life, by even raising the topic. She is one of those women who think if a man marries a girl against her fond mother's wishes he must be a scoundrel of the worst description, and has convinced herself the boy takes after his father."

"Your interest in the boy is humanitarian?" asked Robert.

"It is nothing of the kind," declared Mrs. Loftus indignantly. "It is entirely sentimental as this age counts the word. I lost my sons and there is nothing I can do for them any more. That was the law of chance, but suppose it had been the other way?"

"Yes, that's a thought," agreed Robert Lord and smiled at her very nicely. Robert liked Mrs. Loftus so much that he was already committing himself to track down the Dubennys, if it could be done.

"You mean to try to trace this lad then?" Michael Loftus asked Alison when their guests had gone. "Don't you think you are inviting trouble, my dear?"

"I daresay I am," she admitted. "But doesn't it seem monstrous to you that some of us should not make an effort to see whether he has a decent chance in life? If Charlotte should prove to be right, he may be already thrown upon the world. . . . Jonathan's grandson! And if that fool had had a little human feeling and a little tact, Jon might have had the boy . . . some one to work for, instead of worrying and striving to no end, except a selfish woman's comfort."

Telltales of Early Aging

Sluggishness . . . memory slipping . . . dizzy spells . . . frequent involuntary naps are painless but treacherous telltales of early aging . . . of slow exhaustion of essential minerals . . . intestinal putrefaction. Garlic, a great source of rich vital minerals, a powerful blood purifier, builds and fortifies the system against the onslaught of old age ailments. Taking garlic in the only effective form of D. Gosewisch's Genuine Garlic Tablets is like putting new spark plugs in a motor—like live blood corpuscles rushing into the veins. Nerves get steadier—blood circulation normalizes—eyes brighten—new energy is replenished.

Yes! Garlic relieves symptoms of too early aging, but be sure you get the original D. Gosewisch's Genuine Garlic Tablets. Its superiority cannot be mistaken. Make this test. Break open a tablet—note its purity and delightful taste. Know what you take into your system . . . avoid disappointment—refuse adulterated obnoxious substitutes.

eon hostess for the Boultons' guest and tomorrow night Howard Tracy is giving a dinner, later taking his guests to the symphony concert. Tomorrow afternoon Dr. Fay-Cooper Cole is giving a tea at the University of Chicago, and Friday Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson will entertain Mrs. Straus at luncheon. That night the Leon Mandels will be dinner hosts to the guest.

Saturday Mrs. Straus and Mrs. Boulton leave to motor to New York, stopping in Virginia for the latter to give three lectures on African music. Mrs. Boulton is sailing on the Normandie on April 14 to study music at the Sorbonne in Paris.

Plans Luncheon for Ambassador's Wife.

Mme. Rene Weiller, whose husband is the French consul general in Chicago, is planning a luncheon on April 7 for the ladies of the Robert Cavelier de la Salle mission and Mme. Georges Bonnet. Mme. Bonnet is coming from Washington with her husband, the French ambassador, to attend a dinner the France-America society will give that night for the ambassador and the members of the mission. Mrs. Frank G. Logan is planning a cocktail party for the visitors on April 8.

Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick and Robert H. McCormick have reserved tables for eight at the dinner, which will be given in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone, and among others of the 350 who will attend it are the Charles S. Deweys, the Silas H. Strawns, the Carter H. Harrisons, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Milan H. Hulbert, the Walter Kirks, and Ira Nelson Morris. Orville J. Taylor, president of the society, will preside.

A daughter who has been named Deborah Dudley Owens was born on Easter Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Owen [Lillian Dudley] in New Haven, Conn. Mrs. Raymond C. Dudley of 1420 Lake Shore drive is the baby's maternal grandmother.

John Lord Kings to Return Today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lord King will return today after spending two weeks with her sister and brother-in-law, the John T. McCutcheons, on their Treasure Island, near Nassau. The McCutcheons have an "island full" right now, for their three sons are with them for their Easter holidays and John Jr. brought four friends with him from Harvard. Shaw attends the Milton academy. Barr is the youngest boy.

Among the many guests Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon have had this winter is Charles T. Atkinson, who returned to Lake Forest last Sunday after spending his 25th winter season at Nassau. The Frederick Bartletts, Lady Burney, Mrs. Granger Blair, Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, the Wyndham Haslers [Cornelia Ranney], and the Morris Leidy Johnstons also have stayed with the McCutcheons.

Mrs. McCutcheon's and Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw, has not been south, for she stayed at home to look after her youngest grandchild, tiny Pamela King, while the Kings were away.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. King are arriving at home on Friday from a holiday in Charleston, S. C. Mrs. King yesterday attended Malvina Hoffman's exhibition of bronzes and tapestries at Richmond, Va., and she and Mr. King will stop in Williamsburg on their way home.

Record Attendance Marks Achievement Day of Woman's Aid

A record attendance marked the second achievement day of the Chicago Woman's Aid at the club's spacious quarters at 185 North Wabash avenue yesterday. This organization of the city's influential Jewish women was hostess to 500 who came during the afternoon to review their activities and achievements of more than half a century and another 500 came with their husbands at night.

Mrs. Charles P. Schwartz, gay in a pencil blue and black dress with a large spray of gardenias on her shoulder, welcomed the guests on both occasions and summed up the idea that prompted the celebration in a short speech.

Various charitable and educational projects of the club were illustrated at the meeting.

I'M GETTIN' FED UP ON THIS WATCHFUL WAITIN'— IF LILLUMS IS MAD AT HAROLD, WHY DOES SHE LET HIM STAY SO LONG?
AH! THERE'S TUFFY! NOW I'LL GET TH' LOW DOWN!

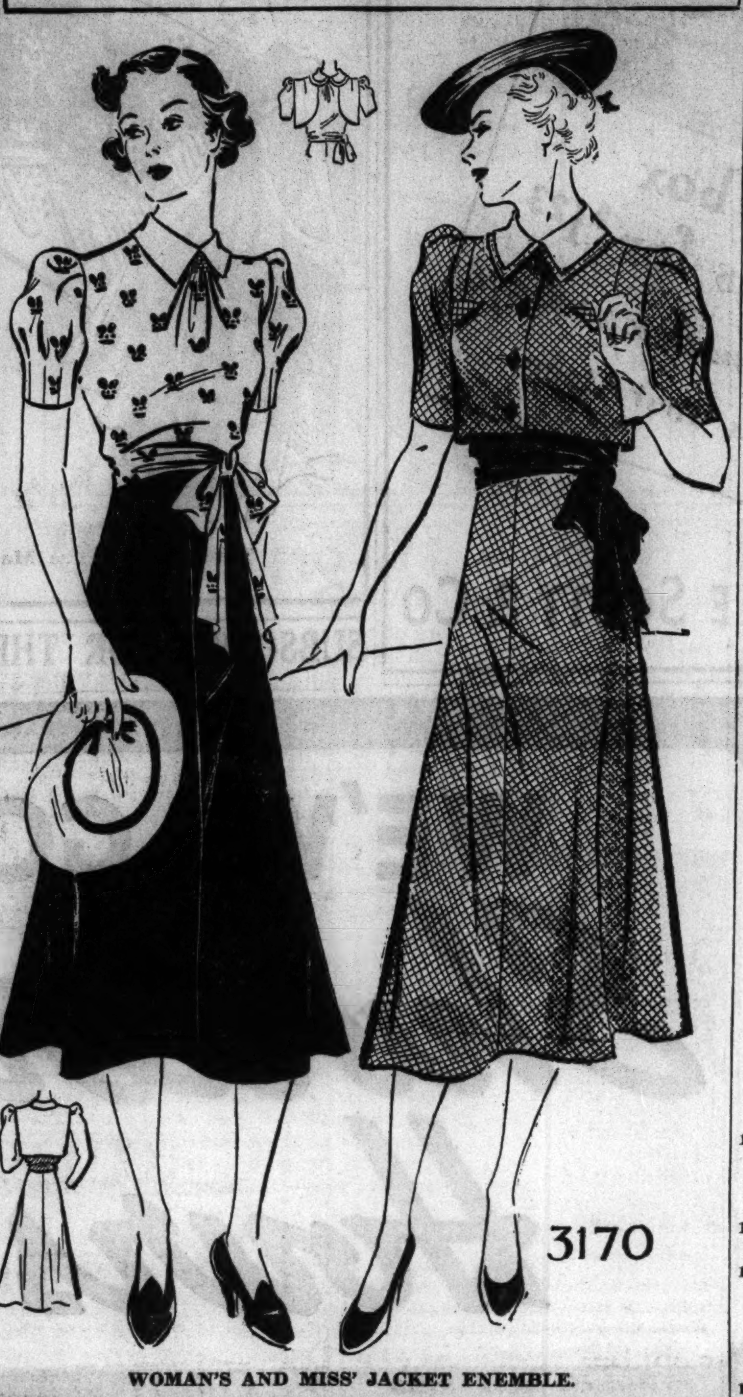
Dress Plus Bolero Jacket



WOMAN'S AND MISS' JACKET ENEMBLE.

Something utterly practical and yet devastatingly feminine is the ensemble uniting a dress with a brief bolero jacket. The model shown today should strike your fancy, because it is the very essence of spring. Everybody has a desire to be just a little more dashing than usual at this time of year, and this outfit should satisfy that yerning successfully.

The dress has a tailored collar, full bodice shirred up under the neckline, puffed sleeves, and a generous sash. The skirt has plenty of flare for interest. It's the bolero that catches the eye. It fits on right over the frock, has four buttons down the front to match the girdle in color, and uses two adorable pockets for added sophistication. You see, this outfit is extremely practical, because you have a dress and, when the jacket is worn, a most individual suit.

The original of this model is fashioned, dress and all, of navy and white checked sheer woolen. The sash and buttons are brilliant red. The sketch at the left shows another idea. The skirt and jacket may be of plain fabric, in a dark shade, and the blouse of figured material, either silk or cotton.

Created entirely in cotton, this ensemble will be a stand-out for summer.

Style No. 3170 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material for the skirt and bolero, with 1¼ yards of 39 inch material for the blouse and ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting for the sash.

Day Dreaming Is Natural in Young Person

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Recently I received a letter from a mother who complained that her daughter was so romantic about love and marriage and who asked what she should do about it.

Another mother told me that she was worried about her son because his thoughts wandered so much to going forth and seeing the world that he concentrated more on this than he did on doing his home work and the family chores.

Romance and a longing to see the world are part of youth. If we attempt to crush such rosy dreams as these we are making a mistake. To be sure, we don't want our boys and girls to grow into their late teens with nothing but illusions about life. We want them to lead balanced lives, so that they will be fitted not only for their present but for what lies ahead. But we cannot expect them to be thrilled by everyday activities.

Don't try to discourage your boy when he talks of a longing to go out on his own and roam the world.

Of course, you have to be the practical one. Even so, you must be more than your son's or daughter's taskmaster. Do more than help them keep their feet on the ground. Go up in the clouds with them, too, once in a while, when they talk about what they would like to do, where they would like to go, and what they want life to mean to them.

And don't be condescending in your attitude when you do it. This is all quite vital to them. It is not just the "stuff that dreams are made of," it is the stuff that life is made of, too. After all, romance does come true, and adventures often take place on shipboard and on the road after they have occurred in the mind. Of course, some do only dream about them.

For those parents whose daughters are romantic and for those who have sons who long for travel and adventure we have a fully written booklet called "Understanding the Adolescent." It will be sent on receipt of a 3 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A line said to have been uttered by Fred Allen, the Town Hall comedian, 8 o'clock tonight on WMAQ, in the movie, "Thanks a Million," is the basis of a $250,000 damage suit filed in the Seattle Superior court against 20th Century Fox Film corporation in behalf of Lieut. Gov. Victor Aloysius Meyers of Washington, onetime orchestra leader.

Lieut. Gov. Meyers alleged that his reputation was irreparably injured as a result of an Allen crack. The line to which Mr. Meyers took exception: "Up in Washington they elected a jaz band leader lieutenant governor, and if people will vote for a jaz band leader they'll vote for anybody." Meyers claimed the jest caused him to be ridiculed and "deprived him of the confidence, respect and good will of the people."

PRESS MICHIGAN BILL TO OUTLAW SITDOWN STRIKE

Measure Makes It Felony to Seize Property.

Lansing, Mich., March 30.—[Special.]—Efforts to outlaw sitdown strikes in Michigan by making them felonies were pressed in the legislature today as negotiators sought to remove the last few obstacles blocking final settlement of the Chrysler automobile strike.

The senate approved three bills aimed at strikes such as those that have tied up numerous Michigan industrial plants and cost workers and employers millions of dollars.

Two measures introduced by Senator William Palmer [D.] of Flint, would make it a felony to take possession of industrial property or interfere with its use by the owner, and would require negotiations between employer and worker before strikes or lockouts.

Comes Up For Passage Today.

A third bill would make it a felony to negotiate with sitdown strikers occupying an industrial plant. Maximum penalties would be five years imprisonment and a fine of $2,500. The bills will be up for final action Wednesday.

Gov. Frank Murphy, who has been acting as mediator in the Chrysler strike, remained optimistic that settlement of the dispute might be reached at any time.

The negotiators discussed the advisability of adjourning until John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, which is supporting the strike of United Automobile Workers of America, can return from New York. He is expected here Thursday.

Will Not Oppose Recess.

The governor indicated he would not oppose a recess, but that he preferred to continue the discussions without interruption. The opposing sides are close to agreement.

Some observers interpreted discussion of an adjournment until Lewis returns as indicating the conferees had settled on a tentative proposal concerning the extent of collective bargaining recognition to be accorded the U. A. W. A., and that consummation of an agreement awaited only approval of the C. I. O. head.

NEW YORK MILK PRICE REDUCED 1 TO 3 CTS. QUART

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—A general reduction of from one to three cents a quart in the retail price of milk will become effective Thursday with the termination of price fixing by the state milk control board, it was indicated today. While independent distributors freely predicted that small grocery stores retailing milk would engage in a price war that would cut the cost of unadvertised brands from 11 and 12 cents down 3 cents, it was reported in the industry that the large distributors of advertised brands would reduce their price of 13 cents for grade B to 12 cents.

Eighteen Dress Factories Sign with C. I. O. Union

The managements of eighteen cotton dress factories in Chicago have signed agreements with the International Ladies Garment Workers, recognizing the union as the collective bargaining agency for the employés and granting a $14 minimum weekly wage, Morris Bialis, vice president of the union, asserted yesterday.

George Loomis, the father, heard verdict that "boy was strangled by person or persons unknown."

While Roger William Loomis' mother wept, a coroner's jury yesterday closed the inquest into the mysterious murder of the Lombard boy. The jurors found that a person or persons unknown strangled Roger, who was 5 years old. The boy was found in the snow in the outskirts of Lombard Feb. 5, about 15 hours after he vanished while playing in front of his home at 140 West Grove street, Lombard.

FORM NEW TAXI DRIVERS' UNION; MIDWEST RIVAL

Organization of a new taxicab drivers' union, a rival for the Midwest Taxicab Drivers' union, which called the recent strike, was announced yesterday by Attorney George W. Dammann of 1 North La Salle street. Dammann said the new group, composed of 1,000 Yellow cab drivers, was formed by half a dozen men who obtained signatures at each of the ten Yellow company garages.

Joseph Jacobs, attorney for the Midwest union, charged many of the petitioners for a new union were coerced into signing by threats of losing their jobs. Other Midwest officials said the new organization is the result of efforts to form a company union. The Midwest union, they said, now has 5,000 members.

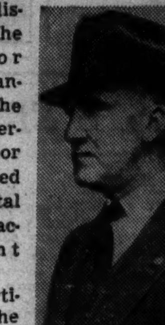
JUDGE, ANGERED AT C. I. O., QUITS AS ARBITRATOR

Charges Prejudgment of Fight Between Unions.



Judge Hartigan.

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan of the Municipal court withdrew yesterday as mediator in a jurisdictional dispute between the Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor which has closed a sheet metal cabinet manufacturing plant here.

Judge Hartigan declared he would act no further because the C. I. O. representatives had attempted to prejudge the case. As a result, the owner of the plant announced he would keep it closed or else sell it to get some peace of mind.

Closed Pending Settlement.

The company is M. Block & Sons, 1024 West Van Buren street, owned by Harry Levy. Two days after he signed a contract with the A. F. of L. Sheet Metal Workers' union on March 11, organizers for the C. I. O. stepped in and signed up several of the 125 employés. Levy, fearing a strike, closed the plant on March 13 until some settlement could be arranged.

The C. I. O. and A. F. of L. men, advised by the national labor relations board to select an arbitrator, agreed on Judge Hartigan.

Judge Hartigan agreed to serve as mediator, but announced it was only fair that the employer be represented at the hearings.

Levy to Go to Hospital.

Yesterday Judge Hartigan declared that Mel Pitzle and John Riffe, organizers for the C. I. O., had asserted to him that it was evident the judge intended to decide for the best interests of the employer. "I'm no child," added Judge Hartigan. "I don't prejudge cases like these men did. It's evident they would abide only by a decision in their favor. I cannot act any further."

On hearing that decision, Levy said he planned to go to a hospital to recuperate from a nervous ailment that had returned to him during the strife. The C. I. O. representatives rejected his suggestion that they permit the A. F. of L. contract to stand until next Jan. 1, and Levy told them:

"Then I'm going to close the plant and go away for a rest for two weeks. My health comes first. If I feel better, I may reconsider reopening if you men can agree. If not, I'll sell out while I still have some good will."

CUBS RALLY TO DEFEAT LOS ANGELES, 11 TO 8

PARMELEE AND FRENCH YIELD ONLY TEN HITS

Frey Continues His Hitting Spree.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 30.—The Cubs today spotted their little stepbrothers, the Los Angeles Angels, four runs in the first inning, then proceeded to give them an 11 to 8 spanking.

Linus Frey.

Larry French was the first Cub pitcher and a good one in the second, third, and fourth innings, in which he suffered no Angel to reach base. He allowed four runs and four hits in his first inning and one run and three hits in his last inning, the fifth. Larry also was a right smart hitter, driving in the Cubs' first three runs with a double and scoring the fourth and tying marker himself. He singled to drive Jurges home from third in the fifth inning.

Frey Maintains 1.000 Pace.

Parmelee finished and showed great improvement over his first start last Friday. He performed a batting feat, too. Jurges scored from second on his 410 foot fly in the seventh inning. Roy allowed two hits in four innings, including a homer by Gudat in the seventh and struck out the side in the eighth.

Lonnie Frey started at third base, by virtue of having made a homer and a triple to drive in five runs in one inning and scoring after two walks in yesterday's game against the Pirates. Today he kept his batting record at 1.000 by walking his first time up, doubling his second and singling on his third and fourth times at bat.

Nearing .500 Mark.

Bill Jurges made a single, double, and triple in five times at bat. The team made 17 hits, for a record of 36 hits and 34 runs in their last two games.

The Cubs' exhibition standing now shows two victories and three defeats. Tomorrow they will bus to Ontario, Cal., the Angels' training base, for the second of the three game farewell series on the Pacific coast. Lee and Bryant are slated to pitch for the Cubs and Fay Thomas and Cambell for the Angels.

The Angels' four run cluster in the first inning was produced in its entirety before the first out was accomplished. Carlyle opened against French with a single to left and Statz walked. McWilliams doubled to left, Carlyle scoring and Statz stopping at third. Herman got under Hurst's pop to short right, but dropped the ball. Statz scoring, McWilliams reaching third. Howell singled to right, McWilliams scoring, and Atwell singled to center, Hurst scoring. Mattick rolled to J. Collins, and R. Collins was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Lieber then hit into a double play.

French Smacks One.

The same gent who was mostly responsible for the four runs the Angels made in the first inning, Mr. French, was mostly responsible for an equal number made by the Cubs in the second inning. Demaree opened with a double past third. Hartnett flied to Howell, then Frey walked. Jurges

Talking It Over

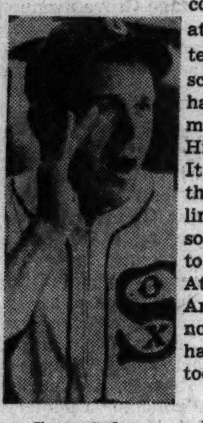
[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

JIMMY DYKES refuses to build up pennant hopes for himself or White Sox followers. . . . He modestly picks the Sox to finish fourth behind the Yankees, Indians, and Tigers, in that order. . . . Tommy Armour plans to go to Carnoustie, Scotland, this summer to compete in the British open. He won the championship over this course in 1931. . . . Connie Mack never has ordered a player to do anything. . . . He always asks them if they'll do it. . . . Hearing Douglas Mills, Illinois basketball coach, speak at a basketball dinner at Effingham, Ill., recently, Superintendent V. V. Bancroft of Kinmundy schools liked his talk so much that he has invited him to deliver the commencement address to the Kinmundy High school graduates in May. . . . It is said that if P. K. Wrigley moves the Cubs' training base from Catalina island, the site for seventeen seasons, he is not likely to send them to Phoenix, as many suppose. . . . At least, he will not send them to his Arizona hotel at Phoenix. . . . He is not enthusiastic, it is reported, about having his varied interests overlap too much. . . .



Jimmy Dykes.

Tommy Armour.

Richard Tam, Stanford's varsity second baseman, is the first Japanese in the school's history to play on a major sports team. . . . If Chicago finally lands the Braddock-Louis match, credit belongs to Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois athletic commission, who has worked tirelessly toward that end. . . . Clark Griffith is a stickler for flat foot pitching. . . . He believes it is more conducive of control than taking the pitching stride on the toe. . . . Walter Vance, a member of Northwestern's freshman basketball team this season, is a brother of Norm Vance, who has just wound up three years of varsity competition with the Wildcats. . . . The brothers come from Logansport, Ind. . . . The success of the Santa Anita track, which does not compete with baseball, has led to a renewal of the old journalistic demand in Los Angeles for major league baseball. . . . Instead of wanting one major league franchise, the demanders want one in each league, a raise of one franchise since Santa Anita proved that sports fans out there can think about something besides football and golf. . . .

It is significant that the upheaval in the athletic department at the University of Pittsburgh followed the break in football relations with Notre Dame. . . . Northwestern, which was scheduled to take on Pittsburgh in 1938 after Notre Dame's contract with the Panthers is ended, has decided to postpone the series. . . . Paul Trout, the Tigers' talkative rookie, can't understand why he never heard of Harry Heilmann, if the old Detroit outfielder really won the American league batting championship four times. . . . Nick Kearns, Big Ten official who had charge of the national basketball coaches' convention recently held in Chicago, is resting in California. . . . Wrigley field was the scene of two extremes in forty years of major league pitching efficiency. . . . Jim Vaughn of the Cubs and Fred Toney of the Reds both pitched nine hitless innings on May 2, 1917, and the Cubs beat the Phillies, 26 to 23, on Aug. 25, 1922. . . .

Eight hundred will turn out tonight to honor Joliet's public and Catholic high school basketball teams at a testimonial dinner. . . . George Keogan and Doug Mills, coaches at Notre Dame and Illinois, respectively, will be the principal speakers. . . . Senator Richard J. Barr will be toastmaster. . . . Jim Thorpe, one time famed Indian athlete, and Ralph Capron, former Minnesota star, have gone into the automobile business at Pasadena, Cal. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Two records were broken as the Illinois Athletic club team won the Central A. A. U. indoor track meet at the Broadway armory. . . . Manager John McGraw announced that the New York Giants would use Rogers Hornsby at second base whether he sold his Cardinal stock or kept it. . . . Morton High of Cicero entered the quarter finals of the national interscholastic basketball tournament at the University of Chicago by eliminating Englewood, 23 to 10.

LANDIS PLANS TO HEAR HENRICH CASE TOMORROW

New Orleans, La., March 30.—(AP)—Commissioner K. M. Landis indicated today that the double-header of Tommy Henrich versus the Milwaukee Baseball club and President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians versus Billy Evans of the Boston Red Sox would start promptly on Thursday.

The baseball commissioner arrived here today from his winter home in Florida and will be present in his customary rôle as umpire.

Henrich, currently with the Milwaukee club, has charged he was sold to them by New Orleans in a deal with Pitcher Winegarner for a combined price of $7,500. Henrich asserts he is worth $15,000 on the baseball market. Yesterday Bill Terry of the New York Giants said he would pay $20,000 for Henrich's signature.

Henrich maintains that he has been "covered up" by the Cleveland Baseball club and instead of being taken up to the majors is being held in reserve until the Indians need him.

The Bradley-Evans event is expected to bring into the open a long smouldering feud.

Bradley has charged that Evans, formerly the general manager of the Cleveland team and now managing the Red Sox farm system, had an ulterior motive in writing a baseball article in which Evans asserted Henrich was worth an easy $15,000.

MESNER BECOMES BIG 'X' IN SOX'S SUCCESS PLANS

If Rookie Fails Dykes Must Go Shopping Again.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 30.—The White Sox took a day off at the request of Manager Jim Dykes today and the respite gave everybody, including the boss, a good chance to look back over what has happened since training started and speculate on what might happen before the impending American league campaign is completed. Meanwhile there is nothing to worry about except a few exhibitions with the Pirates and Cubs, neither of whom ever are so tough that the Sox can't take them on at weight.

There is no reason to regret what has taken place since the Chicagoans made their annual spring entry here almost a month ago. All the performers who will have featured parts in Dykes' big act, if there is going to be an act, are primed for action. The local weather and a certain amount of industry took care of that. But Dykes will soon start holding his breath fearful of injuries, which invariably play havoc wtih the Sox, and over the ability of Steve Mesner to play third base as planned.

Rigney May Be It.

With eight pitchers, who by past performances are known to be good enough to start a game, Dykes doesn't have to fret about his mound corps. Most managers would welcome a staf made up of Ted Lyons, Vernon Kennedy, Clint [Rescuer] Brown, John Whitehead, Monty Stratton, Bill Dietrich, Merritt Cain, and Thornton [Lefty] Lee. There also will be a ninth member of this staf, but his identity remains in doubt. It probably will be Italo Chelini, unless John Dungan Rigney continues to improve. His feat of setting down nine Cubs in a row last Friday proved that he has made rapid strides since the Sox first dug him up two years ago.

Bob Connery, probably the nation's No. 1 judge of ivory, and who had Rigney under his care at St. Paul, declares the River Forest lad is a better prospect than Stratton, which is saying a lot. Connery must have told the same story to a lot of people during the last winter, because three National league clubs tried to buy the youngster from the Sox. He's been taught an overhand delivery, and that's a big asset these days. Batters don't see many of that type. It probably wouldn't hurt the youngster to have another year of minor league seasoning, however.

May Approach Cochrane.

If Mesner goes on showing he has much to learn about fielding, Dykes will have to start search for a man. He doesn't want to play third base himself, at least not regularly. His first effort will be directed toward his pal, Mickey Cochrane, who needs pitching help at Detroit. Dykes can stand the loss of a pitcher, but Cochrane probably will try to give him an overgrown bat boy in exchange.

Dykes also will talk with his old boss, Connie Mack, if necessary. Connie has Bill Werber and needs pitchers, but the trouble with Connie is that he still believes Dykes is about the best third baseman in the league.

Another factor which operated against Mesner's chances of sticking is his hitting. He batted .344 in the Coast league last season and that was accepted as positive evidence of his skill. He has played seven games with the Sox this spring and has produced only four hits, which isn't much for a fellow who has been playing ball throughout the winter. Dykes naturally is not going to give up on him right away, because the lad is only 19 years old and is entitled to time to become settled.

The Sox will be back on the job tomorrow at Los Angeles and it will be their farewell appearance of the

McMillin Signs Ten Year Contract to Coach Indiana

Bloomington, Ind., March 30.—[Special.]—Alvin N. [Bo] McMillin has signed a new ten year contract to continue as head football coach at Indiana university, it was announced today.

McMillin came to Indiana as head football coach three years ago on a five year contract. This was replaced by the new contract. The salary was not announced.

McMillin, who became famous as a quarterback at Centre college, placed Indiana university in the first division of Big Ten football for the last two years. The Hoosiers had not held such a record for 25 years.

Clevenger Is Pleased.

"This contract guarantees Indiana university a fine, long time program," Athletic Director Z. G. Clevenger said. "I have every confidence that Bo can carry on such a program with great success. During the short time he has been with us he has proved that he can turn out very fine teams—teams that will be strong contenders in the highest class of competition. All of us in the department of physical education for men look forward to a harmonious and successful ten year football régime under his direction and guidance."

Coach McMillin responded with the comment that "I appreciate very much the confidence the authorities of Indiana university have in me. A long time program, I believe, will be to the best interests of Indiana university football.

Praises Alumni Spirit.

"I have never encountered a more loyal group of alumni. I cannot praise too highly the harmony and coöperation it has been my pleasure to receive in the athletic department."

When Coach McMillin came here from Kansas State in 1934 the Hoosiers, following the disastrous 1933 season, won three, tied two, and lost three games. The next season Indiana climbed into the first division of the Big Ten football standing for the first time since 1910. The season's record was four victories, one tie and three losses.

Last year Indiana was within 12 points of an undefeated season, losing contests only to Ohio State and Nebraska. The Hoosiers won five games and concluded their campaign with a 20 to 20 tie with Purdue.

McMillin's coaching career began at Centenary college, Shreveport, La., where he served three years. He then went to Geneva college at Beaver Falls, Pa., where he coached three more years. His record at Centenary and Geneva shows 49 victories, one tie, and eight losses.

From Geneva McMillin went to Kansas State at Manhattan, Kas., and under his guidance the Jayhawkers rose from last place in the Big Six conference to the rank of title contender for six years.

McMillin is a member of the rules committee of the National Football Coaches association. He is 40 years old.

10 MORE YEARS

Greenleaf and Diehl Win in Cue Tourney

New York, March 30.—(AP)—Joseph Diehl of Rockford, Ill., a newcomer to the world's pocket billiard championship tournament, and Charles Seaback of Boston, who finished fifth last year, were victorious today in the first afternoon session of the 19 day tourney.

Diehl turned in the best of the four games played so far when he whipped Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia, 125 to 68, in 22 innings after Seaback had turned back the veteran Benny Allen of Kansas City, 125 to 97, in a 33 inning match.

Greenleaf Routs Camp.

Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland, three times world champion and runnerup in last year's tournament, defeated Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn in the first game on the evening program. Rudolph required only eleven innings, the fastest game thus far, to win, 125 to 57.

Ralph Greenleaf of New York, former Chicago player who has won fourteen world pocket billiards titles, routed Marcel Camp of Detroit, 125 to 6, in the final match of the evening.

Diehl Plays Safe.

Diehl, who won the Illinois state amateur tournament in 1925, ran 24 points in his first inning and then played safe. There were only two balls left on the table and Mosconi and Diehl played the ball nearest the rail for 14 successive safeties before the Illinois player chanced a shot and made it.

Score by innings:

JOE DIEHL — 24 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 1 51 0 0 0 1 25 0 0 3 24—132. High run, 51. Scratches, 7. Total, 125.

PAIRINGS TO BE MADE TODAY FOR BADMINTON PLAY

National Tournament to Start Tomorrow.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Drawings for the first national badminton tournament will be completed today and announcement of the pairings in the five classes will be made at the headquarters in the Palmer house. The tournament will start tomorrow at the Illinois Naval Reserve armory at Randolph street and the lake. The tournament is promoted by the Midwest Badminton association and is sponsored by the junior board and the service league of the Evanston Infant Welfare association.

The tournament will continue Friday and Saturday with championships decided Saturday night in the ladies' singles, men's singles, women's doubles, men's doubles, and mixed doubles classes. One hundred and fifty-three players are entered in the tournament. Of this number, only 59 are entered from Chicago and the suburbs. Practically every section of the country will be represented.

Winner to Get Trophy.

Boston, Seattle, Los Angeles, Detroit, and New York, to name only a few of the metropolitan centers which have developed the sport in recent years, will be represented in the first national tournament. The play of M. Stanley Houghton, three times winner of the Boston singles title, and who shares the doubles championship with Raymer Hutchinson, will be a center of interest in the early rounds.

For the national men's singles champion a special trophy, a memorial to Bayard Clarke and E. Langdon Wilks, founders of the New York badminton club in 1878, the oldest club in the United States, has been prepared.

Badminton, a new game comparatively speaking in this country, naturally has a nucleu of current stars in those who have competed in Canada and in England. Patricia Radford, a 21 year old Boston girl, who learned the game in Victoria, B. C., who was a finalist in the New England open tournament two weeks ago, will arrive today with the Boston contingent of seventeen well known players. Miss Radford lost the New England title to Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr. of Toronto, the defending Canadian champion.

Walter Kramer to Play.

Walter Kramer of Detroit, conceded by many to be the ranking player in the country, who lost in the New England finals to Joe Zaharko of Toronto, is another who is expected to fare well in the current eliminations.

Hock Ong, representing the Beverly Hills, Cal., Badminton club, is another star who has an international reputation. Ong played in the 1936 all-English tournament, reaching the semi-finals. Ong, a Chinese, comes from Malaya and for the last four years studied at Cambridge, England. He now is a student at the University of California where he recently won the California badminton championship, defeating Chester Goss in the finals.

Four players, Jackson H. Wells, John B. Hill, Raymond Skov, and Roland N. McKean, will represent the University of Illinois.

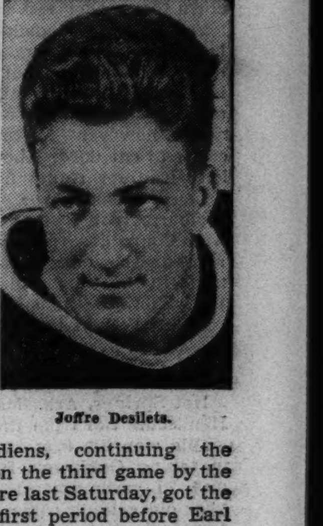
She substituted for the Argentine entrant in the Brussels beauty competition of 1935 and won first prize.

DETROIT ROOKIE GOALIE BAFFLED BY EARLY RUSH

Yields Two Points in First Period.

MONTREAL, Que., March 30.—(AP)—The Montreal Canadiens evened their National Hocky league first place play-off series with the Detroit Red Wings tonight by winning, 3 to 1. With two victories apiece, the teams will meet here Thursday for the fifth and deciding game.



Joffre Desilets.

The Canadiens, continuing the spurt that won the third game by the same score here last Saturday, got the jump in the first period before Earl Robertson, Detroit's new goalie, could settle down to his task. Rookie Blake scored in the eighth minute of play and Paul Haynes added the second tally five minutes later. Syd Howe made Detroit's only goal before the period ended, but Joffre Desilets, another Canadien youngster, made the final score in the second frame.

Robertson, who played with the Pittsburgh Hornets of the International-American league all season, was recalled after Norm Smith, Detroit's star goalie, was hurt Saturday.

Siebert Leads Attack.

The Red Wings, endeavoring to give the untried netminder as much protection as possible, showed few signs of the attacking power that enabled them to win the first two games at Detroit, 4 to 0 and 5 to 1. Robertson's performance likewise was far below the standard set by Smith, who won the Vezina trophy as the league's best goalkeeper during the regular season.

Tonight's victory gave the Canadiens a chance to make hocky history. No team ever has won the league title after losing the first two.

Babe Siebert, Canadien defense player who received all-star honors this season, figured in two of his team's three goals. The first came when the Babe received the puck from Pit Lepine after face off and drove a long, hard shot. Before Robertson could clear, Blake raced in to poke home the rebound. The second tally came on a neat pass out from Johnny Gagnon to Haynes, who whipped in a shot before the goalie could move.

Howe Gets Through.

One of the Canadiens' few defensive mistakes enabled the Red Wings to score their goal. While Siebert was resting, Bill McKenzie and Walter Buswell let Howe through. He forced Goalie Wilf Cude to make the first move, then whipped a rising shot over Cude after he had fallen.

The final goal came just before the end of the second period when Desilets took a double relay from Haynes and Siebert and slapped a low 15 foot drive under Robertson's foot.

TWO JOCKIES ARE HURT IN SPILL AT TROPICAL PARK

Gateman Also Injured as Horse Breaks Away.

Miami, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—For the second straight day the program at Tropical Park was marred by a spill today resulting in slight injuries to two New York jockies—Apprentice Mike Sarno and Albert Vesseli, 33 year old veteran. Dan Havley, an elderly gateman from Miami, also suffered a broken collar bone when he was knocked down by a runaway horse before the start of the second race.

The spill occurred in the third race, a six furlong dash for maiden fillies and mares. In a jam shortly after the start, the Almont stable's Jamesville fell with Sarno and Mrs. J. Houston's Nogalo with Vesseli. Both escaped with nothing more serious than a severe shaking up and bruises.

Impromptu Breaks Away.

Before the running of the second race, the fractious Impromptu, which Eddie Litzenberger refused to ride after taking the mount onto the track, broke loose from his substitute jocky, W. G. Jackson. The gelding broke from the paddock gate, knocked down the wooder rail, and hit Havley.

Yesterday Joe Renick also suffered a broken collar bone and Joe Rosen was badly stunned and cut over one eye in a spill. The accident failed to detract from Wayne Wright's brilliant riding, however Making a desperate effort to cut down Hubert Le Blanc's long lead for riding honors, Wright brought home three winners. The Rexburg, Idaho, veteran scored with A. O'Connell, a rank outsider in the second, the odds-on-favorite, Proximity, in the third and Sorceress, a 5 to 2 shot, in the sixth. The triple still left Wright trailing Le Blanc by six, however.

HANDSOME HAL SCORES.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 30.—(AP)—Handsome Hal from the Summitview stable won his first race of the year in taking Oaklawn's feature, a mile and 70 yards for platers. The five year old gelding came back after losing the lead at the head of the stretch to beat J. McShane's Mort's Pal in a photo finish. Blackthorn was third.

HAPPY BOLIVAR WINS.

San Francisco, Cal., March 30.—(AP)—Happy Bolivar, the favorite, owned by the Houssels-Waterfield stable, Los Angeles, won the "Hit or Miss" feature race in a photo finish at Tanforan today.

Rockwood was second, and Home Loan third. The time for the six furlongs was 1:13.

The mutuels paid $6.40, $3.40 and $3.20 on the winner, $3.20 and $2.80 on Rockwood, and $5.80 on Home Loan.

SCHMELING HOME AFTER USELESS AMERICAN VISIT

BERLIN, March 30.—(AP)—Max Schmeling arrived home today from the United States, where he vainly sought to swing a deal whereby he would fight Champion Jimmy Braddock here for the title this summer.

Apparently disgusted by the muddled boxing situation in the United States, Schmeling said he planned to "sit back and let things ripen" before he returns to New York April 22. Recent developments, he said, made him feel sure the Berlin bout still was a possibility, or, failing there, that he still would get his chance at the championship in New York June 3.

RODAK TO MEET COHEN FRIDAY AT MAJESTIC ARENA

Marshall Expects to Beat Sanooke Easily.

Leo Rodak, after holding out since Friday, yesterday capitulated and will meet Lenny Cohen for ten rounds at Majestic arena Friday. The bout, the weight for which has been set at 126 pounds, is the most attractive held on the west side this year. It will mark Rodak's first appearance under the direction of Nate Lewis.

Two contests at six rounds will bring together Johnn Barbara, 1936 Chicago Golden Gloves welterweight runnerup, and Ray Taylor, Cincinnati, and Tommy Howell, Danville junior welterweight, who conquered Harry Booker Monday, and Steve Padon.

Everett Marshall, heavyweight wrestling champion, who threw Lee Wykoff in two out of three falls at Kansas City, Mo., this week, is ready for his title defense against Osley [Chief] Sanooke at the Coliseum tomorrow. The champion doesn't believe he'll have much difficulty subduing Sanooke despite the latter's weight advantage of 100 pounds. Marshall expects to weigh 225 pounds tomorrow.

Ali Baba, who held the heavyweight mat crown for a short time last year, will meet Oki Shikina in a scheduled 90 minutes encounter tonight at Rainbo Fronton, Clark street an Lawrence avenue. Art Winch, co-manager with Sam Pian of Davey Day, will leave tomorrow for Milwaukee, where he will continue negotiations for a ten rounder between Day and Larry Greb, Milwaukee lightweight, at Milwaukee April 23. At the same time he will second Pete Lello in an eight round meeting with Carl Fasnaugh there tomorrow night. Greb boxes Eddie Zivic on the same card. . . . Ritchie Howell, Danville bantamweight, who suffered a broken jaw in a winning effort at Marigold last summer, and Miss Irene Muszal of Chicago were married here Monday.

Joe Foley, under whose auspices the Champion James J. Braddock-Joe Louis battle is to be held at Comiskey park June 22, yesterday said he doesn't expect to hear from the champion and his handlers until after Monday's federal court hearing at Newark. The legal proceedings were instituted by Madison Square Garden, which is attempting to block the fight here and force Braddock to go through with a listed encounter with Max Schmeling at the Garden bowl in Long Island City June 3.

Immediately after his return from a sojourn in Florida yesterday Mayor Kelly released a statement to the press. He expressed himself as being "very happy" over the house's action Monday in tabling the bill limiting admission tickets to the match to a $10 top. He said he was 100 per cent in favor of the bout. He believes "it will be a great thing for Chicago."

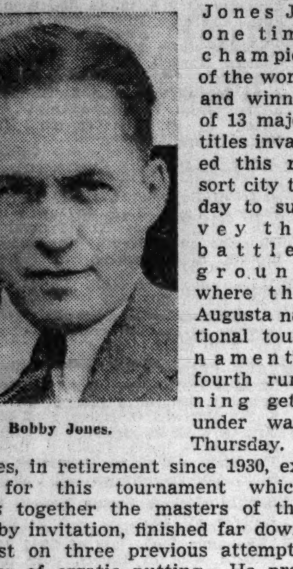
STARS OF GOLF GATHER FOR 4TH AUGUSTA MEET

Harry Cooper Is Betting Favorite.

Augusta, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—The golfing greats of America, including Robert Tyre Jones Jr., one time champion of the world and winner of 13 major titles invaded this resort city today to survey the battleground where the Augusta national tournament's fourth running gets under way Thursday.



Bobby Jones.

Jones, in retirement since 1930, except for this tournament which brings together the masters of the links by invitation, finished far down the list on three previous attempts because of erratic putting. He predicted today it would take machine-like work around the greens to win the 1937 renewal.

Jones paired with Ed Dudley, Augusta and Philadelphia pro, against Harry Cooper and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., today in a best ball match that ended all even when Snead sank a six footer on the eighteenth hole.

Dudley Shoots a 66.

While at least a half dozen of the ranking money players were cracking par 72 figures, Jones equaled the card of 36-36. Snead was two under. Cooper had 71 and Dudley, the Augusta national pro, paced the day's practice with a 66.

A sharp and cold northwest wind swept the course today. The weather bureau had predicted snow. The temperature dropped to almost freezing, with a forecast of clear and colder tomorrow. Cold and rain handicapped play in the three previous tournaments.

In the parade of par crackers were Harold [Jug] McSpaden of Boston, Mass., and Wild Bill Mehlhorn of Louisville, Ky., with 70's while Capt. Francis Francis of Great Britain and Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., fired 71's.

Cooper is Betting Favorite.

Cooper, the leading money winner of the winter circuit who lost by a stroke here last year when Horton Smith blazed a spectacular finish to win with 285, was the betting favorite at odds of 10-1 against a field that numbered 45 through today's registry. Smith was listed 11 to 1.

A quartet of veterans, Dudley, Tony Manero of Salem, Mass., the national open champion, Picard, second in money winnings, and Gene Sarazen of Brookfield Center, Conn., were quoted at 12 to 1. They were followed by Jimmy Hines of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., and Ky Laffoon of Chicago and Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis, at 14 to 1, and Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., at 15 to 1.

UPSETS AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., March 30.—(AP)—Virginia Guilfoil, a 19 year old Syracuse university sophomore, and Mary Kuhn, Aspinwall, Pa., scored upset victories in today's first round play in the north and south women's golf tourney.

Miss Kuhn, who needed an 84 to qualify yesterday, eliminated Jane Cothran, Greenville, S. C., star, one up. Miss Cothran a threat in all the winter tourneys, qualified with a 74.

The veteran Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis. fell before Miss Guilfoil in a 19 hole duel.

Favorites came through safely in the six other matches.

Deborah Verry, winner at the 1936 tourney, gained the second round by the biggest margin of the day, turning back Mrs. J. S. Hess, Forest Hills, L. I., 6 and 5. Tomorrow Miss Verry will meet the player she defeated in last year's finals, Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., who eliminated Linda J. Sherer, Chicago, 5 and 4.

Miss Kuhn vs. Mrs. Page.

Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, Philadelphia, six times winner of the national title, won over Mrs. Karl Scheidt, also of Philadelphia, 5 and 4. Her opponent in the second round will be Mrs. William Hockenjos, Orange, N. J., who had little trouble in beating Mrs. E. Boyd Morrow, Baltimore, 5 and 4.

Miss Kuhn is paired with Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, S. C., tomorrow. Mrs. Page advanced today with a 5 and 4 triumph over Katherine McCloskey of Pittsburgh.

Miss Guilfoil will attempt to oust Kathryn Hemphill, Columbia, S. C., winner of three winter tournaments. The South Carolina girl eliminated Mrs. W. W. Lyons, Rochester, N. Y., 4 and 3.

GRANT WINS 2D ROUND MATCH IN ATLANTA TENNIS

Atlanta, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—Bryan Grant of Atlanta defeated Vernon Marcum of St. Petersburg, Fla., 6-4, 6-4, in the second round of the Atlanta invitational tennis tournament today. The match between Robert Riggs of Los Angeles, Cal., and Malon Courts of Atlanta was postponed until tomorrow because of darkness.

In the hardest fought match of the day Russell Bobbitt, Atlanta schoolboy, defeated Martin Buxby of Miami, Fla., 6-4, 2-6, 13-11. Results of other matches today:

COCHRANE HAS PITCHING WOES.

Lakeland, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Manager Mickey Cochrane, watching the rain that kept Detroit from playing an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Nationals today, was gloomy about the Tigers' pitching prospects.

"As things stand now we've got only Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges," said Cochrane, "and even Tommy is on the sidelines." Bridges has been suffering from a muscle injury which may delay his start.

The Tigers brought 15 pitchers to their training camp. Cochrane still counts on Elden Auker for help. Among the youngsters, George Gill and Paul [Dizzy] Trout appeal to him most.

YANKEES RAINED OUT.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—The New York Yankees suffered their first postponement of the spring training season when a heavy rain this morning caused the cancellation of an exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals. The teams will meet tomorrow, with Monte Pearson, big Yankee right hander who sprained his ankle a week ago, scheduled to get his first test. Johnny Murphy will share the New York hurling assignment.

ANKLES WORRY DODGERS.

Clearwater, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—After today's exhibition game with Cincinnati had been rained out, Manager Burleigh Grimes of Brooklyn turned his attention toward checking the series of ankle injuries that has hampered the Dodgers this spring. Gil Brack, rookie outfielder who was hurt two weeks ago, was given permission to resume light training today, but Cookie Lavagetto still is using crutches.

LONG DRILL FOR GIANTS.

Gulfport, Miss., March 30.—(AP)—Bill Terry sent the New York Giants through their longest drill of the spring training season today. They had a morning session devoted to making plays on runners at each base, a base running trial at the usual lunch period, and then the customary afternoon drill, including batting and practice games.

CARDS USE SOUTHPAWS.

FUNDAMENTALS FOR BROWNS.

San Antonio, Tex., March 30.—(AP)—A three hour drill on fundamentals kept the St. Louis Browns busy here today despite damp grounds and a chilly wind. Sliding, running down base runners and trying to pick men off the bases formed the bulk of the drill, the first workout of its kind since the Browns began a string of exhibition games Monday. The Browns play the Tulsa Oilers at Seguin tomorrow.

DRESSEN PRAISES PITCHERS.

Tampa, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Cincinnati Reds surveyed his team today and declared his pitching staf "is plenty good enough to pitch us into the first division." Dressen assigned Bill Hallahan and Dick Barrett to pitch in tomorrow's game with the Boston Bees. Today's Red-Dodger game was called because of rain.

RAIN KEEPS PHILS IDLE.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Rain caused postponement of the Phillies' exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland today and also canceled camp drilling here.

Manager Jimmy Wilson said he will send Bucky Walters and Wayne La Master against the Brooklyn Dodgers here tomorrow.

CLEVELAND ROOKIES PITCH.

New Orleans, La., March 30.—(AP)—Bill Zuber, rookie speed ball pitcher, and Clarence Heise, formerly with Columbus of the American association, will hurl for Cleveland against the Milwaukee Brewers tomorrow, Manager Steve O'Neill of the Indians said today.

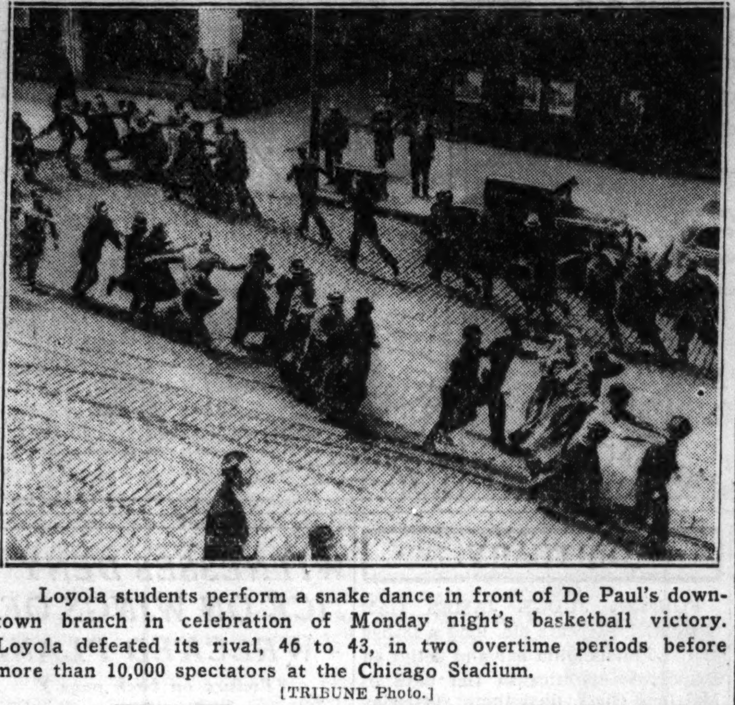
LOYOLA STUDENTS CELEBRATE



Loyola students perform a snake dance in front of De Paul's downtown branch in celebration of Monday night's basketball victory. Loyola defeated its rival, 46 to 43, in two overtime periods before more than 10,000 spectators at the Chicago Stadium.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Loyola Holds Celebration of Its Victory

Some 650 Loyola university students, determined to make the most of the victory their basketball team scored over De Paul in a second overtime period in the Chicago Stadium Monday night, yesterday went on a strike on the Rogers Park campus.

Instead of attending classes most of them piled into automobiles, decorated with the school's maroon and gold, and headed down Sheridan road for the loop.

Those of the celebrants who were not tempted by the movie theaters' reduced early afternoon admission prices then started for De Paul's north side campus, where they arrived about 200 strong.

The Rev. William Finnegan, S. J., dean of Loyola's college of liberal arts, explained that the demonstration was spontaneous and without the school's sanction.

MACK, INFECTION DANGER PAST, TO REST BRUISED LEG

San Antonio, Tex., March 30.—[Special.]—Connie Mack, 74 year old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has recovered from blood poisoning which developed after he was struck by a baseball, but will be kept in the hospital five or six days for treatment to abrasions that remain on his shin, Dr. J. W. Goode said after Mack's removal to Medical and Surgical hospital here today.

Mack was struck by a ball that bounced off the catcher's mitt at the Athletics' Mexico City camp. He was in no pain when moved by stretcher and ambulance from a train here early today.

Detroit Poloists Face Artillery in Western Tourney

Volney P. Bayley, Perry Williams, and Paul Deming of the Detroit Gold Hats will ride against the 122d Field Artillery tomorrow night in the western polo tournament at the 124th Field Artillery armory.

The Gold Hats earned the right to compete in the tournament by winning the elimination meet in the Detroit league for teams rating six to twelve goals.

Fourteen horses to be ridden by the Detroit trio reached here yesterday and are quartered in the armory stables. The team will arrive tomorrow morning.

Detroit will put a ten goal team on the field, Bayley being rated at four, Williams and Deming at three each. The 122d Field Artillery has a seven goal team consisting of Lieut. Carl Johnson, three goals; Lieuts. Cliff Harrison and Art Zimmerman, two each.

In the windup tomorrow evening, the senior western team of Bill Fergus, Capt. Maxwell Corpening, and Steve Hammond will meet a trio known as the All-Stars, which will include Herb Lorber, Dan Peacock, and either Lieut. Don Rice or Capt. Romeo Mura.

Between games, two juvenile teams will play. They are the Wildcats, with Margaret Emert, Marilyn Ryan, and Carole De Caluwe, and the Rough Riders, made up of Johnny Casey, Jack Ryan, brother of Marilyn, and Junior Selle, who will alternate with Charley Jacabusi at the No. 1 position. The youngsters range from 8 to 12 years in age.

The Cubs went ahead in the third. Collins doubled to center and after Demaree and Hartnett had submitted to infield outs, scored on Frey's double to left. Atwell made a great play to retire Jurges, after going into right field for his grounder.

Cubs Look at Kimball.

A double play wasn't enough to squelch the Cubs in the fifth. Collins pushed off with a single but went down with Demaree in a double play. Hartnett singled to left and went to third on Frey's single to right. Jurges tripled to right center, scoring Hartnett and Frey. French singled to left, scoring Jurges. Galan flied to Carlyle.

Frey opened the seventh with his third straight hit. Jurges shot a double play ball at Mattick, who threw to right field, Frey scoring and Jurges reaching second. Parmelee knocked a 410 fly to Statz and Jurges ran from second to home after the catch. Galan singled to right and was out stealing. Herman flied to Carlyle.

After Parmelee had struck out the side in the Angel eighth, the Cubs got busy in the ninth, scoring on doubles by Hack and Jurges. A single by Statz, some unmolested base running, a walk to Hurst, an infield out gave the Angels a run in the ninth.

Start Judging at Kennel Club Show Saturday

BY BOB BECKER.

Starting Saturday morning, April 3, at 11 o'clock, judges at the Chicago Kennel club dog show will call into the ring a number of breeds to start the judging program of the two day show being held in the Coliseum, 15th and Wabash avenue.

Among the breeds that will be judged Saturday morning, afternoon, and evening are most of the sporting dogs, collies, a number of terrier breeds, cocker spaniels, Pekingese, Boston terriers, bulldogs, and Dobermanns. The cocker spaniels will be judged Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Freeman Lloyd of New York. Smooth and wired haired fox terriers will also be judged at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with Enno Meyer picking the winners. Boston terries will be judged Sunday evening.

The largest number of pedigreed dogs seen at a Chicago Kennel club show in many years will compete for honors in this 1937 show. A total of 1,002 dogs have been entered.

Among the breeds not commonly seen here are one papillon; one clumber spaniel; three greyhounds; six whippets; two Newfoundlands; two Wesh corgis; two giant schnauzers; two Staffordshire terriers; three affenpinschers, and three miniature pinschers.

Since the Kennel club office has announced that there is just one clumber spaniel entered in the show it isn't difficult for us to tell whose dog it is. Our clumber spaniel, Carnforth Tobias from Surrey, England, is entered in the show so this one clumber entry must be our Toby.

Included among the local prominent fanciers who have entries in this show are Irving S. Florsheim of Red Top farm, Libertyville, who will show seven keeshonden; Harold M. Florsheim, Highland Park, who will show one Old English sheepdog, two airedale terriers and a Welsh terrier; A. Watson Armour, two Irish terriers; Paul C. Loeber, Lake Forest, two wire haired fox terriers; Livingston E. Osborne, Highland Park, three chow chows, and Mr. and Mrs. Orrin H. Baker, Chicago, four Kerry Blue terriers.

spring at that port. The enemy for the day will be the Pittsburgh Pirates, whom the Sox will not see again until April 9 at Longview, Tex., when the two teams open a seven game tour. The pitching tomorrow will be assigned to Stratton, Lyons and Dietrich. Dykes wanted to give Cain part of the job, but the leisurely southerner, who reported late, doesn't think he's quite ready. He learned as much from what the Angels did to him several days ago.

Thursday will be the last day in camp for the Sox and will be marked by a final program of routine conditioning. That night the squad will board a special train which also will carry the Cubs. At Yuma, Ariz., on Friday the two old enemies will start a series of six games and then separate until April 16 when they resume their warfare in a three game set at Chicago.

JIMMY BRADDOCK BOWLS IN A. B. C. FEATURE TONIGHT

Takes Dempsey's Place on Team.

Anybody Else?

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 30.—(AP)—Elwood Rigby, Pittsburgh promoter, announced he had made a bid of $400,000 for a James J. Braddock-Joe Louis heavyweight fight in Pittsburgh next summer.

Rigby announced he had wired Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, offering $100,000 for Braddock's signature on a contract. The promoter said that Barney McGinley, sportsman from nearby Braddock, Pa., had agreed to post the $100,000.

Rigby said that William Benswanger, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, had agreed to cooperate in staging the fight in Forbes field if it was found the University of Pittsburgh's stadium could not be obtained.

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, is going to bowl on the American Bowling Congress alleys tomorrow night and the sight of a boxing title holder shooting for strikes and spares has assured a capacity crowd at the session.

When he learned that Jack Dempsey, who is recuperating from the flu, had wired Al Lattin, president of the New York A. B. C. tournament corporation he couldn't compete Braddock asked Lattin to let him bowl in Dempsey's place.

Braddock, who has bowled in alleys near his home in New Jersey, thinks he'll roll a presentable score. He'll be the lead-off man on the Braddock Booster combination which includes Lattin, Pat McDonough and Billy Landgraf and Ray Hover, president and secretary, respectively, of the New York bowling association.

Leading bowlers will share the spotlight with Braddock. They include Mort Lindsey, Stamford, Conn.; Andy Varipapa, New York's trick artist; Billy Knox, Philadelphia, first man to roll 300 in an A. B. C. meet, and Jim Murgie, another Philadelphia star who recently scored three consecutive 300 games in match play.

HOUSE RESOUNDS TO PROTESTS OF SABATH PROBERS

Judge Barnes Is Target of Committeemen.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—The house resounded today with the roars of several highly excited members of the Sabath bondholders' investigating committee who rose to defend themselves and their chairman, Representative Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.], from charges made by Representative Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.].

REP. E. A. KELLY.

The congressmen continued the attack started yesterday by Sabath upon Federal Judge John P. Barnes of Chicago, who in December, 1935, vacated a $6,400 fee previously granted Congressman Sabath's law firm of Sabath, Perlman, Goodman & Rein.

Sabath yesterday referred to Judge Barnes as receiving a $35,000 fee for representing the Chicago Title and Trust company before his appointment to the bench. Sabath inferred that this incident had some connection with the vacation of the fee for his firm.

Brings Up Fee Again.

Today Representative Edward A. Kelly [D., Ill.], although not a member of the committee, injected the matter of the $35,000 fee again into the controversy asserting that the fee was "paid while Judge Barnes was on the bench."

Representative Francis D. Culkin [R., N. Y.], a member of the committee, then inquired: "Has that matter ever been submitted to the proper committee?

"Might I suggest," he continued, "that this circumstance exactly parallels the charges upon which Federal Judge Ritter of Florida was impeached?"

[It was recalled that the fee paid Judge Barnes was thoroughly investigated by the senate before confirming his appointment to the bench in March, 1931. In 1930 the Chicago Title and Trust company was made receiver for the Garard Investment company by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and Judge Barnes, then in private practice, was appointed attorney for the receiver.

[When Judge Barnes was nominated for the federal bench he resigned as attorney for the receiver and presented a bill for $35,000 for his services up to then. The bill was allowed by the court—all of Judge Barnes' services having been completed before he went on the bench.]

Church Awaits Denials.

"I am still waiting," Church said afterward, "for specific denials of the charges I made. Neither Mr. Sabath yesterday nor other members of his committee today have proved that anything I said was untrue."

Church pointed out last Thursday that the Sabath committee had spent $110,000 in three years and now wanted more funds to continue its inquiry although no legislation had yet resulted to correct the abuses in bondholders' reorganizations it was supposed to inquire into. Church charged that committee employés were helping to spread these very abuses and asked Sabath to explain financial benefits accruing to his law firm as a result of committee activities.

Representative Thomas O'Malley [D., Wis.], a member of the Sabath committee, was the first to take up Sabath's defense today. He assailed Church's charges as being rendered "without warning" to the committee and inquired: "I wonder what inspired this attack?"

"I hope we will never have again a member of this house subjected to such implications," he remarked.

Fears for "Good Feeling."

Representative Culkin and Representative Everett M. Dirksen [D., Ill.] also hailed Sabath for his "unimpeachable integrity." Dirksen said Church's charges had disrupted "good feeling" in the house.

Sabath appeared before the house judiciary committee today to support a bill calling for the creation of a "federal conservator" to supervise bondholders' reorganizations. He came near to repeating his breakdown of the previous day, but his agitation soon disappeared and he spoke calmly on the bill.

GOOD NEWS TOO LATE; FINDS FOUR IN FAMILY DEAD

Mrs. Jeanette Martin, 25 years old, took her three little daughters to church on Easter morning to have them baptized, then strangled them and hanged herself in their home at 639½ Woodlawn avenue, Aurora. She left a note criticizing her husband John, who recently departed for Texas to hunt for work. The note said: "Johnnie has three children and can't send them a card on Easter."

Not until yesterday could Martin be found to tell him of the tragedy. On Easter, he said, he found a job at a Fort Worth, Tex., race track. On the same day he sent a card to his wife and daughters telling them of his good fortune. That was the Easter card for which his wife waited in vain.

Martin was on his way home last night. His wife and daughters were buried yesterday in Aurora's Riverside cemetery.

Numerous instances of six and seven members of one family working on the district pay roll were reported. In one family four sisters collect district pay checks.

PRESIDENT TELLS 3 WAY PROGRAM ON LAND TENANCY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today said that he is working with congressional leaders to develop a three phase program to halt farm tenancy. The program may be launched this year, through a series of experimental and demonstration projects. He gave his program as:

1. Continuation of rehabilitation loans, most of which would go to people living on land which the government believes can be made to pay.

2. Purchase of submarginal land so that it can be taken out of cultivation and put into timber or grasses.

3. Federal purchase of land for resettlement of families taken off submarginal land and purchase of tenant farms to give tenants a chance to own the land they are tilling.

The President said rehabilitation loans have been amounting to about 75 million dollars a year. The money has come out of relief funds and has been expended by the Relief administration and more recently by the Resettlement administration.

WITNESSES DENY ICE ON WINGS OF WRECKED PLANE

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 30.—[Special.]—The theory that "iced-up" ailerons caused the crash of the Transcontinental Western Air skyliner in which thirteen persons perished last Thursday began to crumble today under the fire of witnesses who declared they found no ice in the wreckage of the plane.

The ice theory, official explanation of the tragedy by the air line operators, was stated in unequivocal terms by Paul E. Richter, TWA vice president in charge of operations, as the bureau of air commerce investigators opened the government probe of the tragedy.

Under the questioning of Bryan M. Jacobs, head of the investigating group, other witnesses admitted they had not looked specifically for ice. Mrs. Catherine Schram, wife of a filling station operator, who was standing less than 100 feet from where the big ship plowed into the ground, said she heard some one say, "Look at the ice." But that she did not see any.

J. O. Boyd, a salesman, one of the few who saw the plane as it actually hit the ground, waved aside the possibility that there may have been ice on the ship which he did not see.

STOCKS SHAKE OFF LETHARGY; CLOSE IS HIGHER

Late Rally Carries Prices Forward.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 30.—Strong buying support which appeared in the final hour sent prices on the stock exchange up fractions to around 4 points today. Steels, rubbers, coppers, and rails led the upturn, while utilities held steady. A total of 1,225,310 shares changed hands during the day.

Excellent earnings statements, a belief the Chrysler strike may soon be settled, and the impetus of a strong rise in commodity prices were given as reasons for today's advance. Buying by shorts to cover commitments also was an important contributing factor.

Opening Trend Mixed.

Opening mixed and irregular, the market attracted little attention except for moderate demand for coppers and steels. However, no aggressiveness developed and for a while trading and price movements were stolid. In the last hour, however, an impressive upswing set in. Steels again dominated in the industrial division, old line issues attracting considerable attention and garnering sizable increases. Bethelehm, with a 5½ point advance, was the leader, followed closely by U. S. Steel, up 4½ points; Youngstown, up 3⅝; Crucible, up 2¾; Gulf States Steel, up 3½, and Sloss-Sheffield, up 6 points.

Union Pacific closed with a gain of 4¼ points, Southern Pacific rose 3⅞, Southern Railway climbed 2¼, Illinois Central was up 1⅛, and New York Central gained 1¾ points. A majority of other rail issues closed fractionally higher.

Chrysler Moves Higher.

Motor shares closed higher. Chrysler picked up 1⅞, General Motors closed 1½ higher and lower priced shares managed to hold to fractional gains.

A consistently strong group today was the oils. Although they chalked up no remarkable gains, they moved in fairly good volume.

Metals and mining equities were another outstanding group. Anaconda, Andes, and Kennecott were leaders among the coppers, with gains exceeding 2 points. American Smelting, up 3⅝; International Nickel, up 1½, and U. S. Smelting, up 2 points, featured the section.

Farm implement shares made a good showing, manufacturing issues worked higher, mail order and mercantile issues were buoyant and rubbers moved forward. Aviation issues attracted little attention and were mostly lower.

REPORT HIGHER PAY ONLY DEMAND OF COAL MINERS

New York, March 30.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers, negotiating a new wage contract with the soft coal operators, were reported today to have withdrawn all their demands excepting their demand for higher pay. The report led observers to believe that an agreement could be reached tomorrow and the strike threatened for April 1 could be averted.

When negotiations started Feb. 17, the miners demanded a cut in the work week from 35 to 30 hours, a 15 per cent wage increase, time and one-half for overtime, two weeks' vacation with pay and a guarantee of 200 days' work each year. Only the demands for the pay increase and time and one-half for overtime are left, it was reported today.

The operators at first demanded an increase in the work week from 35 to 40 hours with no change in pay rates. They now have reduced their demands to continuation of the present agreement for two more years, it was said.

Britain Removes Import Duty on Common Steel

LONDON, March 30.—Action to help producers overcome the shortage of materials employed in smelting high grade steels was taken tonight by the government, which removed a duty on "common steel."

Copper Soars to Best Price in Six Years

The domestic price of copper yesterday was boosted to 17 cents a pound, highest level since March, 1930, as the general commodity list climbed to new peak levels for the current upward swing. Heavy speculative buying of commodities was reported in both American and European markets.

The Phelps-Dodge corporation, one of the leading domestic producers, announced the new price, up ¾ cent from the 16.25 cent level which has prevailed since early this month. The advance, coming near the close of the business day, made it difficult to determine immediately whether other producers would follow.

It was the seventh increase this year and put the metal at almost double the price of a little over 9 cents a pound prevailing last summer.

Domestic Future Prices Lower.

Announcement by Phelps-Dodge took financial circles by surprise, as metal prices had declined earlier in the day on the London Metal exchange, center of much of the recent world buying in copper, lead and zinc.

Prices of metal futures also closed lower in New York, but metals for immediate delivery closed unchanged. Export copper was steady during the day at 17.45 cents a pound.

Copper futures closed down 0.25 to 0.30 cent a pound in moderate trading. May contracts finished at 15.50 cents a pound. Zinc was down 0.05 to 0.15 cent with May at 7.35 to 7.50. Lead eased 0.05 to 0.12 cent and nominal prices of tin were off as much as 1.15 cents a pound.

Rubber futures closed in new high post-depression territory with net gains of from 0.30 to 0.40 cent a pound in heavy trading. May contracts closed at 27.01 to 27.02 cents a pound and July contracts were at 27.21 to 27.22. Sales totaled 871 lots of 22,400 pounds each.

Bullish Malayan statistics, heavy industrial demand, reports of dwindling British stocks, and speculative buying accounted for the price boost, traders said.

Hide Prices at New High.

Hides established new highs for the season and reached the best levels in eight years. Net gains ranged from 0.09 to 0.16 cent a pound. Sales were moderate at 93 lots of 40,000 pounds each as offerings remained light despite the sharp upturn.

Cotton rallied $1.50 to more than $2.50 a bale on renewed buying prompted partly by firm foreign commodity markets. All deliveries exceeded the previous highs for the season, established March 17. Silk also was higher.

TREASURY LACKS FUNDS TO BUY MORE U. S. BONDS

Washington, D. C., March 30.—(AP)—Informed authorities said today any future buying of government bonds would be handled chiefly by the Federal Reserve board because almost all treasury funds available for this purpose have been invested. Treasury purchases of the obligations in the last few weeks have depleted trust funds available for investment, officials said.

The treasury declined to make public the amount of trust funds remaining for investment, but in other quarters it was indicated they were not sufficient to have any appreciable effect on the market.

It was pointed out, however, that the Federal Reserve board has ample resources to acquire bonds in any amounts that may be deemed necessary. In the last two weeks, the board has acquired about $98,000,000 of government bonds, substituting these for holdings of treasury notes and bills.

FLORIDA BOOM LEAVES HIM $400 AND DEBTS EXCEEDING 8 MILLIONS

Miami, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Hugh M. Anderson, who headed one of the most ambitious real estate developments of the Florida boom, filed a bankruptcy petition today listing liabilities of $8,502,779 and assets of $400. In 1925 Anderson was president of the Shoreland company, which promoted Miami Shores, a 2,800 acre waterfront development just north of the city limits conceived as a $200,000,000 project. He also developed the Venetian Islands in Biscayne bay and was one of the builders of Biscayne boulevard along the bay front.

Miami Shores, which changed its name to North Miami in 1927, was opened for sale Dec. 4, 1924. The first day's sale of lots totaled $2,509,170 and one year later the company reported sales totaling $75,008,335, including resales by original purchasers.

Anderson came to Miami from Chattanooga in 1910 and grew citrus until the start of the boom. He is in the real estate brokerage business in North Miami now. He filed the bankruptcy petition to liquidate the old obligations, principally commitments he made to finance his developments.

ADMITS OFFERS TO BUY TOP VAN SWERINGEN FIRM HAVE BEEN MADE

Cleveland, O., March 30.—(AP)—George A. Tomlinson, a leading figure in the Van Sweringen empire since the death of the two Van Sweringen brothers, said today that "propositions" had been made concerning the sale of Midamerica corporation, but "nothing of interest" had resulted.

Midamerica controls the vast Van Sweringen railroad and real estate holdings and was the instrument by which the brothers rescued their interests at a time when they were threatened by effects of the depression.

G. A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., manufacturer, and Tomlinson, put up money which enabled the Van Sweringens to buy back control of their holding in 1935 from a J. P. Morgan banking syndicate. Since then, Ball testified before a senate interstate commerce committee he had acquired almost exclusive control by buying up most of Tomlinson's holdings.

"Midamerica is not for sale," Tomlinson said, "but I think if they met Mr. Ball's views he would sell it. However I cannot speak for Mr. Ball." Tomlinson did not identify the "they" in the negotiations.

The Van Sweringen railroad domain included approximately 21,000 miles of track and reached from the eastern seaboard to Texas and Colorado. O. P. Van Sweringen died in November, 1936. His brother, Mantis J., died in December, 1935.

SOVIETS SHIP MYSTERY GOLD TO LONDON MARKET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 30.—Gold consignments valued at nearly $190,000,000 are being shipped from Russia to Great Britain, London market sources disclosed tonight. About $25,000,000 in gold, it was revealed, already has arrived and has been forwarded to the United States.

The reason for the sudden influx of gold is a mystery, but part of the bullion, it is assumed, will be used to pay for the soviets' heavy purchases of rubber and metals. The Russian gold is being reshipped to the United States because the metal does not meet the requirements of the London bullion market with regard to weight and fineness. Buyers here tranship the gold to New York where dollars are provided, or payment is made through the exchange market in sterling.

On the next outward voyage the Queen Mary will carry gold insured for $10,000,000 in excess of the large amounts normally insured by bankers and bullion brokers in the ordinary course of business, but it was not revealed whether the extra consignment is part of the gold arriving in Great Britain from Russia.

HUPP TO SELL STOCK, RESUME MAKING AUTOS

Plans for a resumption of manufacturing operations by the Hupp Motor Car corporation, Detroit, suspended since December, 1935, were disclosed yesterday with the announcement that a group of investment houses has underwritten 988,971 shares of common stock of the company. A registration statement covering the issue has been filed with the Securities and Exchange commission at Washington.

Stockholders will meet on April 7 to vote on the proposed reduction of the present outstanding shares of $10 par value to $1 par value and issuance of one new share for each two shares now held. Following this the new shares will be offered to the stockholders in the ratio of 1½ shares for each share then held.

It is expected the new shares will net the company $2,500,000 and enable it to resume production, according to the announcement. Among the seventeen underwriting houses, F. S. Yantis & Co., Inc., and Sadler & Co., both of Chicago, have agreed to take 200,000 and 100,000 shares, respectively.

Container Corporation of America and major competitors yesterday advanced prices of paper board containers 15 to 35 per cent, effective April 1. May and June business is being booked with open prices due to uncertainties over production costs, the concerns said.

Soviet Speeds Work; Falls Behind 'Plan'

MOSCOW, March 30.—(AP)—The Russian government told its workers today to intensify industrial and agricultural production, lest the second five year plan fall far short of its mark. Alarmed over a slump in output and particularly delays in the spring planting campaign, the government warned that work in some industrial and agricultural branches had been "unsatisfactory" and must be "corrected immediately."

Joseph Stalin.

The central executive committee council of people's commissars was represented as being particularly anxious for record-breaking production this year—which not only marks the end of the second five year plan, but also celebration of the first 20 years of soviet rule.

First Plan Short of Mark.

The first plan ended in 1932 with only 93.7 per cent of the general industrial program fulfilled. Joseph Stalin, secretary-general of the communist party, attributed that to war dangers compeling the country to divert its energies to preparing for defense.

The spring planting campaign is almost 315,000,000 acres behind schedule. Planting for 1937 at this time should have reached 328,000,000 acres but a survey disclosed only 13,200,000 acres had been planted. In the corresponding period of 1936, 54,408,000 acres had been sown.

Officials charged the lag was due to lack of preparation and carelessness and warned of a dangerous situation because of the shortness of the growing season in some districts. Farmers said the lateness of spring was the cause.

Industry Also Lagging.

With some lines of industry also lagging, the council called on the entire industry of the nation for production worth 103,000,000,000 rubles [$20,600,000,000] a 20 per cent boost over 1936. The new plan calls for a 19.5 per cent rise in capital goods for industry and a 20.8 per cent increase in consumers goods.

Labor productivity throughout Russia is to be boosted 19 per cent above last year, and the average wages of factory and office workers will be raised 5.6 per cent. Costs of industrial production will be slashed by 3 per cent.

Goal of Speed-Up Drive.

Objectives of the speed-up drive include 16,000,000 tons of pig iron, 20,150,000 tons of steel, 15,600,000 tons of rolled metals, 1,900 locomotives, 43,500 freight cars, 220,000 automobiles and trucks, 360,000,000 yards of cotton fabrics, and 117,720,000 yards of woolen fabrics, 190,000,000 pairs of shoes.

The council ordered 333,600,000 acres of land into production, 247,200,000 for wheat, although this still would be short of an official goal of 4,200,000,000 bushels.

Approximately 5,016,000 acres are planted in cotton, which it is estimated will more than meet Russia's need of cotton and make unnecessary imports from the United States.

Curtis Publishing May Move to Avoid High Tax

Philadelphia, Pa., March 30.—[Special.]—The Curtis Publishing company was reported today ready to poll its stockholders on the question of moving to another state to avoid the heavy Pennsylvania taxes, which are expected to total $1,800,000 this year. Officials declined comment other than to say "the matter has not been taken up with the stockholders." Two years ago Walter D. Fuller, president, proposed that stockholders give careful consideration to the idea of moving from the state if a tax bill then pending at Harrisburg went through.

MERCHANDISE BANK PLANNING $100,000 INCREASE IN SURPLUS

Directors of the Merchandise Bank and Trust company propose to add another $100,000 to the bank's surplus after a special meeting of stockholders called for April 6 to vote on converting the bank into a national bank it was learned yesterday.

Under a national charter the bank would be known as the Merchandise National Bank of Chicago.

The additional of $100,000 to surplus would place the total at $500,000, the same as the capital. Undivided profits on March 17 amounted to $289,623. Deposits totaled $16,784,184, an increase of 37 per cent over the $12,280,214 on March 17, 1936. Loans increased from $2,523,873 to $4,693,652, or 86 per cent, during this same period.

In recently calling the special meeting directors pointed out that a national charter would be to the stockholders' advantage because it would eliminate the double liability existing under Illinois state laws.

Approval of 66 2-3 per cent of the stock is necessary for conversion into a national bank. Capitalization will not be changed.

CORN REACHES HIGHEST PRICE IN DOZEN YEARS

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$1.44⅛	$1.43⅛	$1.39⅞	$1.33⅝
Corn	1.21½	1.19	1.11¾	1.07⅝
Oats	.49⅞	.49¼	.47	.46¾
Rye	1.15¼	1.14¼	1.10¼	1.06¾
Soy beans	1.66	1.65	1.60	1.53¾

Corn assumed leadership in the grain markets yesterday, soaring as much as 2½ cents a bushel to the highest level in twelve years. The May delivery touched $1.21½ and closed at the top. Not since March, 1925, has such a price been recorded for any delivery of corn on the Chicago Board of Trade.

A small break in corn early was regarded as due largely to sympathy with wheat, but offerings of the fomer grain were quickly absorbed by commission houses and there was little pressure on the market on the way up.

A growing scarcity of offerings of cash corn, both from elevator interests and from the country, and expectations that private estimates on farm reserves to be issued tomorrow will show a record low holding were said to have been responsible for the wave of general buying.

Corn Soars in Buenos Aires.

Strength in the Buenos Aires, Argentina, corn market, with all deliveries selling at new highs for some years, yesterday had an effect on American markets, even though the May future in the Argentine market was 63 cents a bushel under the Chicago market at the time the latter ceased trading. Argentine corn cannot be delivered on the new style May contract in Chicago.

The upturn in corn was largely responsible for an about face movement in wheat, oats, and rye. Wheat broke about 2 cents a bushel early in sympathy with a sharp reaction in Liverpool and Buenos Aires, but rallied 3 cents and closed with net gains of a cent a bushel. Oats advanced as much as 1½ cents, while rye was up a cent. Soy beans for May delivery advanced a cent to a new high for the season.

New High Prices Abroad.

New high prices for eight years were established in the Liverpool and Rotterdam wheat markets early yesterday, but the former market after being as much as 4 cents higher reacted to close fractionally lower as compared with Thursday. Winnipeg rallied about 4 cents after an early decline and gained as much as 1½ cents despite reports of a slow export demand.

European purchases of cash wheat yesterday were estimated at 2,000,000 bushels. Italy was reported to be bidding for additional quantities of domestic grain, but business is restricted by the inability to secure ocean freight room.

Chicago statisticians tomorrow will issue estimates on the condition and the probable yield of the 1937 winter wheat and rye crops, and also reports on the amount of old wheat, corn, and oats remaining on farms on April 1.

The trade is looking for the figures on winter wheat to suggest a crop of over 625,000,000 bushels, which will compare with 519,000,000 bushels harvested in 1936, and would be the largest since the record high of 820,000,000 bushels in 1931.

STANDARD GAS REDUCES BOARD FROM 12 TO 7

The federal district court at Wilmington, Del., yesterday authorized the Standard Gas and Electric company to reduce its directorate from twelve to seven members. Approval was necessary, said Bernard W. Lynch, president, because the company is under jurisdiction of the court pending reorganization proceedings under 77B.

In complying with the reduction the following members resigned: A. C. Allyn, Victor Emanuel, E. Carleton Granbery, William C. Langley, and Duncan R. Linsley. The remaining members are: B. F. Braheney, A. S. Cummins, H. C. Cummins, Charles Keller, Bernard W. Lynch, M. A. Morrison, and Louis H. Seagrave.

Standard Power and Light corporation, which controls Standard Gas and Electric, recently reduced the number of directors on its board from 15 to five.

Farm Machine Firm's Profit First Since '29

Operations of the Oliver Farm Equipment company and its subsidiaries for the year ended Dec. 31, 1936, resulted in a net profit for the first time since 1929, C. R. Messinger, chairman of the board of directors, disclosed in the annual report made public yesterday. Profit for 1936 was $1,153,639, as compared with a loss of $482,005 for 1935.

Messinger said sales in 1936 totaled $18,808,804, an increase of $6,519,973, or approximately 53 per cent, over the 1935 volume. The increase, he said, was to a considerable extent the result of sales of a large volume of tractors and power farming machinery which followed the introduction of a new type of tractor in the latter part of 1935.

Drouth Cuts Reaper Sales.

"Sales of threshers and combine harvesters were less in 1936 than 1935, principally because of the devastating drouth during the summer of 1936 throughout the central west and in parts of the prairie provinces in Canada," Messinger stated.

Export sales, despite the handicap of import and exchange restrictions, have kept pace with domestic sales in rate of recovery from the low points, he continued, although the increase in volume of Canadian sales has not been commensurate with the domestic rate.

Messinger said collections during 1936 were satisfactory, particularly with respect to the current year's sales, payment for more than 80 per cent of which was received during the year.

Inventories Show Increase.

Inventories, less reserves, increased from $7,071,020 at the end of 1935 to $9,521,790 on Dec. 31, 1936. This increase was due partially to a large carryover of threshing machines and combines, but principally to the heavier manufacturing schedule resulting from the increased demand for the company's products.

"Sales for the first quarter of 1937 increased substantially over sales for the same period in 1936, partly because of earlier deliveries made possible by larger inventories," Messinger commented.

Current assets as of Dec. 31, 1936, were $16,115,602, compared with $12,630,308 at the end of 1935. Current liabilities were $3,592,606, against $1,764,220. The company owes $6,600,000 to banks, due Nov. 30, 1938. Provisions of the loan agreement state that the company may not pay dividends without the consent of the banks.

Siren Screams Toronto Stock Exchange on Way

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., March 30.—[Special.]—As a siren sounded at the pressing of a button 3,000 miles away, trading started today in the new building of the Toronto Stock exchange. R. B. Pearson, chairman of the London Stock exchange, set off the electric contact in London. The Toronto exchange claims to be the second largest in North America on the basis of share transactions, although not as to dollar volume.

STANDARD OIL (IND.) PROFIT BEST IN 6 YEARS

Inland Steel, Other Firms Show Gains.

Preliminary 1936 figures for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana indicate a consolidated net income of $46,880,000, equal to $3.09 a share, Edward G. Seubert president, announced yesterday. This is the best profit since the $46,371,000 earned in 1930. In 1935 the company reported net income of $30,179,895, or $1.98 a share.

Edward G. Seubert.
[Moffett Photo.]

The improvement last year resulted principally from a larger volume of business and the less price cutting which had undermined earnings of recent years, Seubert said. Confirmation of the profits is expected to be shown in the annual report to be issued April 14. The annual meeting of stockholders will be held April 29.

Two Subsidiaries Earn More.

Two companies controled by Standard Oil of Indiana also reported sharply improved results for 1936. The Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company earned consolidated net profit for 1936 of $2,463,259, equivalent to 52 cents a share, against $490,549, or 10 cents a share, in 1935. The Pan-American Southern corporation had a consolidated net profit of $697,701, equal to 20 cents a share, against a net loss of $608,445 in 1935.

The pamphlet report of the Inland Steel company and subsidiaries, including profits of Milcor Steel company for the second half of the year only, showed a slight decline in profits from the preliminary figures. Consolidated net profit for 1936 was $12,800,545, or $8.54 a share, against preliminary figures of $12,888,647, or $8.59 a share. In 1935 the company had a profit of $9,417,818, or $6.54 a share.

Current Position Improved.

Current assets on Dec. 31 last, including cash and marketable securities of $14,789,471, amounted to $48,731,061, against current liabilities of $9,309,581. A year earlier current assets of $36,377,110, including cash and marketable securities of $9,575,804, compared with current liabilities of $6,431,253.

American Rolling Mill company in 1936 enjoyed its best year since 1928.

HOW YOU CAN HELP STOP AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Every Careful Driver Should Help in Enforcing Traffic Laws

By Robert E. Kenyon

Most people can remember that not so many years ago traffic violations were considered apart from other infringements of law. Reckless driving was simply understandable human weakness, and offenders should not be dealt with too severely. Public opinion almost everywhere reflected this view and tangible evidences of it could be seen in our courts of law.

Fortunately this has changed. Law enforcement in motor accidents is becoming more and more effective every day. Courts, police and municipal authorities are doing their utmost to help prevent automobile accidents and reduce the toll of death and injury they take each year. Every good citizen can help in proper enforcement of traffic laws by obeying them. In addition, they can agitate for the adoption of modern methods of traffic enforcement which have proved successful, such as a proper traffic division in the police department, separate traffic courts, and legislation which places the right emphasis upon the kind of violations which cause the most accidents. Then, too, public-spirited citizens should do their part in seeing that police are properly trained in traffic matters, that there is a sound, sensible coordination between enforcement officers, the courts and state motor vehicle bureaus.

Law enforcement ought to be as rigid in traffic cases as in any other kind, because most of the avoidable motor accidents are caused by reckless driving. The cautious driver, the one who respects the rights of others on streets and highways, should not be placed in constant danger of death and injury merely because a few choose to make their own traffic rules. The most rigid enforcement of traffic laws is something that every good driver can support wholeheartedly.

More than 38,500 people were killed last year in motor accidents. Every careful driver wants to see this total decrease rapidly. Consequently he should support the efforts of municipal authorities when they set out to find out the "why" and "how" of accidents. Studies are going on everywhere on the effect of various driving practices relating to speed, methods of turning, parking, signal systems, and methods of protecting pedestrians. They merit the support of taxpayers.

Proper respect for traffic laws, careful driving and regard for the rights of others, are guideposts every good driver should keep his eye upon. In addition, he must have insurance protection for his car. It is just as much a part of a careful driver's program for more safety as anything else—for his own protection, that of his family and others as well. Our organization insures only careful drivers, but we offer them the best in automobile insurance—with savings of from 20% to 28% in cost. This is possible because the risks we insure incur fewer losses and this enables us to offer these advantages in cost. If you can qualify as a careful driver write or call Chicago Lloyds, 135 South La Salle Street, Chicago (Telephone Andover 3300) and we shall be glad to discuss your insurance with you.

Stocks-Bonds

New York Bonds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 30.—[Special.]—Another sinking spell by United States government long-term bonds featured trading today. Declines in treasury issues ranged from 1-32 to 17-32 point and forced four issues below parity at the close. The trading pace quickened, turnover for all bonds reaching $11,666,500, against $8,933,500 the preceding day.

A highly irregular price tone prevailed in domestic corporation bonds. Convertible industrial issues made the widest price swings with gains of 8 and 6 points, respectively, in Republic Steel 4½s and Youngstown Sheet and Tube 3½s. Railroad issues were firm to slightly better. Weakness in the dollar bonds of Italian origin featured otherwise routine trading and narrow price fluctuations among foreign dollar loans.

Chicago Stocks.

Volume was light on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Leading issues showed some strength late in the day but the market as a whole was listless. Of 118 issues traded, 45 advanced, 34 declined and 39 remain unchanged. Lion was the heaviest traded issue and closed ⅛ higher at 25. Other active issues were Utah Radio Products, up ¼; Chicago corporation common, unchanged; Wisconsin Bankshares, down 1 point, and Pines Winterfront, up ⅛.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank shares were firmer yesterday in over the counter dealings. Continental Illinois was unchanged to 50 cents higher; First National $1 to $2 higher, and Central Republic rose 50 cents to $1.

BUTTER, EGGS, POTATOES

Potato prices declined 2 to 8c on the Mercantile exchange yesterday with Idahoes for May delivery closing at $2.25 per 100 lbs, the lowest price of the season. Sales were 42 cars.

Weakness in the spot market, where prices were ½@1¼c lower, had a depressing effect on butter futures, which closed ⅛@¼c lower with March at 34⅝c a pound. Sales totaled 157 cars. Egg futures advanced ⅛@¼c on the active deliveries with October closing at 26½c a doz. Sales of futures were 57 cars.

Trading in frozen eggs for May and October delivery will begin tomorrow on the Mercantile exchange. The trading unit will be a carlot of 700 cans, or 21,000 lbs, with prices quoted in dollars and cents per 100 lbs. Minimum margin requirements have been established at $300 per contract for whole eggs and $210 on whites. Over 87 per cent of the 150,000,000 lbs of frozen and liquid eggs produced annually in recent years were packed in the central states, according to Lloyd S. Tenny, business manager of the exchange.

Commodities

Live Stock.

With the exception of lambs, which recovered 25 cents of Monday's decline, practically all live stock sold weak to lower yesterday, despite recent sharp upturns in most meats in wholesale channels.

Hogs met an extremely draggy trade, mostly 10 to 15 cents lower, although numerous instances of 25 cents loss were incurred in the lighter weights in the absence of eastern demand.

With shipping demand curbed by the heavy importations of foreign pork at New York, and a slump in the Indianapolis market which pulled eastern orders away from Chicago, the trade here was pretty much in the hands of local buyers.

The "cream" of the crop of closely sorted 210 to 250 pound butchers topped at $10.35, which was 10 cents under Monday. The average declined 15 cents to $10.10.

Cattle sold steady to 25 cents lower, with most weakness in the medium to good handyweight steers. No real top grades were offered, the best on sale going at $15.75, with the bulk at $8.50 to $12.50. Beef cows, hefers, canners, and cutters were steady to a little lower. Calves sold off 50 to 75 cents.

Stockers and feeders ruled strong to higher, an Indiana feeder paying $11.10 for replacement stock, the highest since April, 1930.

The rise in lambs brought choice 85 to 107 pound wool stock to $12.60, with summer shorn lambs from Idaho selling at $10.85 and freshly shorn at $10.35.

Cotton.

Heavy buying of cotton futures yesterday by foreign and American trade interests advanced prices as much as .51 cent a pound or $2.55 a bale to the highest level since late in 1930. Reports indicating a movement was under way to curtail the sale of government owned cotton until early in 1938 had a great deal of effect on the market.

Closing trades on futures in leading American markets were near the highest level of the day, with net gains ranging from .25 to .51 cent a pound, with New Orleans and New York showing the most strength. Liverpool, which reopened yesterday after having been closed since Thursday also advanced over ½ cent a pound.

Spot cotton closed .45 to .50 cent higher, with New Orleans, 15 cents; New York, 15.25 cents; Houston, 14.80 cents, and Galveston 14.75 cents a pound. Prices in cents per pound follow:

Lard.

Lard futures declined sharply early yesterday on heavy selling by a commission house with eastern and foreign connections. While part of the loss was recovered later in sympathy with the strength in grains and cottonseed oil, closing trades were at net losses of 5 to 12½ cents. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed 15 to 25 cents lower. Cash lard was quoted at $12.40; loose and leaf, $11.75, and clear bellies at $16.25 per 100 pounds. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw unchanged today at 3.55c per pound for spots with no sales reported. There were buyers for first half April arrival at this level but holders were asking 3.60c, while later shipments were offered at the 3.55c level, but found no buying interest.

Futurs were active. The No. 3 contract eased from early steadiness under liquidation and hedging, and closed 1 point lower to 1 point higher with sales of only 4,100 tons.

STANLEY VIEWS OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR INT. NICKEL

Links Future Progress to Rise in World Trade.

TORONTO, Ont., March 30.—[Special.]—The outlook for 1937 for the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., one of the world's largest metallurgical companies, is as favorable as at any time in recent years, Robert C. Stanley, chairman and president, stated today at the annual meeting of stockholders.

Robert C. Stanley.

Saying that the 1936 annual report, which gave a record of the rising earnings of the company, probably provided the best indication of the trend for the immediate future, Stanley remarked: "The company's further progress depends upon world trade, which is currently improving, and hence, barring any serious political disturbance, it would seem the outlook today is as favorable as at any time in recent years."

Profit Largest in History.

The annual report, made public recently, disclosed that net profit for 1936 was $36,865,526, the largest in its history.

Stanley attributed the progress made by the company to two important factors, which enabled it to recover from the depth of the depression in 1932 somewhat in advance of other basic industries:

One, research and sales activities were continued and even augmented during the years of the depression, with the result that nickel has been introduced into diversified fields and has taken its place as an essential industrial metal.

Two, the installation of modern facilities throughout all the company's properties has widened the range and improved the quality of products.

Reasons for Large Profit.

Stanley explained that the increase of more than 10 million dollars in the net profit over that for 1935—the previous best year in the company's history—was due in large measure to a greater volume of sales and to an improvement in prices of copper and platinum, its by-products.

In 1936 the company sold 168,927,980 pounds of nickel, the largest amount in its history. Of this 54 per cent went to the United States and Canada, and the balance was distributed over the rest of the world. Consumption in the United States and Canada increased 35 per cent over the preceding year and consumption elsewhere increased 25 per cent.

"These figures are significant in that they refute the suggestion sometimes made, that the prosperity and development of the company depend upon military expenditures," Stanley said. "The greatest increase of consumption, as well as the largest market, has been in two countries which have abstained from any large rearmament program."

GOLDBLATT BROS. ESTABLISH TRUST FOR EMPLOYES

Creation of the Goldblatt Brothers Employés' Foundation to give financial aid to aged, sick or otherwise unfortunate employés of the Goldblatt stores was disclosed yesterday. Morris, Nathan, and Louis Goldblatt, brothers who built the Goldblatt department store chain, created the foundation through an initial donation of $1,000,000.

A. N. Pritzker, attorney, said the firm of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., as a corporation was not involved in the gift and that the store organization will have no word in the affairs of the newly established foundation. Its affairs are to be administered by employés only for the benefit of their coworkers. The employés, it was said, will not be asked to contribute to the fund, directly or otherwise.

The foundation has been incorporated as a nonprofit Illinois corporation. Goldblatt Brothers, Inc. on March 1 established increased minimum wages for all department store sales people.

BUSINESS BITS

Otto Bitterlich yesterday was elected president of the Board of Trade Fellowship club. Walter Mooney was elected vice president; George Martin financial secretary, Arthur Weinert treasurer, and William C. Eaton recording secretary.

Otis A. Green has been named to succeed Phil E. McIntyre as Western freight manager of the International Mercantile Marine company. Green, who has been with the company since 1913, was born and educated in Chicago.

Sales plans of the Holland Furnace company for 1937, which feature air conditioning equipment, were outlined yesterday at a meeting of 200 company representatives at the Knickerbocker hotel by A. B. Racht, divisional manager. The company recently introduced a new home air conditioning unit.

Louis F. Schaad secretary-treasurer of the Harry H. Redfearn company, and John R. Tyler Jr. of the Wander company, both of Chicago, and Theo. H. Wegener, president of Sudler, Wegener & Co., of Boise, Idaho, have been admitted to membership in the Chicago Mercantile exchange.

Steel Production.

Because steel is one of the country's basic industries its production rate is an important index of industrial activity.

Each week estimates are issued by the trade magazine, Steel, the magazine Iron Age, and the American Iron and Steel Institute, clearing house for the industry. Their figures vary slightly, but run fairly close together.

Recently the industry has been operating slightly under 90 per cent of capacity. This means that 90 per cent of the total theoretical plant equipment is being used. Taking into account existing manufacturing facilities which are not being used because of obsolescence, such a high rate indicates that most companies are operating at the full capacity.

Steel production is important as an index because it indicates the demand for "heavy goods" and the volume of business companies in this field are doing. Heavy goods are such items as rails, beams, ships, machinery, and freight cars. As the so-called heavy goods industries employ millions of men throughout the country the status of their business has a pronounced effect on almost all other lines of business. When they are prosperous more men are employed, wages are higher, and the amount of money spent for consumer goods is greater.

Tomorrow: Electric Power Output.

200,000 TEXTILE EMPLOYES PAID MORE IN SOUTH

A survey showing that nearly 200,000 southern textile workers have received pay increases since Jan. 1 and announcement that western gold miners will receive a wage boost of 50 cents a day immediately were made public yesterday.

The increases granted southern textile workers range from 5 to 15 per cent and aggregate $15,000,000 annually. The workers affected are employed in 294 cotton mills of the southeast. The pay boosts followed the boom in the cloth markets and advances in raw cotton prices beyond the 14 cent a pound mark.

Under the terms of an agreement just reached, gold miners in the region around Grass Valley, Cal., will receive increases of 50 cents a day. The new scale provides wages of $5.74 a day for gold miners and $5.26 a day for gold mine muckers. About 1,600 workers are affected by the increases, which are being put into effect by all the leading operators in the district.

A new vacation plan for hourly rated employés of the General Electric company provides for a one week's vacation with pay for all employés with one year or more continuous service, and two weeks' vacation with pay for those with ten or more years continuous service.

RAISE CANADIAN TRAINMEN.

MONTREAL, March 30.—(AP)—Ratification of a wage agreement which restores a 10 per cent cut in the basic wage for Canadian railway men was given today by the general conference committee of eighteen running trades unions, representing 117,000 men. The pre-depression wage scale will be in effect after March 31, 1938, and will be attained by gradual restorations which started last Feb. 1. The agreement ended threat of a strike.

FEDERAL RULES ON GRAIN TRADE EXPECTED SOON

Inquiries made yesterday at the Chicago office of the commodity futures administration indicate that regulations governing trading in grain and other commodities may be handed down soon by the federal agency.

The CFA, successor to the old grain futures administration, is charged with enforcing the commodity exchange act, which was adopted by a congress nearly a year ago over the bitter opposition of the grain and other commodity markets.

Although the provisions of the act became effective last September there is still a great deal of uncertainty over the ultimate effect of the new federal regulation because so much discretionary power is left in the hands of administrative officials.

Illinois Central Gross Profit Rises 15 Per Cent in March

Gross revenues of the Illinois Central system during the first three weeks of March were about 15 per cent ahead of last year, L. A. Downs, president, said yesterday. This was due to some extent to an increase in coal trafic in anticipation of a shutdown of coal mines April 1.

STANDARD OIL CO. (IND.) HAS BEST YEAR SINCE 1930

Inland Steel, Other Firms Report Big Gains.

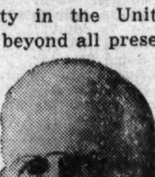
Net profit of $6,411,676 was equal to $2.73 a common share, compared with $4,310,127, or $2.41 a share, for 1935.

The 1936 earnings included $420,000 representing the minimum royalty received for the years 1937-1940 on a license issued to an English company for use of a continuous rolling process.

Sales Best on Record.

Sales of $101,463,383 were the largest in the company's history and compared with $76,799,385 in 1935, with the depression low of $27,294,322 in 1932, and with $70,434,232 in 1929.

Industrial activity in the United States may extend beyond all present levels before there is another marked recession, George M. Verity, chairman, and Charles R Hook, president, said in their annual report to stockholders. They warned, however, that there are major obstacles to continued sound improvement, among them mounting taxes and increased costs, brought about largely by governmental activties.



George M. Verity.

American and Foreign Power, Inc., reported net income for 1936 of $5,060,447 before exchange adjustments, against $3,591,350 in 1935. Increased business caused the company to expand its 1937 construction program to $10,000,000 from $6,679,991 in 1936, according to the report. Subsidiaries of the company, a holding concern of the Electric Bond and Share group, operate in Central and South American countries, Italy and China.

Utility Reports Upturn.

Electric Power and Light corporation, another unit in the Electric Bond and Share system, reported consolidated net income of $7,748,913 for 1936, against $939,526 in 1935. Joe H. Gill, president, said that the company would appeal the court decision of Jan. 29 finding the registration provisions of the public utility holding company act of 1935 constitutional. He said the company will continue to press for an ultimate decision of the courts on the constitutionality of the act in its entirety, including the reorganization, or "death sentence," provisions.

The company's subsidiary, United Gas corporation reported consolidated net income of $10,922,406 for 1936, against $4,940,849 in 1935.

The final report for 1936 of the Owens-Illinois Glass company and subsidiaries confirmed preliminary figurs, which showed a net profit of $10,099,131, or $7.59 a share, against $7,883,496, or $6.57 a share, in 1935. During 1936 there was a general increase in sales in all divisions, William E. Levis, president, said.

Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc., reported net income, excluding subsidiaries, of $39,922,447 for the twelve months ended Feb. 28, 1937, equal to $2.56 a share on the common after preferred dividend requirements. The report of New York Edison company for the period from March 1 to Dec. 22, 1936—the date of the merger into Consolidated Edison of New York—showed net income of $14,759,937.

Experts Say Peoples Gas Values Lands Unduly High

Testimony that the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company values its land holdings too high by nearly 50 per cent was given before the Illinois commerce commission yesterday when the commission resumed hearing on the company's petition for increased rates. Fred D. P. Snelling and Louis B. Beardslee, industrial real estate experts, testified that the total value of the land owned by the utility is $6,496,901, compared with approximately $9,000,000 claimed by the company.

FARM JOURNALS FLAIL INFLUX OF FOREIGN MEATS

Cite Keen Competition for American Producers.

Foreign live stock producers are providing stiff competition for American producers in the domestic market, the Corn Belt Farm Dailies reported yesterday in a survey of agricultural conditions. European countries and Canada have been supplying an increasing share of the United States' meat requirements, the survey indicated.

Importations of pork from Poland early in March were running at record high levels, while increased shipments were unloaded at New York from Denmark, Lithuania, Italy, Hungary, Holland, Germany, Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Canada, and Argentina. The United States in normal times supplies Europe with meat, the farm papers pointed out.

Blames New Policies.

"It must be obvious that through restricted production and reciprocal tarif agreements we have adopted policies in this country that have opened our doors to the importation of meats in substantial volume," the survey commented. "The figures for January reveal a total right at 30 million pounds of all meats, a gain of a third over the same month last year, and four times as much as two years ago. It seems rather silly that the greatest live stock producing nation in the world should be importing meats."

Sharp declines were noted in the live stock now on American farms. Cattle were estimated at 66,676,000, or 1,292,000 less than a year ago and 7,686,000 less than two years ago. Hogs were placed at 42,774,000, or 15,344,000 less than the 1930-'34 average, while sheep totaled 52,576,000, or slightly more than a year ago.

Trucks Carry More Stock.

Increased use of the motor truck in place of the railroad car for transportation of live stock from ranch to market was noted. Motor trucks transported 55.8 per cent of the cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep from farms to seventeen leading markets in 1936, as compared with 51.6 per cent in 1935, it was said. This established a new high record in percentage of stock trucked to market. At smaller markets the receipts by truck were said to be at even higher ratios in relation to train shipments.

With the planting season approaching, the outlook for the farmer is the most favorable in many years, the survey asserted, and most farmers are planning to produce as much as they can. Heavy demand at good prices is in prospect and the only big question mark appears to be the weather.

Former Carolina Governor Won't Act as U. S. Counsel

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today that former Gov. J. C. B. Ehringhaus of North Carolina had rejected an offer to become chief trial counsel in the government's prosecution of oil cases in Wisconsin. The oil cases constitute one of the chief legal tasks now before the department. Many officials of major companies have been indicted at Madison, Wis., on charges of conspiring to fix gasoline prices.

REFUNDING PLAN OF N. Y. CENTRAL GIVEN APPROVAL

Road to Issue 55 Million of Convertible Bonds.

Approval of a refunding plan for the New York Central railroad was given yesterday at a special meeting of stockholders in Albany, N. Y., when authorization was granted for the issuance of not to exceed $55,000,000 of convertible bonds.

The plan contemplates the issuance of $41,097,000 in 3¼ per cent convertible bonds, to be exchanged at the rate of $7 in bonds for each share of stock. Proceeds will be used to retire the unconverted portion of the 6 per cent debentures of 1944, a short term note for $5,000,000 and the bonds of certain subsidiaries.

60 Million to Be Refunded.

When the proposal was announced last January there were $59,911,000 of 6 per cent convertible debentures of 1944 to be refunded. Up to and including May 10, 1937, the convertible 6 per cent obligations are callable at 105, thereafter to and including May 10, 1940, at 102.

Up to May 11 the 6 per cent debentures may be converted into common stock on a basis of $40 a share, or at the rate of 25 shares for each $1,000 debenture. After that date the conversion price is $50 a share, or at the rate of 20 shares for each $1,000 bond. New York Central stock closed yesterday at 52⅝.

Asks Approval of Trust Notes.

The Pere Marquette railroad yesterday applied to the interstate commerce commission for permission to issue $1,940,000 of 2¾ per cent equipment trust certificates in connection with the purchase of $2,447,368 worth of new equipment. This will consist of 15 freight locomotives to be built by the Lima Locomotive works, 11 locomotive tenders to be built by the Baldwin Locomotive company, 25 cabooses to be built by the Magor Car company, and 10 baggage and express cars to be built by the St. Louis Car company. The road stated it will advertise for bids for the certificates and that it will inform the commission later of further action.

The Denver and Rio Grande Western will receive bids on April 12 for $2,175,000 of equipment trust certificates, which will bear 3¼ per cent interest and will mature from 1938 to 1952.

Bids are to be opened by the Atlantic Coast Line on April 13 on $3,900,000 of equipment trust certificates.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Investors' Guide: I have been considering purchase of some Youngstown Sheet and Tube stock. Would appreciate information—Miss L. L. A.

Answer: Operations of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company cover the entire field of steel production from mining of iron ore, coal, and limestone to rolling of finished steel. It is the fifth largest steel enterprise in the United States, and ranks second in manufacture of steel pipe.

Energetic measures to increase production of flat, rolled steel have worked a major change in character of output in the last few years. As a result, the automobile industry now takes more than one-fifth of output. This has lessened dependence on sale of tubular goods to the oil, gas and building industries. Pipe and tubular goods account for almost two-fifths of production.

About two-thirds of steel production is centered in the Youngstown district, with the remainder in the Chicago area. Iron ore properties in the Lake Superior region in Minnesota and Michigan and coal reserves in Pennsylvania and West Virginia are estimated to contain supplies for 35 years of operations.

	Sales.	Net income.	Inc. per com. share.
1929	$161,038,000	$21,564,000	$17.28
1930	111,058,000	7,036,000	5.17
1931	59,487,000	*7,041,000	*6.55
1932	31,799,000	*13,273,000	*11.75
1933	49,437,000	*8,343,000	*7.76
1934	63,138,000	*2,665,000	*2.95
1935	86,789,000	1,598,000	.65
1936	127,675,000	10,565,000	7.03

*Loss.

Current assets were $70,292,000 and current liabilities were $11,137,000 on Dec. 31, 1936. Funded debt amounted to $78,253,000.

Interest saving by retirement of $85,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds was effected in 1936 through sale of $60,000,000 of first mortgage 4s and $30,000,000 of 3½ per cent convertible debentures. Debentures outstanding were reduced to $18,253,000 as of Dec. 31, 1936, almost entirely through conversions which increased common stock from 1,181,160 to 1,384,752 shares during 1936.

Dividend arrears on the 150,000 shares of 5½ per cent $100 par preferred stock were paid off Feb. 15, 1937, and common dividends will be resumed after a lapse of almost six years with payment of 75 cents a share April 1 to stockholders of record March 20.

Common stock still is rated somewhat speculative. The preferred now deserves a fairly good rating, dividends being earned 12.8 times in 1936.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Gardeners Get Busy.

March 30, 1937.

A BIG SEASON in gardening is being anticipated by the men and women in charge of growing vegetables on the Tribune farms. Last week, while snow still lingered in the fence corners, gardeners at the Wheaton and Yorkville farms were making their plans for planting early vegetables in the open ground.

For several weeks seed catalogs have been carefully studied by the workers and their families. A search has been made for the newest varieties. Catalogs are illustrated in colors, making it easy for farm gardeners to visualize crops they are to grow.

The importance of the farm garden in keeping down living costs was emphasized on the farms during 1934 and 1936 when the dry weather seared crops to a crisp. Without fresh vegetables to eat during the growing season and to can for winter use workers at these farms have been forced to buy an unusually large supply of canned vegetables for the last three years.

A Table List.

During the winter plans have been made for growing vegetables that will supply the tables with fresh products throughout the summer. Late crops will be planted to furnish vegetables for canning.

The earliest outdoor planting list includes such hardy vegetables as radishes, lettuce, parsley, beets, carrots, onions, smooth seeded peas, parsnips, salsify, white turnips, Swiss chard, and spinach. Seeds will be planted as soon as the ground is dry enough to work.

At the farms it has been found that many of the early planted crops will begin to grow when the thermometer climbs to 50 degrees. But there are a few vegetables commonly grown in farm gardens that are too tender to be started in the open garden when the temperature is below 60 degrees.

The Tribune farms' tender crop lists include wrinkled peas, celery, celeriac, endive, cabbages, cauliflower, and kohlrabi. If these seeds were planted early they probably would rot in the ground, or if the seeds germinated the young plants would be caught by killing frosts which may appear at the farms as late as the latter part of May.

23 Steers Sold.

Twenty-three more of the 2 year old white faced steers fed at the Yorkville farm this winter were sold last week in Chicago. They were driven to the Fox station near the farm and sent to market by rail. The steers weighed an average of almost 1,094 pounds, or a total weight of 25,150 pounds, bringing $11.35 a hundredweight.

The freight bill amounted to $29.54; yardage, $9.20; hay [100 pounds], $1.80; insurance, 7 cents; commission, $14.15; a total of $54.76.

There are only twenty-four head of steers left in the feed lot to be marketed this spring. Ninety-four head of Hereford calves at the Yorkville place will be carried through the summer on grass and put in the feed lots next fall.

DICK TRACY—Moving Day

I SAID WE'RE MOVING! WE'RE NOT STAYING HERE ANOTHER DAY! WHY, THAT COP FRIEND OF YOURS IS LIABLE TO DROP IN ON US ANY MINUTE.
BUT HE DOESN'T KNOW WHAT LINE WE'RE IN. MOVING ISN'T NECESSARY.
IT MAY NOT BE NECESSARY BUT IT'S SAFER.
JULIE, PUT THAT PERFUME IN YOUR BAG. THE MADAME IS GOING TO TAKE IT OFF OUR HANDS TOMORROW.
MEANWHILE, JUNIOR NEARS THE GIRLS' HOTEL TO RETURN MADELINE'S PURSE.
GOSH, I DON'T KNOW WHAT THAT WOMAN WAS DOING IN TRACY'S CAR BUT SHE MUST HAVE MADE AN AWFUL LOT OF TROUBLE TO CAUSE HIM TO SEND HER PURSE BACK BY ME.

Fire Captain's Wife Wins Complete Victory in "Carol G." Suit—Gets Her Children and Raise in Alimony

Mrs. Gertrude Wood of Winnetka in court of Judge Burke yesterday when she won a complete victory over her love making husband, Fire Capt. David Wood. At left she is in pensive mood and at right she is crying as her lawyer pleaded her case. "Mrs. Wood has conducted herself in the best traditions of motherhood and wifehood," the court ruled as it gave her separate maintenance, $100 monthly alimony, and custody of couple's two children. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Capt. Wood was on the stand in the morning, cool under cross-examination as he denied mounting to balcony of Winnetka fire station so he could peer into the boudoir of Mrs. Carol de Windt Gardner. "I don't know where her bedroom is," he said. "I've only been on the first floor." He did admit keeping his car in the Gardner garage. [TRIBUNE Photo.] (Story on page 1.)

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

This is "Carol G.," otherwise Mrs. Carol de Windt Gardner, as she appeared at Halloween party in Lake Forest several years ago. "It is fully established that the clandestine relation with Mrs. Gardner was largely if not entirely responsible for the conditions in the (Wood) home," the court ruled. The "relation" was established through Mrs. Gardner's love letter to Wood, found by Mrs. Wood following brief interlude of intimacy with husband.

The residence at 345 East Russell street, Barrington, where Mrs. Gardner is living with her two children. She rented it from a former village president. Her husband, Albert, is on record as denying that either he or Mrs. Gardner contemplates divorce. Asked if they were living apart, he said: "Not necessarily. We are living in separate residences for business reasons. We are on the friendliest terms." Regarding her love letter to Wood he added: "Most people do some fool things once in their lives."

Mrs. Gardner as she appeared at various social functions on the north shore before her affair with the stolid fire captain set all Winnetka buzzing. She lived across the street from the fire station for several years. Now she lives in Barrington, where she was in seclusion yesterday. The court said in reference to her: "The conclusion is inescapable that the friendship between Capt. Wood and Mrs. Gardner was more than platonic. It is seldom that adultery is proved by direct evidence, more frequently by circumstances and admissions." (Story on page 1.)

QUIZ HER FRIENDS IN SEARCH FOR MURDER CLEW

Veronica (Ronny) Gedeon, New York artist's model, who was found slain with her mother and a roomer in their home. Police yesterday were scanning scores of names found in a notebook in her room in the hopes that a clew to the fiendish slayer might be uncovered. The girl was known to have been drinking before she returned home to her death. (Story on page 5.)

Helena Green, a friend of the model, was questioned by the police along with many others. She was unable to shed any light on the slaying. [Acme Photo.]

Frank Byrnes, roomer in the Gedeon home, who was the third murder victim. He was found stabbed to death, apparently with an ice pick.

HE PRAYED AND THEN CHASED THE PHOTOGRAPHER WHO SAW HIM—When fire routed 36 colored people from building in Louisville, Ky., the owner, Dan Jackson, fell on his knees and prayed: "O Lord it was my home." Seconds after this picture was snapped Owner Jackson was in futile pursuit of the photographer.
